SEVERE GALE-BOATS CAPSIZED .- Last evening between six and seven o'clock a heavy gale of wind passed over the city, causing much damage to be done too the trees skirting the public thoroughfares and in the public squares. The gale was severely felt also on the Delaware. At Shackamaxon street wharf, a boat, containing several lads, was upset, and the occupants made a narrow escape from drowning. At Poplar street wharf a batteau was turned over by the street wharf a batteau was turned over by the force of the wind, and several young men were precipitated into the water. Further up the river several boats were cap-sized, and others escaped by being run on the Jersey shore. Near Beverly the steamboat John A. Warner, Captain Cone, launched a life-boat and succeeded in saving the lives of four indivi-ducle who had hen thrown into the river by the duals, who had been thrown into the river by the and setting of their craft. One stripped himself and swam ashore. Another boat was capsized in the same vicinity, and one man was drowned.

the same vicinity, and one man was drowned. As the steamboat Edwin Forrest was on the downward trip a boat was capsized near Five. Mile Point. The parties who were in the boat were rescued by the boats of the Forrest. One of the passengers on the Forrest jumped into the river to save one of the drowning men, and was got out safely. Another passenger, who also jumped overhoard to rescue a man, was not so fortunate. He was drowned before the boats fortunate. He was drowned before the boats could get to him. The scene on the Forrest was could get to him. The scene on the Forrest was very exciting. The boat was crowded with pas-sengers, and when the cries of distress were heard almost everybody rushed to that side of the boat, hearly causing a serious disaster. When it was ascertained that one of the passengers had been drowned the excite-ment increased. Some parties were disposed to blame the Captain for not having more life boats, ord where the Korzest resched Arch streat wharf and when the Forrest reached Arch street wharf, the Harbor Police had to interfere to prevent some over-excited individuals from doing violence to the boat.

There were rumors of other disasters, but they Could not be traced to any reliable source. On the Schuylkill there was also a severe blow, but the boats which were out got to the shore safely before the squall came up. A boat was capsized nearly opposite Race street wharf. The inmates, including three women, were all

At Fairmount Park several large limbs of trees were blown down, and on Callowhill street, in front of Fairmount, a large tree was torn up by the roots.

PHILADELPHIA CATTLE MARKET, July 29th .--The Cattle market was dull this week, and prices were unsettled and lower; about 1,800 head arrived and sold at 16@@17 cents for 100 A. BRIGHT JUVESILES .- Wm. O'Brien and Henry Munohan, aged fourteen and fifteen years, were before Alderman Ramsdell on Saturday upon the charge of larceny. They live in Manayunk. O'Brien, it is alleged, helped himself to $196 belonging to his father, and Munohan helped him to get rid of the money, which was all expended, but the youths refused to tell how. They were sent beolw.

Suspicious.-A man named Wm. McNally. alias Whitey, was found, last night, lying on a cellar-door in Sixth street, near Fitzwater, apparently asleep. When searched a jimmy and a bunch of skeleton keys were found on his person. McNally was taken before Alderman Tittermary and was committed to prison.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY .-- George Grim 'and John Max were arrested yesterday, and taken before Alderman Shoemaker, upon the charge of having knocked down, and rebbed of a watch, two Ger-mans in Richmond, about eight days ago. They were committed, in default of $1,500 bail, to answer at Courf.

A DANGEROUS FELLOW.-Edward Milner was arrested on Saturday at Thirteenth and Market streets and taken before Alderman Massey upon the charge of threatening to kill William Hinds. It is alleged that he fired two pistols at Hinds. He was held in $800 bail to answer at court.

Bor DROWNED. - A lad named John Crone, aged 9 years, was drowned on Saturday, in the Schuylkill, near Strawberry Mansion. His body was recovered, and Coroner Daniels held an inquest. The deceased resided opposite the Falls of Schuylkill.

Billiards_Changes.

Two important changes have just been made in the standard rules of the four-ball game of billiards. One relates to those cases in which the cue-ball is in fixed contact with two or more object balls in such a way that the player can neither strike the cushion first nor a free ball. With the cue-ball thus imprisoned, so to speak, to count has heretofore been impossible. Now, however, when the balls are in the position described, all four may be taken up, the two reds spotted, and the play begun as at the opening of the game, it being at the option of the player whose ball was "fast" to take the lead himself or call up his opponent to lead. The other rule relates to where a red ball has been pocketed, and its spot occupied by another ball. It frequently happens that a white ball is off the table at the same time, and the player whose hand is finds that he has only one ball to play at. If pockets are played it is possible for him to score; but if the game is caroms only no count can be effected. The new rule permits the pocketed red ball (the light red, for instance) to be spotted on the deep red spat; if that spot is also occupied, then the light may be placed on the pool spot the foot of the table. Should both red reds be off the table, and their appropriate spots occupied by the two white balls, either red may be placed on the pool spot. The other remains off the table until an appropriate spot has become vacant, and all the three balls have ceased rolling. This rule, which, like the other, is simply carrying out the spirit and intent of billiards, applies only to the carom game. In the full game, as well as in that known as "around the table" (red ball being pocketed but once off the spot, and then chiefly for the sake of position), the old rule will remain in force.

