EVENING BULLETIN. Wednesday, November 27, 1867.

Tomorrow being the day recomvended by the President of the United States and the Governor of this State, to be observed as Thanksgiving Day, no paper will be issued from this office.

THANKSGIVING DAY. The National and State authorities have set apart to-morrow as a Day of Thanks-giving, and it will be observed by a greater number of people than have ever before united in an act of common thanksgiving to God, upon this Continent, or anywhere in the world. Before the rebellion each State sppointed its own Thanksgiving Day, and although Abraham Lincoln made the ob-
