Alfred H: Love, of Philadelphia, followed, appealing to the working-man who fills the army, suffers and pays the war debt. He presented the redicel argressive force than who fills the army, suffers and pays the war debt. He presented the radical aggressive force of pure peace principles, comprehending absolute justice and world-wide philanthrophy. James Mott then appealed for the education of the children in the school of anti-war, and he thoroughly endorsed the present movement. From Washington. Special Despatch to the Phila. Evening Bulletin.] WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.-The President ha issued an order assigning General Hancock to General Sheridan's place. [Correspondence of the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26th.-Secretary Seward and the French and Spanish Ministers returned Washington to-day, from Fortress Monroe. . W. Seward, Assistant Secretary of State, having recovered from the effects of his recent cident, will arrive here to-night to resume the duties of his office. It is probable, as stated in telegrams to-day that the Dominican republic has senta messenger Day, among others, added encouraging remarks. Mr. Day is a Methodist minister, and said he fully united with this move-the United States, but he has not yet arrived GENERAL ROUSSEAU TO GENERAL GRANT.

The following is Brig.-General Rousseau's letjourned to meet in Germantown the 22d day of | ter to General Grant, defending himself from the charges of General Sheridan against himself : ST. JAMES HOTEL, NEW YORK, Aug. 22, 1867 .-General :- The New York papers of to-day publish what purports to be and what I take for granted is an official letter from Major-General Sheridan to yourself, in the course of which he

"I regret that I have to make the charge against Brigadier-General L. H. Rousseau, U. S. A., of visiting my command recently, and, with- | AND ACCRUED INTEREST FROM AUGUST 1 out exhibiting any authority, interfering with my his removal, I did say in answer to a telegram his removal, I did say in answer to a telegram Bridge. from Washington inquiring of me how things office of the mortgage may be had on application at the office of the Company, or to either of the undersigned. looked in Lousiana, that the state of affairs was gloomy, and that the people were much depressed, and that any change would be almost universally acceptable. This telegram referred to matters and things in general, and was intended as such including Gen. Sheridan in the scope. If this was suggesting the removal of that officer, all right; ut his name was not mentioned. While I claim the right, in common with all other citizens to iticise so much of Gen. Sheridan's administration as is not purely military, and which solely oncerns the civil policy of the country, yet on my late visit to New Orleans. I scrupulously refrained from doing so, and so far as I remember, I expressed no opinion for or against his policy to anybody in his district. I had no purpose o motive to do so, and my recollection. I think, is as distinct about this as it usually is, or as it ca be about anything. As I know there is no suffly cient evidence on which to base this charge, cannot conceive how it was possible to make it I am, therefore, reluctantly forced to the present conclusion that it has no better foundation in his mind than conjecture or suspicion concur with General Sheridan in hi "regrets." I am really sorry that so inconsiderable a man as myself was not permitted to visi New Orleans without being made the medium for any sort of sensation wherewith to thrill the public pulse; and it seems as unnecessary as it is unfortunate, that it fell to my-lot to be made such a medium in the hands of General Sheri dan, who now, on what is universally declared t be his conspicuous merits, fills so large a share in the nation's admiration.

General Sheridan might have let me pass, think, and no harm could have followed my escape from the collision which has forced this letter. In order to wholly relieve General Sheridan's mind, let me in a word explain my late mission to New Orleans. Ordered to a command at a very distant de partment, and having also to go into our Russian possessions. I thought before going so long a journey, I would go South and say good bye to a part of my family and to many of my kindred who were in New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Pass Christian. I took my last chance to pay that visit, and was so much interested and occupied in it that I even declined all outside social calls at the request of my hospitable friends, and when I got through with that domestic mission I

I have the honor to be, General. Very respectfully, Lovell H. ROUSSEAU.

General U. S. Grant, commanding United States P. S. As these charges have reached the ears of the President, I have taken the liberty to send him a copy of this reply.

Sad Death from Destitution. pecial Despatch to the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin. NEW YORK, Aug. 26 .- Starvation and death is just reported at a tonement house in Williams-

A poor American woman, named Shead. o Saturday gave birth to twins. She had n attendance whatever, and was too weak o summon assistance. In this con lition she remained until last evening, one infant dying in the meantime. The neighbors were finally induced to visit her apartment out of
