Professor Clewstand to His Pupils.

10 From the Contract of the Change Baladed, Panis, May 21st, 1867.—My there Pupils. Many of you will doubtless remember that I once said-(maced, more than ence)—"You may, if you please, sink to the bottom of the Delaware all my please, sink to the bottom of the Delaware all my works on Classical, English and American literature, but spare-my Liberty Address of 1841." Of that address, and of Judge Chase's of 1841." Of that address, and of Judge Chase's of 1841. Of that address, and of Judge Chase's of 1841. Of that address, and of Judge Chase's of 1841. Of that address, and of Judge Chase's of 1842. The street. I would call the Chiswick Press, when I was in London last month, and you can have the volume for one dollar, at No. 512 Arch street. I would call it a sort of legacy to yon, were it a not for the interpolation of the sort of the profession of the constitutional sort of the prepared to submit a report on that as serion to the resolution that it was not a record of a conviction. If it was a record of a conviction in the case of Edward Brock, Depart October, provided a quorum of to the Gowth Were, on the motion of Mr. Pike, referred to the Gommittee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Howard did that is amendment by inserting after the words "ordinance of secession," the words "industry to the Country for the object to the Country for the tothe Country for the United States objected. It talked to me like a very intelligent gentleman, ut you may ask what is "moderate?" as the which I have no doubt he was. The only fault 1 in some respects to the country, and I know Mr. Woodbridge repeated the question in anthat category, and therefore will most be placeted. But you may ask what is "moderate?" as the word has a very different meaning to different persons. Well, I will come to plain figures in our own case. We have two amply and beautifully immissed chambers in one of Paris—the Avenue de la Grand Armée, near the great Triumphal Arch—with a nice great Triumphal Arch of private hotel, and our breakflast is brought up to us every morning—the richest coffee (no egge nor peats), abundance of milk, and rolls and butternor peats are supposed to refer to any mich same supposed. They were ready to report now, and to present the testimony, and thought it showed abundant for the peats and disogrates the testimony, and thought it showed abundant the testimony, and thought it showed abundant for the peats and disogrates the testimony, and thought it showed abundant the testimony, and thought it showed abundant for the peats and disogrates and dis for thise as much, and not be half so comfortable as we are.
