CRIME.

Arrest of a Young Man on a Charge of Murder Committed Two Years Ago.

From the Chicago Times, Sept. 23: Saturday forenoon a man named George L. Van Solen was arrested at the Wheeler House, in this city, by Detective Samuel Ellie and the in-stance of Chief of Police McItrath, or St. Paul, Minn, on the charge of the murder of Dr. H. Harcowit, near that city, in Aurorat 1865. You Harcourt, near that city, in August, 1865. Van Solen in 1864 was in the Government service, being employed as a hospital steward in St. Louis. There he met Dr. Harcourt, who was a young Euglish physician of rare attainments and had lately come to this country. In the spring of 1865 Van Solen was in St. Paul, and by means of a decoy letter, offering Harcourt the position of surgeon to a logue expedition to Lake Superior and the British Postessions, he Lake superior and the British Possessions, he induced Harcourt to go to St. Paul, taking with him a large supply of medicines, surgical instru-ments, personal effects and quite an amount of money. After the arrival of Harcourt in St. Paul he mysteriously disappeared, and from the subsequent investigations it seems almost certain that he was token down the sizes four miles he that he was taken down the river a few miles by Van Solen, and murdered in cold blood. The only object of the awful crime was to obtain the possession of the effects he had brought and the money which he was known to have. What first excited suspicions of foul play was the receipt of letters by the mother of Harcourt in England: one from her son informing her of his appointment, and inclosing the decoy letter, and afterword a letter in answer to her anxious inquiries for him, from Van Solen himself, both of which were in exactly the same handwriting. It was also found that, after the disappearance of Harcourt, his friends in St. Louis had received letters purporting to come from him, and dated 'in the woods," all of which were traced directly to Van Solen. He was found at the hotel named, where he was employed in the capacity of night-watchman. Since his arrest, he has admitted that he wrote the decoy letters spoken of, and it is now almost certain that he is guilty of this horrible crime.

Forgery in Brooklyn, N. Y.

[From the New York Herald of to-day] It has been whispered in well-informed circles of the business community of this city for the past two or three days, that a popular Bank lo-cated in Fulton street, near the City Hall, has been nitimized by a chemic consistent the next cated in Fulton street, near the City Hall, has been victimized by a sharp operation on the part of some person, as yet unknown, to the tune of $2,500. Inquiry among the officials of the Bank in question, which rumor designates as the Cen-tral Bank, has failed to elicit any information whatever, these gentlemen observing remakable reticence on the subject whenever broached. The fraud is not denied, but they state that it is useless to give publicity to the circumstances until such time as publicity to the circumstances until such time as the police have accomplished the arrest of the guilty party, whose description they are at present in possession of. It appears that one day last week in individual called at the Central Bank and presented a check purporting to be Bank and presented a check purporting to be signed by Richard M. Hooley, the manager of the minstrel opera house, for the sum of $2,500, which the paying teller certified, so genuine to all appearance was the signature attached. This, of course, was a forgery. The operator then pro-ceeded to New York, where he sold the check, White House. Specch by Hon. Galushia A. Grov. A large Union Republican meeting was held in Pitts-burgh. Permsylvania, on the evening of the 25th instant. A mong the speakers were Gov. Geary and Hon. Galushia A Grow. Gen. Geary, in the course of his remarks, spoke of the different parties in the field, and in reference to the workinguent's ticket' that it was the duty of the working-men to stand by their true colors and sustain the Republi-can vary, or they would lose their country. The Presi-dent was only waiting the deci-ion in Pennsylvania, and it by any accident Andrew Johnson should be sustained, he was only waiting to doelare martial law, call men trem the rebel army and exclude our Congressmen from their scats. If it became necessary to sustain that Con-gress and resist the usurpations of the President, the speaker would call apon the State to aid him, as stue as the stood before them. Mr. Grow gold: Men who have taken up arous ogaint their country are-string to be again infurated with power and the rights and liberities of mankind. Before you dare to thus treat the industries of mankind. Before you dare to thus treat the industries of mankind. Before you dare to thus treat the industries of markind. Before you dare to thus treat the industries of markind and pursued. The robels had not come with power we should initiate the Indian who said: 'If a regue cheat me once, shame be on me." The speaker then spoke at length of the ourse the Kies the produgal son, as the Preeident would have us belive, but very where been better, and it was now meccesary to beat them in the judiciary atter hey had been conjuered on the ifde and at might follow from improper decisionspoken of. The cussed, and it was claimed that the South shoulited were dis-cussed, and it was claimed that the South had rejected be offer made, and they with Johnson, were responsible for the fact that they were now out of the Union. At any start hey had beet compared of the outer thrms the made, and it wa realizing, it is presumed, amply from the opera-tion. In the course of a few days the identical forged check came back to the Central Bank in the regular order of business and the amount was duly paid. Subsequently Mr. Hooley had occasion to send a check to the bank for a considerable sum, which was the first incident to excite the suspicion of the officers that a mistake existed somewhere, inasmuch as the amount of deposit to the credit of that gentleman was exhausted. Further inquiry elicited the true condition of affairs, and on comparing the genuine with the bogus checks, the fraud was readily detected. Information was then given at the police headquarters, and detectives are now on the trail of the guilty party, with fair prospects of suc-cess. it is presuned, from their own assertions. Attempted Abduction of a Child in Massachusetts, [From the Worcester (Mass.) Gazette, Sept. 28.] A very bold attempt at abduction was perpe-trated in the town of Millbury on Tuesday last. For several days previous there had been around the village a strange man of light complexion, dressed in a suit of blue clothes, and in appearance about thirty-five years of age. On Friday he called at the house of R. M. Oakes' on some pretended errand. The little daughter of Mr. Oakes came to the door, the rest of the family being away from home. Since then, up to the time of the attempted abduction, he has been frequently seen watching in the neigh-borhood of Mr. Oakes's residence. No person appeared to know him, and by his guiet manner he avoided suspicion. On Tuesday Mr. Oakes's little daughter, a bright lively little girt, at-tended school. On her way home, while in a by street, she was met by this unknown man in a street, she was met by this unknown man in a carriage, who tried to prevail upon her to take a ride with him. She refused; he instantly jumped out of the carriage and seized her, when she commenced screaming, but he soon stopped her screams by gagging her, and then proceeded to place her in the carriage. At this point a man happening along sprang for the horse and prevented the rascal from starting. He took the little girl out from the carriage, who fainted in his arms. While he was attending to the sufferer the villain whipped up his horse and fainted in his arms. While he was attending to the sufferer the villain whipped up his horse and made off. Mr. Oakes knows of no reason why the man should wish to steal his daughter.

