RECEIVING DAILY. NEW YORK. NEW YORK. NEW YORK. NEW YORK.

EVENING BULLETIN.

Tuesday, October 8, 1867.

A LAST WORD.

There will still be a hour or two to work after to-day's Bulletin reaches our readers.

REPUTATION.

The only ground on which any shadow of apprehension of reputation by the United States Government in the possible triumph of the policy and doctrine of Andrew Johnson.

But happily, Mr. Johnson is wrong in this as much as he is in all his other errors.

THE ASSAULT ON ROME.

The situation in Italy grows more interesting daily. Garibaldi, in captivity, has never been released.

EXCUSE REVIEWED.

"Under-her" Charles Brown turned up last night at the new Coppertown headquarters at Ninth and Arch streets, and made a speech upon the conditions and prospects of the Democracy.

was elected to stay at home. Mr. Brown told the simple truth with incisive remarks to the nation.

In the excitement of election times, it is to be feared that the country may have failed to appreciate the brilliant flash of civic vision which irradiated the Select Council chamber.

In all the great political changes which have taken place in Philadelphia, the name of Mr. Meredith is prominent.

With all personal respect for that distinguished gentleman, we cannot but notice the extent of his opportunities, was as complete a traitor to the country as the most malignant traitor in Dixie.
