The letters were never admitted unless they bore Pomeriaos. a postmark, and the fact of mailing the letter was evidence of the presence of the party at the Limenos, place of mailing. The evidence of Surratt's sigasy indicated upon the face of the register. The witnesses appeared very slow this morn-ing, and at 11 o'clock Judge Fisher suggested that the counsel proceed with the trial. Mr. Bradley said that of the witnesses waited for yesterday, the principal one was Fathe Boucher, who had left for this place on Tuesday and had not yet arrived. Since the Court ad-journed yesterday the defence had discovered whereabouts of a gentleman, a materia witness, for whom they had been looking The gentleman referred to was a man o

The gentleman referred to was a man of respectability and character, and the defence ex-pected to prove by him that Surratt, was at the Brainerd House, Elmira, on April 14th, 1865. As soon as this witness arrived from New York, where he had been telegraphed for, and Boucher, was examined, the defence would close. As under the ruling of the Court much evidence that the defence proposed to offer was ruled out, Mr. Merrick said the prosecution could not now offer in rebuttal any evidence which might have been offered in chief, and he would therefore now move the Court to strike out from the record some evidence that did not appear to from rebel prisons, and to the Duell lette

The President's Veto Message WASHINGTON, July 19 .-- Towards the conclu sion of the message the Presdent says: "This interference with the Constitutional a thority of the Executive Department is an evil that will inevitably sap the foundations of our federal system, but it is not the worst evil of this legislation. It is a great wrong to take from the President power conferred upon him alone by the Constitution, but the wrong is more fiagrant and more dangerous when the powers so taken from the President are conferred upon subordinate executive officers, and especially upon military officers. Each of the five District Commanders, though not chosen WASHINGTON, July 19.—There is no foundation by the people or responsible to them willing to confer upon the head of the executive department, though chosen by and responsible to themselves. The remedy is in the hands of the people, and is to b New YORK, July 19.-Considerable excitement | found in the ballot, and it is a sure one, was created here to-day by rumors of the destruc- if not controlled by fraud or awed by military tion of a large hotel at Long Branch by fire. It | power, or from a paltry fear on their part. With is, however, ascertained that only a gas-house abiding confidence in their patriotism, wisdom attached to the Continental Hotel was burned | and integrity, I am still hopeful of the future, and in the end the rod of despotism will be broken, the armed heel of power lifted from the necks of the people, and the principles of a violated Constitution preserved.".....
