Under the constitution the President has the power to prorogue Congress only in case of disagreement to adjourn. But in a great public emergency, where the life of the nation is at stake, the President considers the exercise of extraordinary powers justifiable. Moreover Congress, by assuming unconstitutional powers and attempting to destroy the Executive, disqualifies itself, is no longer a lawful Congress, but a body of usurpers and traitors. As such they have no rights the Executive is bound to respect, and the Executive will deal with them accordingly. The President's theory is that they first inaugurate revolution by attempting an act subversive of the Government, and upon them will rest the responsibility of any strife or confusion that may

The Amnesty proclamation was not intended as a mere political dodge to catch the popular favor and enlist Southern sympathy more strongly in behalf of the Johnsonian policy. The President does not intend that it shall be a merely useless Statement of the phrases but empty effects. less State paper of fine phrases but empty effects. He designs it shall work to the advantage of the Southern whites by pardoning a large class—the most intelligent, wealthy and socially influential—and restoring to them their civil rights, including that of suffrage. It is said he has no power to that of suffrage. It is said he has no power to grant suffrage to the pardoned rebels excluded by the Reconstruction acts. He claims he has, and I have good authority for stating, notwithstanding semi-official contradictions, that the time is not far distant when he will enforce his riews by ordering the reopening of registration, and causing new instructions to be issued to the militury commanders, in accordance with these

A Democratic Organ on President Johnson.

[From the World, of yesterday.] Mr. Johnson has never been, nor ever sought to be considered, a Democratic President. We happen to agree with him on a point on which he differs from his party; but that must not be taken as an endorsement of his maladroit, unretates manifers an endorsement of his maladroit, and the state of the second st uestatesmanlike, unpopular administra-tion. Mr. Johnson not being a Democrat, we are not willing that, with his great weight of un-popularity, he should be classed as such. The contention between him and Congress is a fight within the Republican party. within the Republican party. * * In the recent talk about Cabinet changes, the Republicans have been willing to favor the impression that Mr. Johnson intends to form a Democratic administration. Even if he were willing, and representative Democrats would consent, such an arrangement would be every way undesirable. Its only effect would be to ren way undesirable. Its only effect would be to treated or the Democratic party responsible for blunders and mismanagement, perpetrated against its judgment and in contempt of its wishes. We should gain a few paltry offices without influence, and go into the Presidential election vulnerable by all the weapons which the Republicans hurl at Mr. Johnson. As he gave us no aid the specific page aided as why should when he might have aided us, why should we now, when he has no longer anything we now, when he has no longer anything valuable to give, imperil our own cause by assuming the burden of his unpopularity? As things stand, the Republican invectives against Mr. Johnson impeach their ability to choose a good President. A man might as wisely think to improve his social standing by living with somebody's repudiated wife, as for the Democratic party to expect any advantage from adopting, in the last days of his unsuccessful administration, a fettered President elected ful administration, a fettered President elected by their enemies and popular with nobody.

Important Political Rumors.

Washington Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.l WASHINGTON, Thursday, Sept. 12, 1867.—There is a rumor in circulation—to-night—that President Johnson designs making an immediate change it the War Department. It is said that Frank P. Blair, Jr., will be put in the office until General

McClellan is heard from.

It is asserted here by the friends of Mr. Stanton, that that gentleman said, at a dinner given him in Boston some days ago, that there never existed between him and Gen. Grant any understanding in relation to his (Stanton's) going out of the War Department; and further, that the first intimation that Mr. Stanton had the first intimation that Mr. Stanton had of Grant's becoming his successor, was Grant's letter to him informing him that he had accepted the office. In this connection, it will remembered that at the time Mr. Stanton left the department, it was given out in the newspapers that there was a perfect understanding between General Grant and Mr. Stanton on the or help the part help the latter retired.

subject, long before the latter retired.

It is asserted here, by men prominent in politics, that the recent letter of Thaddeus Stevens, relative to the removal of the District Commended was the result of the District Commended. manders, was the real great cause of Johnson's issuing his proclamation of civil supremacy, which in itself is looked upon as only a bungling preamble to his amnesty proclamation, and would not have been issued had not Mr. Stevens's letter been written.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE WALNUT .- A Midsummer Night's Dream will be performed again this evening. There will also be a matinée to-morrow afternoon.

THE CHESTNUT .- Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Florence will appear this evening in the comedy of Caste. The Road to Ruin will be performed at the matinée to-morrow afternoon.

THE ARCH.-Julia Dean will have a benefit this evening in the play of The Woman in White.

THE BLACK CROOK .- The Academy of Music was well filled last evening by an audience eager to witness the first successful performance of The Black Crook. The piece passed off smoothly and gave general satisfaction. The ballet is excellent and the costumes of the dancers rather more within the bounds of decency than is the case with those of the New York performers. The scenery is handsome, and the music, under the able direction of Dr. Cunnington, excellent. There will be a matinée to-morrow afternoon.

BLIND TOM .- The Gazette, of London, says: 'Blind Tom is a psychological wonder, and as such will be viewed by all who take an interest in such exceptional human manifestations. * * * His exquisite sense and remembrance of the pitch of sounds is tested in a variety of ways-by calling upon him to verbally analyze extempore chords, or any irregular, combination, or by the production of any note, or series of notes, with his voice, on demand; besides the still more singular feat of playing a piano-forte piece of moderate dimensions after hearing it once performed by another person. This negro musician is altogether a very curious personage."

A NEW HEALTH BEVERAGE-HOFF'S MALT EX-TPACT. This new dribk has, moreover, quite a meact, brims from Europe an EXALTED REPUTE, which appears to justify the assumption of it name. Biere desante de Hoff, or Hoff's Beer of Health, or Hoff's Gesundheit Bier. Across the water, it has for Is years been accumulating reputation, until its annual consumption both as a BEVERAGE and REMEDY LAS reached the handboth as a Bevelrage and EEMPDy Law. reached the Bandsonne aggregate of from fifteen to eighteen million bottles. Mr. Hoff, the proprietor, has opened an American branch office in this city, at No. 542 Broadway. Another Bandson for this heer is "Hoff's Malt Extract," from which it is compounded; but it differs as a boverage from slit other malt preparations, AS IT IS ALMOST FREE FROM ALCOHOL, and therefore neither intoxicating nor irritating; as it PROMOTES DIGESTION; as it contains MORE NUTTHAN PORTER ALE, OR THE STRONGENTIMEST THAN PORTER ALE, OR THE STRONGENT BEER; beside it is of so excellent and palatable a taste that those who once begin continue its use, and find that IT REALTY PRESERVES THE HEALTH. It is not for us to praise it as a remedy, that belongs to the profession; but every one is obliged to think highly of it, as it is known that there exists for the sick and agreing no other stenethening remedy; WHICH UNITES TO AN AGREEABLE TASTE the most nonrishing effects, and which, while it pleases the palate, strengthens the whole system. ome aggregate of from fifteen to eighteen million bottles
