Mr. Eldridge renewed his motion that the credentials of Mr. Stokes (Tenn.) is referred to the Committee on Elections, together with the Durcen letter. Ohio said he wanted no more of his sort of thing. The member from New York Office work is the work of the control that the House, preving that his object was ruther to set some mean little party trap—which had, however, spreag and eaught himself—than for the purpose of a grave inquiry into the right of a member to take his seat. He was glad that the House had, in the case of Mr. Buther, carried out the precedent exhibited in the Kentreky case—with the statement of a member to take his best the mean proposition. He (Mr. Schenck) was opposed to the reference of Mr. Stokes and fought by lighting bravely under the falg.

Mr. Morgan (N. Y.) inquired whether the fact that Mr. Stokes had fought valishing suggestion. This work was condeaved and the concentratively for himself.

Mr. Morgan (N. Y.) inquired whether the fact that Mr. Stokes had fought valishing suggest the Federal flag contrasted the scalion of Republican members in the Kentucky case with their present sciles, and asked how they could reconcile their practical inconsistency.

Mr. Dreves (Mass.) Closed the debate by moring the previous question, remarking that the House had become the previous question, remarking that the House had become the previous question, remarking that the House had become the previous question, remarking that the House had become the previous question, remarking that the House had become the previous question, remarking that the House had become the previous question, remarking that the House had become the previous question, remarking that the House had become the previous question, remarking that the House had become the previous question, remarking that the House had become the resolution of Mr. Eldridge was rejected.

Mr. Brooks then submitted a resolution to referred.

Mr. Brooks then submitted a resolution to referred and him to the comment of the theory of the previous questio the Committee on Elections, together with the Mayor Banks, of Baltimore, is beset by immittee on Elections, and sent to the Clerk's desk and had read a letter from a lieutenant in the 12th United States Infantry supporting the statement made in respect to that case. Referring to a remark of Mr. Logan, he said the only difference between Logan, he said the only difference between Logan and histograms of the 15th of next month.

Additional returns of the election in North beginning of the war Logan was a terrible Copperhead and himself a Union man, while now Mr. Logan was a terrible distunion man and Jacobite, and himself still a Union man. As to the remarks of Mr. Schenck, he said that that gentleman was not a very amiable person—had not that snavity of manner which as a student of Chesterfield he ought to have—and that he was the regular scold of the House. He defended his own course and consistency in this matter.

Mr. Dawes replied to Mr. Brooks.

Mr. Schelabarger (Ohio) said he would not discuss the proposition whether the House might disregard the requirements of the test oath law. disregard the requirements of the test oath law. Democratic party.

The House would be doing a most dangerous Ankono registrar A niggio registrar has just been sentenced to cens the proposition whether the Howse might disregard the requirements of the test cath law. The House would be doing a most dangerous shing if it jet down the high and important requirements of the test cath for members on either side. It should hold up in the utmost good faith the standard to where the law had bacd it, and require that wightance shall be sworn in who could not properly take it. Schenck explained and justified his remains the saith of th The House voted on the resolution, and it was rejected unanimously.

The Tennessee members then, except Mr. Butler, were called in front of the Speaker's chair, and had the test oath solemnly administered to them.

The Speaker laid before the House a letter from the Secretary of the Territory of New Mexico, stating that he was forced to sign the certificate of the election of Mr. Cleaver as a delegate, but that his apparent majority was fairly elected by a majority of 1,103 votes. The papers were referred to the Committee of Electeratories were then sworn in.

The delegates from Washington and Montana territories were then sworn in.

The Speaker announced the next business in order to be the execution of the order made on the 20th of July last, that the Judiciary Committee, stated, by direction of the committee, that its report in reference to the committee, that its report in reference to the proposed impachment of the President was not complete, but would be complete by Monday next, at which there are indigently and are now in charge of the Ordnance of June 100 the 30th of June 100 the Committee, that its report in reference to the proposed impachment of the President was not complete, but would be complete by Monday next, at which there are indigently appropriations required for the fiscal year ending on the 30th of June 100 the 20th of June 100 the The total fixed millions and a half.

It will appear, from the ordnance report, that the arms and other ordnance stores which had accumulated at the Southern arisenals have been removed, and are now in charge of the Ordnance from the complete by Monday next, at which sime the committee committee by Monday next, at which sime the committee committee.

The catimate of military appropriations required for the fiscal year ending on the 30th of June next is about $77,000,000. This estimate is based upon the expenditures for the current year, and it is thought it may exceed the actual requirements of the service in the establishment of peace with the argrent reduction of of New York, submittee.

FRIEND BROWN: It gives me great pleasure to say tyou, that your Ointment is such an article that there can be but praises bestowed upon it, when used and it become known. For you well recollect how dreadfully I we scalded in both legs by steam and hot water, so much as that the fiesh came off at least one-half inch in thickness and by the use of your Ointment, and that alone, in a for weeks I was entirely restored, and am new as well a ever; not a muscle or leader contracted, and hardly a see is left. There is no telling the amount of suffering would relieve, if it was freely used in scalds or burns of any kind. By referring persons to me, I can give the ample attributes of the truthfulness of its qualities.

Westom's Dinner at Utica.

At dinner Westom sat down in his chair just like any other man. Then he called for a roast (done rarely, we think he said). He commenced eating—ate with his fork, but occasionally used his knife to cut the roast. Reason why—he didn't wish to put too large pieces in his mouth; it wasn't polite. His save a piece that was afterwards measured by the waiter. The following were the dimensions of the piece: Thickness, one-sixteenths of an inch, to a hair (the waiter was very particular about this point, because we told him we did not wish to give any one a false impression) length—the length cold not be necurately obtained, as Weston at this stage of the measurement at every morsel.
