Mr. Carrington is mistaken in talking of God as a God of vengeance and a God of wrath, assuredly mistaken as he is in saying that peace hus returned. God is a God of love, and not of wrath. But he (Mr. Merrick) would seek to excite no prejudice. The jury are under oath to do their duty, and they must discard all prejudice and stand forth as men with unclouded minds. What is John H. Surratt charged with? The first count of the indictment charges Surratt with the murder of Abraham Lincoln.

The second count charges him with assaulting Mr. Lincoln in connection with Booth. The third count unites the prisoner with Booth. The third count unites the prisoner with Booth, Harold, Payne and Mrs. Surratt in the killing of Mr. Lincoln. Bear in mind one feature in the indictment. The fourth count specifies that the persons named and other persons unknown did make an assault upon Mr. Lincoln. The jury must find whether what is laid in the indictment is true. It is charged that the parties then and there made an assault. It puts them all in Washington, and the jury must find if they all were here. The charge in the third and fourth counts is that these parties mardered Lincoln counts is that these parties mirdered Lincoln then and there. Are you not, then, trying Surratt for the murder of Mr. Lincoln? There is nothing else in the indictment, and the verdict must be guilty or not guilty as indicted. The question is, did Surratt kill Mr. Lincoln? The prosecution want to try Surratt for being a spy and conspirator, a member of the southern confederacy, anything and everything except the crime laid in the indictment.

To conspire is one thing, and to do the act is another. It is a crime to conspire, and it is another crime to commit the act for which a conspiracy was formed. When Mr. Wilson made his opening address he spoke of the indictment as a simple indictment for murder, and we struck the witnesses at they the murder, and we struck the witnesses as they came, and laid at their feet a mass of the most of the rear of the rear of the more of a forged order and the actual utterer alone was held as the principal. The same principle is decided on page 363, where it is held that persons not near enough to give aid are not principle.

not until they found their original view thwarted that they commenced to try the prisoner for conspiracy. They brought witnesses to prove the murder, and we struck the witnesses as they came, and laid at their feet a mass of the most offensive corruption, and thread by thread we broke the strand with which they purposed to unite the prisoner with the body of the crime. Losing their case, they had to resort to other measures. The United States should have magnanimously abandoned the case then—but there were others beside the the United States standing by, and there were others who had dreams not so sweet as Sergeant Dye's. These gentlemen wanted the verdict of a jury to cover the shedding of innocent blood on a former occasion. It was not until the will end the troubles. There is but little difference of opinion as to the result. Governor Brownlow will be re-elected. He has it within his power to restore the country to quiet and Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, prosperity greater than it ever shared before.

der is for the prosecution to prove, but it is the rule of law that the jury must be satisfied of that fact.

Mr. Merrick denied that each conspirator was liable in himself for what another conspirator does or whatever is done by a co-conspirator, but this is not a substantive fact. With regard to Mr. Pierrepont's fourth proposition submitted yesterday, Mr. Merrick said he heard it with anazement and pleasure. Amazement that a lawyer of Mr. Pierrepont's ability should enunciate such a doctrine, and pleasure because it was the dying struggle for a lost cause. The proposition referred to is that which claims that the murdered man was President of the United States. This was in pursuance of a doctrine, said Mr. Merrick, now becoming popular, that officers are invested with imperial power. The President, he contended, was merely a citizen of the United States, and in killing him it was taking only the life of a man, no more and no less. No man looked with more horror upon this crime than he (Mr. Merrick), yet, in the contemplation of law, the killing was but the killing of an individual, and the charge is murder, and nothing but murder. But the gentleman says there are no accessories. There is but one crime in which there are no accessories and that crime is treason, and in treason the defence is entitled to a list of the witnesses against it, if it was meant to call this treason why was not the list of witnesses furnished? It is an attempt to trick the man out of his life, by indicting him for murder, and then trying him of the list of witnesses furnished?
