The American people, in adopting any great eform, are a good deal like the Yankee who bet with a Dutchman that he could swallow him. The Dutchman lay down on a table, and the Yankee taking his thumb in his mouth, nipped it severely. "Oh, you are biting me," roared the Dutchman. "Why, you old fool," replied the Yankee, "did you suppose I was going to swall low you whole?"

RICHINGS OPERA TROUPE .- Donizetti's beau-

last night, at the Academy of Music, by the Rich-

lngs troupe. It is somewhat remarkable that this opera nearly always fails to draw more than a moderately large audience. It is not a brilliant and spirited composition, and the plot has less vivacity than those of some other operas but the story is beautiful and pathetic almost to painfulness, depicting the saddest calamity that can befal humanity. The music is sweet and touching and is so completely in accord with the sentiments of the play, that it serves, more than is usually the case, to make the story deeply impressive. The performance last evening was very good. Miss Richings sang with her customary grace, and gave a very touching representation in the second and third acts of the stricken and broken-hearted girl. The aria in the first act was admirably sung, and was deservedly encored. The duet with "Carlo," in the same act was also executed in a most effective and graceful manner. Miss Richings richly merits the encouragement and support she recelves, for the indomitable energy she displays in constantly sustaining arduous roles, night after night, as well as for her enthusiasm and her high attainments as an artist. Mrs. Seguin's "Picrotto" can hardly be sufficiently praised. The part afforded her rich, sweet contralto ample opportunity for display, and the finished and elegant manner in which she executed the somewhat difficult music eatisfied even the most critical. The ballad in the first act was sung with exquisite tenderness, and the audience testified to their appreciation by prolonged applause. Mr. Pierre Bernard appeared as the "Viscount" and gave very general satisfaction. He has an excellent tenor voice. and a graceful and pleasing manner. But he lacks that confidence which greater familiarity with the stage will give him. His voice last evening was somewhat husky, and one or two of his best efforts were marred by a hoarseness which seemed to be induced by a want of self-possession. Decidedly his finest performance was the ballad, "My soul in one unbroken sigh.", This is near the end of the third act, and Mr. Bernard had gained confidence. He was well received by the audience and warmly applauded. The impression he has made since his debut has been very favorable. Messrs. Seguin and Peaks were very good in their respective parts. This evening The Bohemian Girl will be given, and the house

The French Cathedral in Montreal

Struck by Lightning.

(From the Montreal Witness, Nov. 2.)

At 1 o'clock to-day, during the storm of rain and thunder, the lightning struck the northeastern plunacle of the Western tower of the French Cathedral. The whole mass rose perpendicularly in the air, then descended, as small portion falling through the roof, and coming to the ground behind the arches, the remainder fulling on the Uathedral stops, which itsmashed. Some of the stones sank considerably into the ground with their weight and the tremendous impetus from the fall; but most of the debris scattered over the area before the Cathedral, a number of the stones rolling as far as the opposite garden. Happly, no one was hurt; but the horses on the cab-stand took fright. In a few minutes, hundreds of spectators were not be square. Some large stenes were left overlanging from the base of the late planacle, and the police allowed as one to go near for fear of accident. Workmen were at length sent up, and they cast down these loae fragments which fell with a lord report, one of them through the already shatched roof. Poople continued to dock thicher. From an examination of some of the fallen pinnacle, a portion of its stony material would seem to have been instantanceusly melted by the flery bolt.

Advance of the Papal Army on Garibaldi's Position—A Nevere Battle and Route of the Revolutionists—Garibaldi Retires Towards Italy—The Insurgent Camps Broken Up.

Florence, Nov. 4, 1867.—The movements of the Papal army, which, since its repulses in the provinces, has been gradually consolidating and reforming in Rome, have been watched for some days past with great anxiety, as it was reported that the troops of His Holiness would assume the offensive against Garibaldi immediately after the entry of the French.

This condition of affairs has been brought to a serious crisis by the action of the Pontifical

This condition of affairs has been brought to a serious crisis by the action of the Pontifical army. Yesterday (8nnday) morning a large body of the Papal soldiers advanced from the works around Rome to the field. They were well supported by artillery. They marched on Garibaldi's headquarters position, situated between Tivoli—which is about eighteen miles east northeast of Reme—and Monte Rotondo. An engagement took place immediately between the outposing forces. The fight was ween the opposing forces. The fight was long and obstitutely contested, a great many men being killed and wounded on both sides. Garibaldi's force was defeated. The General re-treated from the scene of action in good order, taking his wounded volunteers with him. The line of retreat was towards the Italian territory. It is reported here that Garibaldi has been arrested on the frontier by the Italian troops. Senor Nicotera, one of Garibaldi's officers, has withdrawn from his position at Frosinone, and gone towards the frontier of the Neapolitan territory. Signor Ascerbi, of the Italian Legislature, a volunteer revolutionary officer, has taken his departure from Viterbo, which place he held for Garibaldi, after levying a forced loan of eight thousand Roman crowns on the inhabit of eight thousand Roman crowns on the inhabitants. Garibaldian volunteers, who had crossed the frontier, are returning daily to Italy from all points of the Papal States.

