Thursday, August 1, 1867. NAPOLEON'S DANGER AT HOME. The experiment of freedom of the press apprehend that they may be taken away as suddenly as they were offered. But there are several notable examples of boldness in the Legislative Body, where the debates have lately taken a licence scarcely less than those of an American Congress. Messrs. Thiers, Jules Favre and Glais-Bizoin have been the most conspicuous on Thiers and Favre have been very searching, very able and very effective. They made a

DE COURSEY'S This novel and valuable invention is designed for protecting Gilded Frames, Oil Paintings, Mantle Mirrors, Pier Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames, Chandellers, Statuary, Groups, &c., and excluding from bed chambers and other apartments, those ever-perplexing peats, Flies and Mosquitoes.

The invention is so Ingeniously Contrived that it can be applied to any window.

No Wooden Frame is Required. Thus reducing the price of the article more than one-half of that of the ordinary Mosquito Bar, which is not only ungainly in appearance, but cannot be fitted to any other than the window for which it is expressly made. The patent Bar, on the other hand, will suit for a large or small window, and can be rolled into the smallest bundle and carried in the pocket, if necessary.

Boarders at the seas-more and elsewhere will find them a great convenience. All that is required in order to attach the Bar, is four ordinary pins. They can also be used to cover Oil Painting, Gilded France, &c., requiring no tacking whatever, and can be taken off and replaced in a minute.

QUARTER SESSIONS-Judge Peirce.-Desertion Cases were taken up this morning in the old Conrt-room. There was a full attendance of fe-males, and during the day a large number of cases were disposed of. Samuel Farrell, charged with deserting his enter the Almshouse, in answer alleged that he frequently sent food to his family, but his wife refused to cook it, and allowed it to spoil. The wife denied this, and a further investigation de veloped the fact that the wife had been induced by pretended friends to leave her husband.
Judge Peirce gave both parties some good advice, and directed the husband to take his wife home and provide for her and the children. next case a father was summoned to show cause why he should not support his son, a lad of 18 years of age. The young man alleged that, after being in the hospital for several months, he went home, and was driven away, and told to work for himself. The boy, although and told to work for hinsen. The oby, attacking 18 years of age, is very delicate in appearance, and had with him two certificates from physicians that he had the consumption. The Court did not conclude the hearing of the case, as it ined with the regular business of the day. The next case was one in which the parties were young, and both appeared to be respectably connected. The wife complained that her hus-band had treated her cruelly, and finally locked her out of her bedroom and beat her. crowds of people gather in the street and gaze intently upon the windows to see the apparition. Of course, some persons see his ghostship every night, while others who have been on hand constantly since the first excitement, have as yet white. An investigation of the affair has been made, and, as might have been expected, the whole thing is an optical delusion. In the secondstory front room a portion of the wall paper had become loosened and is swayed to and fro by every puff of wind. On the opposite corner of the street there is a public lamp, and the re the street there is a puone lamp, and the reflection from it upon the moving paper gives it the appearance of what a ghost is supposed to be.
