An even in literature has occurred in Florad. A Dutch man of letters, Mr. Hacke van Mynden, has published a very exact translation of Dante's "Divina Commedia." The Dutch are in raptures with the terza rima versification. The following specimen is from the "Inferno," Canto 3:

Toen vatte bij mijn hand, en wel teyfeden Zag hij mij aan, en schonk mij nieuwe krachten. Zoo daalden we in den afgrond naar beneden,

Waar zuchten, luide kreten jammerklachten, Die duistre sterrelogze luchte doorboorden, Zoodat ze mij tot droeve tranen brachten.

The Pall Mall Gazette, quoting and commenting upon these passages, remarks: "This is the first Dutch work on Dante of which we can ascertain the existence. The Swedes have had since 1567, N. Lovén's complete version of the 'Comedy' in terza rima, with somewhat copious notes, &c. The Russians have only a prose version of the Inferno' (with Flaxmin's illustrations). The Hungarians have hitherto confined their attention to the 'Vita Nuova.' The Spanish possess the oldest European translation of the Inferno, which was composed by Archdeacon Villegas, in stanzas of eight verses, de arte mayor, or containing four feet of unequal lengths. It was published in 1515, under the patronage of Queen Johanna, and still stands alone in the language. The last version of the 'Comedy' in Latin (hexameters) was written by the Abbé Della Piazza in 1848; the introduction by the cruditic critic, Carl Witte, comprises several specimens of Latin and French versons besides the Spanish one. Of the other French translations, as of the German, the number is considerable. Several of the Teutonic languages seem to lend themselves with more case than English to Dante's metre, inasmuch as they supply a larger proportion of paroxytone words suited to the double rhymes.

An Interesting Photograph.—An interesting scene transpired on last Friday morning, at the National Orphans' Homestead, at Gettysburg. General Grant and His Excellency Governor Geary, on setting out with their esport to make the tour of the battle-field, batted at the door of the institution, to be photographed in company with the fatherless little ones there sheltered. The Generals dismounted, and General Geary, learning the grouping decided upon, very kindly assisted in arranging the children. General Grant and the Governor, with Generals Horace Porter and S. W. Crawford, formed the centre grouping. 8. W. Crawford, formed the centre grouping, and on either side stood the boys and girls. All and on either side stood the boys and girls. All remained standing until two negatives were taken. The picture will be a very interesting one. Among the orphans included in it are children from Illinois, Michigan, Maryland. New York, and our own State. It is to be copyrighted and sold exclusively for the benefit of the soldiers' orphans at the Homestead at Gettysburg.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE WALNUT.—Mr. Joseph Jefferson will appear this evening, for the only time, as "Dr. Pangloss," in the fine old comedy of The Heir at Law. Mr. Charles Vandenhoff will make his first appearance upon the Philadelphia stage in the character of "Dick Dowlas." THE ARCH. -Mr. G. L. Fox will appear this evening in the pantomime of Jack and Gill.

THE CHESTNUT .- The benefit which Messrs. Sinn & Co. and a number of dramatic artists have tendered in behalf of the sufferers by the late disaster in Walnut street, will take place on Friday evening next. An immense bill has been prepared and an unusually fine performance may be expected. We sincerely hope the public will come forward and give Messrs. Sinn & Co. a hearty support. Tickets for this benefit can be procured at the counter of the BULLETIN office.

CONCERT HALL. -On Thursday evening a grand comolimentary concert will be given at Concert Hall to Mr. Ira D. Cliff, the well-known singer. Mr. Cliff will be supported by a number of popular artists, and as a most attractive programme has been arranged, a very tine entertainment may be expected.

CITY NOTICES.

All the best goods in hosiery, gloves and nuderwear for ladies, gentlemen and children, can be found at the store of Ritchie & Woelpper, 27 North Eighth street, at one-half the prices of last year. People about going to the country take notice.

THE CHESTNUT STREET HOOP-SKIRT EMPO-RIUM.—It is pleasing to notice the great success which has attended Messrs. Peterson & Little's late enterprise in establishing an emporium, at No. 704 Chestnut street, exclusively for the sale of Hoop Skirts. When we see the number of ladies who visit No. 704 Chestnut street (the warcrooms of the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machines) daily, we think that the Hoop Skirt will long remain an essential part of a lady's dress, certainly as long as Messrs. P. & L. continue to sell all the ntest and most fashionable makes at such low pricesl

Hor! BUT NOT DRY .- The weather presents this anomaly, but other anomalies also exist; for instance, the Ready-made Clothing sold at Charles Stokes & Co.'s; under the Continental, is of the highest quality, but, at the same time, of the lowest

LIKE the Last Fast Printing Presses that must necessarily take the place of all others to keep pace with the progress of the age, so will the American Combination Buttonhole Sewing Machine received the attention of all persons who believe that economy is the road to wealth. It is the last improved, and, being periect, is the best of all. Call at the reception rooms, corner of Eleventh and Chestnut streets.

Every one who purchases even a single share of stock, at $1, in the Washington Library Company, organized in aid of the Riverside Institute, not only receives a beautiful steel-plate engraving, worth at retail at least $1 50, but will also receive a present, some of which are very valuable. COOKING RANGES.

BALTIMORE IMPROVED BASE BURNING FIRE-PLACE-HEATER MAGAZINE & ILLUMINATING DOORS.
The most Cheerful and Perfect Heater in Use.

FIRE-PLACE or BASEMENT HEATERS are comparatively little known in this country, excepting in a few fittles, having been first introduced into BALTIMORE, come twelve years since, and, in their use, for some years onfined meatly to that city and WASHIMORTON.

Within the last six years, these BALTIMORE BASE SURNING FIRE-PLACE HEATERS have been ortenively used in PHILADELPHIA and vicinity, for heating ordersate size houses, and they have proved to be the EST HEATER ever introduced in this market, for heating TWO, THREE or FOUR Rooms, connected with one bilinary. HEST HEATER OF THROMEGE IN THE MARKET, FOR THE ING TWO, THREE OF FOUR ROOMS, connected with one chimney.

They have a large ILLUMINATING SURFACE, which adds much to their beauty, giving them the advantages of an OPEN GRATE FIRE.

These HEATERS have a MAGAZINE or SUPPLY CHAMBER for coals, which insuires as constant fire and even temperature, and saves much trouble. They are also a perfect BASE BURNING HEATER. Are much more desirable than GRATES or STOVES, requiring less coal and attention.

They are equally as well suited to the COUNTRY as CITY, placing them in the STTIING or DINING ROOMS, and heating, one or more rooms above.

These ministure FURNACES are set in the FIRE-PLACE, and the heat is conveyed through the chimney fluce to the PARLOR and CHAMBERS above, thus heating TWO or THREE ROOMS with one fire.

By adding coal every TWELVE HOURS the fire may be kept for menths; affording a pleasant and agreeable heat at a very low price.

J. S. CLARK, 1008 Market Street, Philadelphia