Garibaldi refused their entreaties, saying that he "did not value his life in such a cause," and that "a soldier ought not to count the number of bis enemies." Sig. Corte replied, giving his assent to the last remark of Garibaldi, but adding: "A general should." The deputation then left the camp of the General. This morning Garibaldi, with about three thousand men of his command. and having two guns, moved for Tivoli to join Nicotera, one of his officers.

In the meantime the Papal Zonaves, who were advancing, and not by any means dilatory of ac-tion, had taken Tivoli without noise at the point of the bayonet.

Garibaldi's force did not know this fact, and were marching along towards the same point, singing national airs. When they arrived at Mctana they were surprised by seven battalions of the Papal army, supported by twelve guns, who attacked them in front and on both flanks. The battle ground was among hills, with a country road running on both sides. The fighting was continued fereely for over an hour. In the hottest moment of the engagement Garibaldi had to be dragged away. gagement Garibaldi had to be dragged away from the battle. His troops suffered much loss, and retreated towards Monte Rotondy, pursued by the soldiers of the Popc. Here the fight was renewed, and continued for over two hours, when the Garibaldian retreat became an utter route.
It is believed here that General Garibaldi had nine hundred men killed and one thousand made prisoners, and a great many wounded. Menotti Garibaldi was wounded slightly in the leg. The loss of the Papai force was not so heavy. Arrived at the Italian frontier, the retreating Garibal-dians gave up all their arms, except weapons which were their own private property, to the Italian regular troops stationed on the line. General Garibaddi left here this morning by a special railroad train for Florence. He made no parting address, and looked old, haggard and disappointed. The revolutionary and insurrectionary movement is broken down all over the tionary movement is broken down all over the territory. There were no French engaged in the fights, with the exception of a few who went in as volunteers; although some of the Garibaldians, deceived by the resemblance of the uniform of the Papal soldiers to that worn in some of the of the rapal somers of the line, say they were beaten by French soldiers. The Italian troops stationed on the frontier behaved with great judgment in the emergency. Many of the wounded Garibaldians are here, and some few at Monte Rotondo.

The Garibaldians Disarmed and Dis-CANTOLUPO, November 4, P. M.—The road between the front and Correse is filled with Gari-baldian volunteers returning towards Italy. They are all unarmed. YESTERDAY'S ELECTIONS.

NEW YORK AND NEW JERSEY DEMOCRATIC.

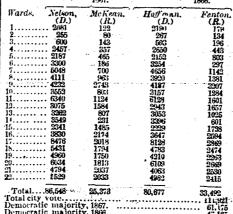

NEW YORK.

The election in New York yesterday resulted in the entire success of the Democratic ticket. The New York Times says:

The New York Times says:

On the State Ticket for Secretary of State, &c., the vote of the State of New York yesterday went Democratic by an aggregate majority, ranging from present figures and estimates, from 18,000 to 22,000. The Counties of New York and Kings alone give over 70,000 majority, overcoming at *nce all the Republican majorities in the interior of the State-these being materially reduced from the vote of last year-and leaving the other Democratic counties to make the aggregate difference just stated. Both Houses of the Legislature will remain Republican; the new Senate will stand nincteen or twenty republican to twelve or thirteen Democratic. The Assembly will be closer than usual of late years, but the majority will probably be a working one.

New York City. The following is the vote in New York city for Governor last year:

NEW JERSEY.

result in New Jersey.

The next House of Assembly is overwhelmingly Democratic. We cannot give the exact state of the parties, but it is enough to say that the Republicans will be represented by a very lean minority. Six Senators were elected—in Sussex, Passaic, Middlesex, Hunterden, Burlington and Cape May counties. Of these, Burlington, Passaic and Cape May, were represented in the last Senate by republicans. Now Passaic elects Hopper, (Dem.) and Burlington county has cleeted. Job Gakill, the Democratic candidate. From Cape May we have received no returns. The candidates are Thomas Beesley, Republican, and Leaming M. Rice, Democrat. If, as is probably the fact, Beesley is elected, the Senate will stand eleven Republicans to ten Democrats. It is possible, however, that in the general wrebk. Cape May has gone with the rest. In that case (which is not probable) the Democrats will have one majority in the Senate. In the Assembly, our estimate gives them Returns from two hundred cities and towns foot up for Bullock 73;924, and Adams 63,153. The same towns last year gave Bullock 68,000, and Sweetzer 21,000. Bullock's majority will probably reach 26,000. Lieut.-Gov. Clafin and the balance of the Republicant ticket is chosen by about the same majority. The Legislaturs is very largely Republican, in both branches, but the opponents of the rohibitory law probably have two-thirds of each branch. Boston gives 1,500 majority for Adams; Charlestown, 500 majority for Adams; Roxbury, 860 majority Adams, and Newburyport, 650 majority for Adams. Salem gives 280 majority for Bullock, Cholsea, 450 majority for Bullock; Fall litiver, 900 majority for Bullock; Lowell, 800 majority for Bullock; Gloucester, 900 majority for Bullock, and Lawrence, 29 majority for Bullock, Peter Harvey is elected Councillor on the Democratic ticket in the Boston District.