Weed on the Blairs. [From the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser, Sept. 7.] If "Old Blair" had lived in the days of our first parents, the presence of the scrpent would have been superfluous. If, at a later period, he had been "one of the twolve," there would have been no quection into whose pocket the "thirty piece," dropped. His "cub," Montgomery, is a nuisance. As a politician he is "in everybodys meas and in nobody's watch." He is a common scoid, but so impotent that nobody cares for his slanders. The Yellow Fever in New Orleans. The following is an extract of a private letter received in this city :

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22. 1867 .- Fearing you might have some apprehension as to the safety of the orphan children in the asylums here during the prevalence of the epidemic here, I visited on Friday last these institutions. The Sisters informed me that there had not been a single case of fever in their buildings. Providence had singularly blessed them. The children were enjoying excellent health, and no danger was anticipated from yellow fever.

The epidemic is widespread, but the disease is of comparatively a mild type. We have had as high as 76 deaths a day from fever. In 1853 we had over 300 per day, so that we are not as badly frightened as we might be. The mortality is much greater among Europeans, more especially Germans, than any other class. Northern men also come in for theirshare. Another remarkable feature is that about three men die to every one mo-

The weather is now what it always has been in flow fever times; almost every day we have floods of rain, interspersed with terrific peals of thunder. Immediately following the rain the sun thunder. Immediately following the rain the sun comes out, pouring down its hot rays upon the vast swamps of water lying in the rear of the city. I have no doubt that the sun's influence on the water does a great deal towards increasing, if it is not the immediate cause of the fever so prevalent here.

By order of the Committee,

The opening will also be replete with a princely dis play of carriage and sleigh robes, and comfortable foot muffs of every kind and quality, while in gentlemen's mufflers and gloves the exhibition will be so attractive and complete that the world will know, if it never knew before, that the place of all others in this country to purchase elegant goods of this class, in rarest exellence from first hands, and at the most moderate prices, is at Womrath's, 417 Arch street.

By the way it will offend no one to mention that the prices of furs, as we discover from this display, are very nuch lower than they have been any time within the ast five years. To those who may make selections on the day of the opening, or any time after it, it will also be agreeable to know that in purchasing from this house it is impossible to be deceived. All goods are sold with a guarantee that they are as represented, and this guarantee is put in writing if desired, which, from a house that has had an honorable reputation in our nidst ever since 1815, nearly fifty years, and which has always maintained the highest name for integrity, is a matter of importance, both to those who pay for and those who wear these elegant articles of dress and comfort. That the "Opening" referred to will be gaia day to the ladies of our city, and to some extent naugurate a new crain the Fur business, will hardly be mestioned. SELLING OFF! SELLING OFF!!

JAMES K. KEER & BRO. BUY THE "AMERICAN KITCHENER" AND NO OTHER.-For comfort, convenience, and economy they are indispensable to every dwelling-house [in our country. For sale by Messrs. James P. Wood & Co., at their warerooms, No. 41 South Fourth street. Among the multitudes of these in valuable "Kitcheners" in use among our friends we know of none that does not give the most unqualified satisfaction. It is a great economizer of fuel, and as a baker has no rival. No dwelling can be called complete without it.

RIVERSIDE INSTITUTE. - Although sufficient fands have been realized to secure beyond a doubt the permanency of the Riverside Institute, still, if we can judge from the great interest manifested, the people are determined that this much-needed home for Soldiers' and Sallors' Orphans shall be established in such manner that As usefulness and benefits will b nore widely diffused than was originally anticipated by those who commenced the good work. The sale of shares guaranteeing a beautiful steel-plate engraving, and one of the $300,000 worth of presents to be dis tributed, still progresses rapidly at the office, No. 1225 Chestnut street.
