posed to be in this city with the major portion of the booty. A number of Mexican detective offi-cers are here, in search of the alleged culprit, who has traveled under the name of Senor C. M. Medenich. He has been in the city about M. Mcdenich. He has been in the city about three weeks, stopping successively at the St. James' Hotel, Eighth street, and Third avenue, be-tween Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, but as yet his arrest has not been effected. One of the de-tectives, who knew him, went to his last residence, on Third avenue, where Medanich was seen, and a snare was made for his capture, but be failed to step into it, and is again off for parts unknown. Medanich was, for a time, accompa-nied by a woman, who recently started for Europe, taking with her, it is supposed a large portion of the treasure, but measures have been taken for her arrest as soon as she reaches the other side. Medanich is supposed by some to have been an agent in the interest of Maximilian; but this is somewhat doubtful

The Yelverton Case.

Mrs. Yelverton, the heron of the cele brated law suits which have attracted attention in England for years past, writes thus to the New York Tribune:

To the Editor of the N.Y. Tribune .-Su:: A friend having forwarded me a copy of your journal, I cannot refrain from acknowledging to the Editor, as also to his readers, the deep gratification which the perusal of his article upon my case has afforded me. I was not prepared for the kind interest manifested for me in that distant land. I had not anticipated that the cry of my wrongs had wakened so powerful an echo on the other side of the Atlantic. In my solitary struggle for right and honor (for solitary a woman deserted by her husband must ever be), I little dreamed, even in the silent watches of the night, that the eyes of a great nation were fixed upon me, observ-ing my perilous course, marking if I should • stand or fall in the battle of life-noting whether I should suffer and be strong, or succumb a victim like so many other poor victims, not merely to man's perfidy, but to a great social wrong—a nation's iniquitous, ob-solete, and effete laws remaining on the statute book a cloak for infamy of the deepest dye. I had not fully realized until now, that the sympathy of the just and noble sustains, though unknown, the oppressed martyrs as well to laws as to religion. But it is sud-denly revealed to my wearied soul, like a bright opening in the heavens when the storm is at the darkest, that one ray of sympathy from out the vast chaos of dim distance, is like the light discovered by the bewildered mariner, thrilling hope through his heart's core, for it tells him of another heart regarding him and bravely responsive to his own. True as it is that "union is power," so also is sympathy strength. How often the clasp of a friendly hand, in the hour fraught with impending fate, is a stronger shield than a buckler of steel, or coat of mail! Pleasant it is to me, whose pleasures are numbered few, to grasp this mystic strangerhand of a great people, whose highest aspira-tions tend ever toward truth and justice, as exemplified by their brilliant, arrow-like ascent among the nations of the earth, there to reign and rule, by the omnipotence of will. For all that springs, and flourishes, and strikes upward, comes from a germ sound and true. The love of rectitude marks the grandeur of soul, the highest approach to the Divine under the type human. Woe, it seems to me, shall wait near man or nation who falsifies his conscience for reasons of expediency-who makes or administers laws against equity, to enslave a million of consciences to serve a political policy of a so-called religion of State. to sanction by law that marriage vows are mockeries if (according to the 19th of Geo.

espectable and venerable man Walnut street into elegant stores. That just completed by Messrs. Finn & Sons is one of the completed by Messrs. Find & Sons is one of the handsomest, in its way, upon the whole street. It has twenty-six feet flont, with two very fine bow windows, the plate glass in which are eight by sixteen feet—said to be the very largest either in this city or in New York. The fronts are of white marble, richly inlaid with parti-colored while the woodwork is of oiled black-walnut. The interior of the store is very beautiful. It is finished off superbly in black-walnut, crimson and gold, and is adorned with immense mirrors, reaching from floor to ceiling, and producing a singular and novel effect. The shelving is of wainut, handsomely finished, and is filled with a most attractive stock of goods of all grades, from the very finest and most expensive to those better snited to light purses. Those who desire any article in the way of paper-hangings will find here a varied and attractive assortment of grades and styles. On the second floor of Finn & Sons have granted the ment, Messrs. Finn & Sons have granting smaller stores on Tenth street, which will add greatly to the business character of the neighborhood. These stories character of the hand-borhood. These stories are finished in the hand-somest style with marble bases and vestibules, plate-glass windows, and all the appurtenances of lirst-class establishments. The Messrs. Finn are entitled to great credit for their improvements in the methods have and there will doubtles have the neighborhood, and they will doubtless be amply rewarded by the character of the trade which will necessarily fall to their lot in this locality.

