Revolution in Tamaulipas—Pronunciamiento in Favor of Santa Anna.

NEW ORLEANS, June 20, 1867, 11 o'clock P. M.—The following has been received with universal enthusiasm by the Mexican people and military. General Santa Anna is now probably at Vera Cruz:

Pronunciamiento and Declaration of the City and Port of Tampico de Tamaulipas, Recognizing His Excellency General Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna as General-in-Chief of the Mexican Armies and President ad Interim of the Republic of Mexico.

ARTICLE 1.—The garrison of Tampico and its citizens have decided to disavow the government of Don Benito Juarez as anti-national and unpatriotic.

ART. 2.—They repel and protest in due form against the decrees of April 23, 1867.

ART. 3.—The garrison of Tampico, and the brigades of Bargas and Canales, declare that they will defend and sustain, with all their strength and power, the sovereignty of the State of Tamaulipas.

ART. 4.—They protest against the act of Don Benito Juarez by which he has mortgaged the States of Tamaulipas and San Luis Potosi to the government of the United States of North America for fifty-five millions of dollars.

ART. 5.—They recognize his Excellency, General A. L. de Santa Anna, as General-in-Chief of the Mexican Armies and President ad interim of the Republic of Mexico.

ART. 6.—The garrison of Tampico places at the disposal of General Santa Anna the said city and State, with all of its material of war and resources, so as to enable him to sustain and defend the sovereignty of the nation.

ART. 7.—His Excellency the General Santa Anna will support and adhere to the reformed laws, which tolerate religious liberty and the free press; &c.

ART. 8.—As soon as General Santa Anna shall have taken possession of the city of Mexico, as President ad interim, he shall convoke a national Congress, for the election of a regular President.

ART. 9.—General P. Flores is hereby authorized to represent the government of Tampico near his Excellency General Santa Anna.

ART. 10.—General Flores will explain verbally to his Excellency General Santa Anna the intentions of the government of the State of Tamaulipas, as well as its political and military situation.

ART. 11.—In case that his Excellency General Santa Anna should have absented himself from the city of New York, then General Flores will immediately proceed to St. Thomas, or to any other place where he may find his Excellency, and comply with the object of his commission.

ART. 12.—His Excellency General Santa Anna is solicited to declare his determination within three days after having received the present communication, and to make it known to this government for its future action.

MANUEL GARDETTE, Secretary.

TAMPICO DE TAMAULIPAS, May 26, 1867.

El Observador, of Matamoras, speaks scornfully of the criticism of Yankees on Mexicans and Mexican affairs, and says that persons living in glass houses should not throw stones at their neighbors. It declares that the people of Boston and New York are worse in morals than Mexican citizens. In Boston everything turns on the question of the dollar.

La Republica, of Zacatecas, says that Maximilian living will be an unimpeachable witness of the magnanimity, nobleness and elevated soul of this people, who have been styled savage, while Maximilian dead will be only the exposure of the remains of one of many who are capable, but barren of good to us.

The Periodical Oficial of New Leon has a long article eulogizing the Mexican Government and repelling the interposition of the United States, concluding with the remark that the crisis over which we are passing is yet a terrible one. The matters which depend on the judgment of the Supreme Government are very grave; we do not pretend, therefore, to force conclusions, which ought to result from reflection and examination.

Maximilian Still Alive—His Trial to be Postponed Until the Arrival of an American Minister—General Mejia Puts Escobedo's Gratitude to the Test—The Liberal Commander Skulks—Corona's Cavalry Sent after Lozada.

[From the New York Herald.]

SAN LUIS POTOSI, June 3, by the way of New Orleans, June 19, 1867, 8 o'clock P. M.—Maximilian's trial was to have been resumed to-morrow, but his counsel not having arrived from the capital the case will be again postponed.

General Miramon's relations, who are in this city, have secured counsel on his behalf.

General Mejia, on being asked whom he would name to conduct his defence, replied that he would choose General Escobedo, whose life he had once saved when Marquez had him a prisoner and wanted to shoot him. General Escobedo, however, refused to act.

The probabilities grow greater that the trial will be postponed, on one pretext or another, till after the fall of Mexico city and of Vera Cruz, and till after the arrival of the American Minister. Meanwhile, to allay the popular excitement and satisfy the army, which has grown clamorous for Maximilian's blood, circumstantial accounts of his execution are being constantly circulated. Bogus proclamations, purporting to be signed by him, are issued here, in the very seat of government, and passed off as genuine, and every device is resorted to in order to bring the fallen Emperor into contempt.

Fifty of the leading ladies of San Luis Potosi have had an interview with Juarez to ask Maximilian's life. The President replied that the matter had not yet come before him for disposition When it should, he said, he would bear in mind their request.

The growing insubordination of the military chieftains to the central government causes uneasiness here. Deserters, forming into bands of robbers, render the roads around San Luis Potosi very unsafe.