The new rules will go into effect as soon as they can be issued from the press and dis-tributed. For the protection of the public until such time as the changes shall become generally known, Mr. Michael Phelan, their author, announces that all bets made on these two rules, and referred to him, will be declared off. Phelan's entire code has been remodeled, but with the exception of the above, no material changes have been made. Hotel Clerks.

George Alfred Townsend thus describes his arrival at a hotel at Newport :

that the American Buttonhole Overseaming Sewing Machine is not simply a buttonhole affair. The two kinds of sewing are performed by the same machine, the same needle, &c. It is therefore the only perfect. serving machine offered to the public, This cannot be suld with truth about any other seeing machine. Call at the salesrooms and examine for yourself.

BROWN'S JAMAICA GINGER is now an indispenable article to one traveling. We find everywhere a difference in the water we are accustomed to in the city, and this causes an unpleasantness at the time, in fact with many, sickness. A little of Brown's Ginger seon counteracts any injurious effects from it. With children it is an invaluable remedy against the effects of green fruit, which we all know they will indulge in. No family leaving the city should be without a good supply.

ATLANTIC CITY .--- The Surf House is nearer the Ocean than any other first-class Hotel at this place. The terms are only $20 per week; half price for children and servants.

VICE PRESIDENT AND TREASURER. JAMES B. ALVORD. [From the New York Commercial Advertiser.] The Continental Life Insurance Company, of This Company has had the most unparalleled success of any similar institution in this or any other country. Its first policy was issued on the 10th May, 1866, since which the sport y was used on the 10th May, 1985, since which date it has issued 3260 policies, insuring nearly $10,000,000, the sonnual premiums on which amount to nearly $60,000,000, the sonnual premiums on which amount to nearly $60,000,000, the sonnual premiums on which its affairs have been managed by the experienced and well-known officers of the Continental. The President, Justus Lawrence, Eq. (Mayor of Yonkers), has been known for years as a first class insurance man, the Neerity J. P. Beasen with the Class insurance man: the Secretary, J. P. Bogers, was popy ularly known as Aselstant Postmaster of New York-a position requiring business tact and talent of the highest and effected insurances in the Connecticut Mu-tual Life Insurance Company to the amount of eleven thousand dollars; and as an evidence of the estimation in which he was held by his con-gregation, the yestry of the Church of St. Mat-thias paid the annual cost of insuring ten thou-sand dollars of the amount. Thus, by the exercise of a timely and prudent for thought on the part of himself and vestry, and the outlay of a triffing sum, a most ample provision has been se-cured to his only surviving child. Would that all congregations might consider themselves morally bound to make like provision on behalf of their ministers.

UNPROLITABLE BOARDERS .- John Bradley and Peter Bradley have been boarding at a house on Bodine street, above Columbia avenue. On Saturday they were about to leave without footing their bills, and as their effects were being re-moved they were seized by the landlady as seen rity for her money. On Saturday night, about 11 o'clock, it is alleged the Bradleys went to the house, broke in the door, and threatened to kill the landiady unless she gave up their baggage. A couple of policemen came along and arrested the two men. Alderman Heins held the prisoners in $800 ball for their appearance at Court.

BEAT HIS WIFE .-- Wm. Chambers, an Irishman, who has been in this country but a short time, was given a home for himself and family in the Germantown Poor House. Yesterday Chambers kicked up a row by beating his wife. Office Hera was called in and attempted to arrest Chambers, but was savagely attacked. Hera used his persuasive powers, and finally succeeded in get-ting Chambers to the station-house. This morning the prisoner was taken before Ald. Good, and was held to answer for the double assault.

BOLD ROBBERY .- This morning, about one o'clock, at Front and South streets, Joseph Williams, aged 17 years, stepped up to a German and inquired the time. The German took out his watch and it was immediately snatched by Wil-liams, who ran off. He was captured, however, by Policeman Camac, of the Third District. Wil-liams had a hearing before Ald. Morrow, and was committed to answer at Court.