A NEAT PLEASURE CRAFT .-- Captain Alexander Reed has fitted up a neat little steamboat, called "Mary," for pleasure parties. The boat is 26 feet long, and can comfortably accommodate from fifteen to twenty persons. She makes ex-cellent time, and a trip up or down the river with her is delightful. Captain Reed makes his head-quarters at Smith's Island, and parties desiring the use of his diminutive vessel can have it on the most reasonable terms. On Saturday afternoon a party of gentlemen connected with the press of this city made an excursion to League Island on the Mary, leaving the city at half past three o'clock and on the return reaching here at half past these of tooks, o'clock. At League Island the party was re-ceived by J. C. Morong, Acting Master U. S. N., and was escorted through the Monitor Dictator. Everything of interest, was fully explained by Mr. Morong. The ram Atlanta, and the old sloop-of-war St. Louis, were next visited. The visitors were then taken in charge by Licutenant George W. Rogers, U.S. N., and other officers, and were taken to the back chand, where the other iron-clads are laid up. The visit was a erv pleasant one.

A BOGUS PRIZE FIGHT .- The Inquirer of this morning gives an account a of prize-fight, which is alleged to have come off yesterday, "at a place called Gooseneck, somewhat below Point Breeze Park." About five hundred persons are said to have been present, and "four or five carriage loads of ladies also honored the meeting with loads of ladies also honored the meeting with their presence." An account of how the blows were struck, "and how each man was knocked down follows. Everything is done up in sporting style by the reporter, who seems to have a very lively imagination, as there was no fight at the place and time named, no five hun-dred persons and no ladies. It is bad enough to have averying argies for a consider was hore have genuine prize-fights occasionally somewhere about the city, and the Inquirer should not en-deavor to injure the character of the city and its authorities by publishing purely imaginative prize-fights, which are always said to take place on Sundays.

A SERIOUS KICK .- Before Alderman Comly, this morning, Lott Fitzpatrick, aged 18 years, was charged with assault and battery upon a lame was charged with assault and battery upon a lame boy, named Jacob Walton, aged 12 years. It seems that last evening, between eight and nine o'clock, some boys got to fighting in front of Fitzpatrick's house, on Leiper street, in Frank-ford. Among the participants in the affair was a brother of the accused, and Lott commenced to strike the juveniles right and left. Walton was merely looking on, when he was kicked in the stomach by Fitzpatrick, and was seriously in-jured internally. Fitzpatrick was held in $1,000 ball to answer at Court, II.) they have been exchanged between Pro-

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, September 2. The most encouraging feature of the Stock market

this morning was an upward turn in Government Loans, all of which were a shade higher than at the close on Saturday. Most of the "short" sellers in New York, who have been calculating on much lower quotations for our national securities, have found the market not only well maintained, but that those who were bold enough to purchase all the bonds offered for forward delivery were reaping a handsome reward for this proof of their unyielding faith in the stability of the national credit. The closing quotations were 111% @1121 for the Coupon 6's, '81; 114%@114% for the old 5-20's; 109%@110 for the '64's; 110%@111 for the '65's; 99% for the 10-40's, int. off, and 107%@107% for the 7-30's. State and City Loans were very quiet at Satur-day's quotations. The speculative shares were feeble. Reading Railroad declined %, closing at 521. Norristown Railroad sold at 55; Pennsylvania Railroad at 53%-no change, and Lehigh Valley Railroad at 56% -a decline of 36. Camden and Amboy Railroad was firm at 12616; Philadelphia and Trenton Railroad at 12434; Little Schuylkill Railroad at 2836; Mine Hill Railroad at 57; Elmira Railroad Preferred at 40; Catawissa Railroad Preferred at 28%; Philadelphia and Erie Railroad at 28%, and Northern Central Bailroad at 43%. Canal stocks were heavy. 46 was bid for Lehigh Navigation ; 28 for Schuylkill Navigation Phferred ; 47 for Morris Common ; 15% for Susquehanna ; 57 for Delaware Division, and 49 for Wyoming. In Passenger Railway shares the only activity was in Hestonville, which sold at 13%@13%.