From the city of Mexico we have the news that General Marquez has put the wife of Minister Iglesias—one of President Juarez's Cabinet—and the wife of the Liberal Governor of the State, Senor Baz, in prison, and threatens to shoot them, with some fifty other Liberal families whom he holds under arrest, unless Maximilian be given up. Marquez may have done this to save his own life; he is not the man to lift a little finger in behalf of any one else.

Up to the date of June 3 the siege of the capital still progressed. General Diaz was aiming at reducing the capital in the same manner as Queretaro had been taken.

Nearly all of Escobedo's army and the whole of Corona's—with the exception of three thousand cavalry sent to Jalisco to bring General Lozada to terms—have reinforced General Diaz, who could any day carry the capital by assault if he chose.

VIRGINIA AND TENNESSEE.

Letter from Gen. Schofield to Gov. Brownlow.

General Schofield, commanding the First Military District, has addressed the following letter to Governor Brownlow, of Tennessee:

HEADQUARTERS FIRST MILITARY DISTRICT, RICHMOND, Va., June 8th, 1867.—To His Excellency, W. G. Brownlow, Governor of Tennessee, Nashville, Tennessee.—SIR: I have received a communication from a number of citizens of Lee county, Virginia, complaining of the action of bodies of men in Tennessee, who have entered the State of Virginia and forcibly seized citizens of this State and carried them into Tennessee, and imprisoned them for alleged offences committed during the late war. Among others are especially mentioned the names of E. E. Anderson of Scott county, and M. Levason of Lee county, Virginia. I respectfully request that steps may be taken to prevent the lawless acts complained of, and to restore to liberty persons who have been unlawfully arrested in Virginia and carried into Tennessee. I have received from you requisitions for the rendition of several persons accused of committing crimes in Tennessee during the war. Some of the parties claim that the acts of which they are accused were lawful acts of war, committed under recognized military authority, and that the necessary witnesses for the defence are men who were engaged in the same, or similar acts, and would consequently be liable to arrest and imprisonment if they were to go into Tennessee as witnesses. I have directed an investigation to be made in each of the cases referred to, and will act in accordance with the facts which may be developed. In cases where men are indicted for crimes committed since the war, I will cause their arrest and rendition to the civil authorities of Tennessee, upon your requisition. But, when the acts charged were proper acts of war, done under recognized military authority, it would not be proper for me to send a citizen of Virginia to Tennessee for trial. I hope the views I have expressed will coincide with those entertained by yourself, and also by Gen. Thomas, to whom I have addressed a letter similar in purport to this, and that we may be able to so cooperate as to secure justice and prevent the repetition of acts which tend to violence and disorder. I am, sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant.

J. M. SCHOFIELD,
Brevet Major-General, United States Army, Commanding District No. 1.

THE INDIAN WAR.

Colorado Aroused—Bounties for Scalps—Scarcity of Horses.

Late Colorado papers are filled with appeals to the inhabitants to volunteer. There seems to be no lack of men, but horses are scarce. Governor Hunt has issued the following proclamation:

To the business men of Denver and the Territory generally: Patriotic soldiers stand ready to enter the service of the Territory or the General Government, to go on a campaign against the Indians now menacing our settlements. Transportation and rations have been supplied, but thus far no animals are forthcoming with which to mount these men. A proposition from Capt. Shaffenburg was received last night, and pursuant to notice heretofore given, was accepted by me at 11 o'clock to-day, of 300 horses equipped complete, at $157 per head, subject to inspection. Doubts as to the manner of payment and the time, have caused the Captain to reconsider this proposition. I am left, therefore, with this resort only: to ask that you who have the preservation of life, the prosperity of our citizens, and the safety of our land trade at heart, will come forward and indemnify parties against loss who have the horses to spare. As the Executive of the Territory, I pledge you that I will do all, everything in my power, to forward this enterprise, which seems so much to be needed, save making myself individually liable, or rendering my position ridiculous by transcending my authority.

I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,
A. C. HUNT, Governor of Colorado.

At a meeting held in Central City on the 8th instant, H. B. Morse was called upon, and made a very stirring speech; among other things he stated he was willing to give $20 a scalp for at least 25, and could find others that would take more at the same price. The following despatch from Gov. Hunt was read:

FRANK HALL, Secretary: Say to the people of Gilpin county I have little to encourage them to enlist, although there is great need of their services. We have three full companies and one partially filled, but not a horse yet forthcoming. The matter of rations is also a most difficult question. No sugar, bacon, or coffee to be had in the market at any price. I will notify you of our further progress. I would be grateful for the tender of a mounted company from your county. They shall have their own way of killing Indians.

A. C. HUNT, Governor.

The Czar and the Actress.

