From Washington. [Special Despatch to the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.] Washington, Oct. 11.—The more prudent among the President's friends took alarm vesterday afternoon at the probability of the Radicals. leading him astray from the programme agreed upon at the serenade last night, and that he would commit some serious blunder which would have a bad effect upon the country; so notices were issued that the denouement would not come off. His friends desired a "set speech." which Mr. Johnson was not disposed to make: accordingly, they vetoed him. It was feared, in fact, acknowledged, by the Democratic leaders. that an unwise speech from the President would clection for the Democracy.