Additional returns of the election do not alter the results previously telegraphed. The Republican majority on the State ticket will exceed 20,000, and some estimates claim 30,000. Both branches of the Legislature are strongly Republican, and the Prohibitory law has been repudiated in a very emphatic manner.

MILWAPKEE, Nov. 5.—Seven hundred and fifty of the lars est towns and cities, including Milwaukee, show whet Democratic gain of 1,700 over the vote of 1855, when there was a Republican majority of 10,000. Fairchild, Republican, for Governor, is probably re-elected. The Legislature will be decidedly Republican.

MISSOURI.

BT. Louis, Nov. 5.—James B. McCormick (Dem.) has been elected to Congress in place of Hon. Thomas E. Noel, decared, by above one thousand majority over James B. Chase, his Republican competitor. The county elections show Democratic gains.

MINNESOTA. TST. PAUL Minn. Nov. 5, 1867.—The returns are not all in, but sufficient is known to insure the election of Marshall, Republican, for Governor, over Flandrau, Democrat. The vote on negro suffrage is close, but the proposition has probably been defeated. The Legislature is thus far doubtful.

ILLINOIS. Chicago, Nov. 5.—The election to day passed off very quietly, Only about two-thirds vote polled. General disborne, Republican candidate for County Treasurer, has 4.03 maiorit in the octy, with one precinct to hear from His majority in the county will probably exceed 5.000.

J. M. Wilson, who ran as independent candidate for Judge of the Superior Court, is besten in the city by 650 majority.

MARYLAND. 2015 11.

FROM NEW YORK.

New york, November 6th. Last night about nine o'clock Officer Kirby, of the Forty-first precinct, was sent to the corner of Gold and Johnson streets. Brooklyn for the purpose of dispersing a crowd of young men, who were attempting to tear down a shed in a coal yard. Upon arriving at the place the officer found a crowd of about two hundred young roughs, who immediately began to attack him, with stones and clubs Kirby beat a basty retreat, but contrived to secure one prisoner, whom he dragged up Gold street towards Myrtle avenue. The crowd followed in close pursuit, throwing stoner, and the efficer was compelled to discharge the six barrels of his revsiver ansays them. Whether the shots had any effect ornot is not yet known. One of the stones knocked off his cap, and narrowly escaped striking him on the head.

When near Myrtle avenue, his prisoner offered resistance, and as the crowd came pressing on. Kirby was compelled to release him. Having previously lost his club in the miles. he was without a weapon and was obliged to retreat to the Washington street station-house. Here he procured amether club, and returned to the place where the row occurred. The majority of the rioter had disappeared and he succeeded in arresting one young man by the name of Charles Wood, who is alleged to have been one of the parties who threw stenes at him. The prisener was locked up, and will be taken before dustice Corawell to-day.

The bedy of an unknown man, apparently about forty years of age, was found drowned in a ditoh in the Park, the ditch containing nearly three feet of water. The supposition is that deceased was seized with a fit, and falling into the water, was drow de before and could reach him. Coroner Schirmer was notified and held an inquest on the body. Deceased was stoned and held an inquest on the body. Deceased was stoned as defore and held could reach him. Coroner Schirmer was accided and held an inquest on the body. Screnade to Beauregard and Basil Duke in St Louis. Beauregard and Basil Duke were screnaded by a number of their personal friends and admirers in St. Louis, on Friday evening last. The former, in acknowledgment, said briefly: "I thank you, my triends, for this unexpected compliment. I am most happy to be among you, and I assue you that I shall ever remember this kind and unlooked for reception." Duke, being called upon, said; and I assue you that I shall ever remember this kind and unlooked for reception." Duke, being called upon, said, "I assure you, my friends, that you could not have bestowed a greater compliment, and one that could be more fully appreciated than that tendered to night. It is true that I once occuped the position of Police Commissioner in this city. Since my return to St. Louis I have recalled many reminisences of the days that are gone, some pleasant and others painful. My soul has been pained as I looked around me and missed the familiar faces of many gallant fellows who stood because me amid the painful realities of civil war, but who have gone to render up their last account. It was my fate at every period of the war to be separated from the noble band of Missouri troops well-contested field of battle. On ooth sides they showed it, and I have generate enough to grant this credit to tides who, from a true some of duty, fought on the other side, as I followed the bars and stars. [Cheers.] I watched with pride and pleasure the noble behavior of our Miscouri boys who followed Price at springfield, and who did such valorous deeds at Wilson's Creek and Inka or who followed their conscience, on both sides, and sancthed victory from the red fields of Arranaske, and sancthed victory from the red fields of Arranaske, and sancthed victory from the red fields of Arranaske, and sancthed victory from the red fields of Arranaske, and sancthed victory from the red fields of Arranaske, and sancthed victory from the red fields of Arranaske, and sancthed victory from the red fields of these who in civil life, away from the scenes of strike, shood up manifully in opposition to opposition. As a soldier, I would be among the first to give them credit for the brave manner in which they stood up in defence of the principle of freedom and civil government."

After a humorous speech from Gen. M. Jeff. Thompson, the crowd dispersed with cheers.