The Paris Entr'acte of June 5 relates the following:

"At the termination of the races at Longchamps, on Sunday, at the moment in which the Emperors Napoleon and Alexander, and the Russian Princes were about to retire, a lady, accompanied by two charming young girls, was standing near the Imperial pavilion. As their Majesties and the Princes left the stand, and were passing along the double line of spectators to reach their carriage, the Emperor Alexander suddenly went up to the lady, who was placed in a good position to see and be seen, and addressing her in a most gracious manner, said, "It is you, Mme. Naptal-Arnault (formerly Mdlle. Plessy?) I am delighted to see you,' and then remarking the two young girls who accompanied the actress whose name we have just mentioned, added. 'Those are your sisters?' 'No, Sire,' replied Mme. Arnault, blushing with pleased emotion, 'They are my daughters.' Prince Vladimer also approached the French artiste, whose talent and personal qualities placed her so high in the distinguished society of St. Petersburg, and after having expressed his pleasure at meeting her in France, asked permission to pay her a visit. This little incident excited the greatest curiosity among the persons who witnessed it, and Mme. Arnault was afterward the object of general attention and pressed with questions."

A MEXICAN RAILROAD.—The Journal of Mining gives a brief account of the Mexico and Vera Cruz Railroad. An interesting fact about this road is that it is to climb the sea level to an elevation of 8,400 feet, within a distance of 125 miles—Vera Cruz is 185 miles from Mexico. Much of the way the gradient is one foot in twenty-five, and there are frequent abrupt curves. The Caledonian road, in Great Britain, reaches an elevation of about 1,680 feet; our own Baltimore and Ohio road attains its highest point at 2,626 feet; and the Mont Cenis road can go no higher than 5,815 feet. It should be added that no one of these roads starts from sea level. Two hundred miles of the Vera Cruz road have been finished; one hundred on each end of the route. These completed parts have proved very useful in the recent military operations. The whole road is graded, and the European capitalists who own it are now waiting for the settlement of the country to lay the remainder of the rails and open the new line to the public.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE WALNUT.—This evening, on the occasion of his benefit, Mr. Jefferson will appear in two comic characters, as "Mazeppa," in the extravaganza of that name, and as "Mr. Golightly," in the farce of Lend Me Five Shillings.

THE ARCH.—Mr. G. L. Fox will have a benefit this evening in the pantomime entitled M. Duchalumeau, and The Four Lovers. The performance will commence with a popular farce. There will be a grand matinée to-morrow afternoon. We understand that Mrs. Drew is making arrangements to give a benefit, the gross receipts of which will be devoted to the relief of the sufferers from the late calamity in Walnut street. This matter is in good hands, and it will be pushed forward in such a way that a complete success will be assured.

THE CHESTNUT.—Messrs. Sinn & Co. call a meeting of the members of the theatrical profession who are disengaged, at their theatre on Saturday morning, for the purpose of arranging for a benefit in aid of the sufferers by the fire at the American Theatre. It is to be hoped the response will be general and the benefit a success.

COOKING RANGES.

B. S. HARRIS & CO.,
No. 149 North Ninth Street,
Offer to the public their
NEW PATENT HOT AIR
UNCLE SAM
COOKING RANGE,
Which is unhesitatingly pronounced by all competent judges to be the BEST AND MOST COMPLETE
Heating and Cooking Arrangement ever offered for sale.
Amongst the many advantages possessed by this Range over all others, is its GREAT POWER IN GENERATING HOT AIR.
Again, by the peculiar construction of its Flues, Dampers, &c., and being a consumer of its own Gas,
A GREAT AMOUNT OF HEAT IS SECURED TO THE OVENS, and thus by compelling the same fuel which does the cooking to SUPPLY HOT AIR FOR ROOMS ABOVE, an economy in Coal is attained which makes Harris & Co.'s Uncle Sam Cooking Range
THE BEST IN THE WORLD.
The completeness with which the BAKING, ROASTING, &c., is done by Harris' Range, and the abundant supply of warm air which it affords to the Nursery and other Rooms,
MAKES A HAPPY HOUSEHOLD
of those who use it.
First, by the ease and perfect manner in which she is enabled by this Range to perform her work,
THE COOK IS MADE HAPPY.
And by the promptness with which the dinner is dished up at the precise hour,
THE MISTRESS IS MADE HAPPY.
And, to crown all, as a compensation for using Harris' Cooking Range, when he finds at the dinner hour a placid cook, a smiling wife and an excellent meal,
THE MASTER IS MADE HAPPY.
Consequently, those who would have cooking done easily, and A HAPPY HOME, should lose no time in securing one of Harris & Co.'s Uncle Sam Cooking Ranges.
Also, at the same place,
A SUPERIOR HOT AIR FURNACE,
Magliocco Patent, which is powerful in generating Hot Air, and exceedingly economical in the use of Coal. First-Class at lowest cash prices.
REFRIGERATORS,