A BOGUS WOUNDED SOLDIER .- Alfred Der ringer, who says that he is from Lambertville, N. J., was arrested on Second street, on Saturday, · upon the charge of obtaining money under false pretences. He had one arm concealed, and was begging upon the ground of being a wounded soldier. He had done a pretty good husiness for several days previous. Derringer was committed by Alderman Tittermary.

FATALRAILROAD ACCIDENT .- Matthew Miller, aged 51 years, while walking on the track of the Connecting Railway near Gunner's Run, on Saturday, was struck by a hand car, and was thrown down an embankment. He was severely injured. He was conveyed to his residence, Twenty-sixth and Dauphin streets, North Penn Village, where he died yesterday from the effects of his injuries. CHARGED WITH PICKING POCKETS .- Franklin Burton was before Alderman Morrow this morning upon the charge of larceny. The complainant was a man named Brown, who alleges that Burton took $37 from his pocket at a tavern in the neighborhood of Dock street wharf. Burton was held in $600 bail for trial.

TROUBLESOME BOYS .- Two boys named Mc-Fadden and Jamison were arrested at Fairmount Park for malicious mischlef. For some time past they have been engaged in throwing stones at the birds in the Park and destroying the nests, and giving considerable trouble otherwise. They were held to bail by Ald. Massey.

DISORDERLY HOUSE CASE .-- Last night the Eighth District Police made a descent upon an alleged disorderly house at No. 1812 Wood street. Samuel Sharp, the proprietor, and three or four women were captured. This morning Sharp was held to answer at Court and the others were put under bonds to keep the peace.

A MAD Doc KILLED .-- A mad dog was shot and killed yesterday afternoon at Twenty-second and Callowbill streets, by Officer Jardin, of the Park Police.

In the great empty office, where the visitors were few enough to keep desk for the attachés, I stood in a moment, uneasily, in the presence of that impenetrable person, the hotel clerk. He shot me through the body with one lofty regard. Then he looked at a fly on the ceiling, and pushed me a pen while he whistled softly. I would have given away the art to write my name for one smile. There came to me a belief that away back in the past, in some-Pythagorean stage, I must have owed this man money. Else why this flutter of my pulses, this consciousness of inequality, the mysterious magnetism of his quills, ringlets, and diamond pin! Oh Providence, bury us not beside the hotel clerk! Death would be conscience anywhere near him. He takes no note of the name entered, wheels a key off the peg, and looks at the fly with one eye shut again. I take courage. Bed me in a cockloft! but I, too. will have a look at this remarkable fly. I find nothing remarkable about it. Perhaps a pen behind my ear might improve my view. So I took up a pen from the rack, and gravely followed with my own the eyes of this noble entomologist. Immediately three other visitors looked up. Five waiters with whisks turned their observations the same way. A terrier did the same and barked.

"What do you see, sir?" says one.

"I see a fly—the same that the clerk here was looking at two years ago. I thought I would wait till he found time to look at me. Glorious Jove! I had the victory. There was positively a blush on that cold, imperial brow: then a flush of wrath

"Go on, Sam, with the man's carpet-bag, he said

"Ha! ha! Boss, ye jiss got him dat time," said Sam; "dese clucks do put on airs. A gen I'man 'fraid to come to a hotel 'count of 'em, and den he's 'fraid to go 'way. Dey wants reconstruction ! Le' me give you a nice brossin, sah?'

CITY NOTIOES.

STEAMBOAT EXCURSIONS .- The daily trips of the John A. Warner on the Delaware' afford delightful little excursions for those who can only indulge in brief absences from town. She plies between Philadelphia and Bristol, stopping at the various pretty little towns along the river, and there are few more refreshing and pleasant recreations than an afternoon's sail on the Warner's round trip, which starts from Chestnut street wharf at 2 o'clock daily.

CHEAP ENGRAVINGS .- Let every one take the trouble to examine and inquire for himself and he will be satisfied as to the real worth of the handsome steelplate engravings given to those who purchase stock in aid of the Riverside Institute for Soldiers' and Sailors' orphans. The five dollar engravings entitled "The Marriage of Pocahontas," given to those who purchase ave shares of stock, costing one dollar per share, are being retailed in this and other cities at eight dollars. This engraving is published all over the United States by the same party, the Washington Library Company having made a binding contract with the publisher for many thousand copies. In this way they reduce the cost, and at the same time have a fair profit left for the Institute. In addition to the engraving each share of stock guarantees some present in the grand distribution of $300,000 worth of presents which comes off in September next, or sooner, should the necessary number of shares be sold. All inquiries will be satisfactorily answered at the principal office, No. 1225 Chestnut street.
