Maximilian—an act of international kindness of which he had already, on a former occasion, signified his profound appreciation—and while alluding to his instrual auxiety on the subject, he dwelt upon his hopes for his brother's safety, founded on his confidence in the generous and powerful influence of the United States. In conclusion, Mr. Motley says: "I have related the closing incidents of my mission. As you chose to arraign me in November last, efficiently and peremptorily, upon charges supplied to you by an unknown informer, I had naturally expected some notice from you of the reply, in which I denounced those charges as false, calumnious and contemptible. This not having been the which i denounced those charges as mass, cautimute ous and contemptible. This not having been the case, I think proper to place upon the records of this Legation and of the State Department the fact that the author of the infamous libel upon my character, whence you derived your charges my character, whence you derived your charges as absolutely unknown to me; that to the best of my knowledge, memory and belief he never saw me nor heard the sound of my voice, and that until the publication of his letter I never heard intil the publication of this teter. ## CITY BULLETIN.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS .- The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals would find ample opportunity for the exercise of its humanity if it would station its agents along the lines of some of the street railroads, and prohibit not only the frequent overloading of the cars, but the brutality displayed by drivers to the jaded animals under their care. On Wodnesday last, a specimen of the manner in which carboxes, a specimen of the manner in which carboxes, a specimen of the manner in which carboxes. day last, a specimen of the manner in which carhorses are treated was exhibited upon Eleventh street, near Callowhill, about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. A baulky horse was attached to car No. 23, and the driver, instead of using kindness, or pursuing the usual method of gearing the animal so that it could not pull the car back, left the platform in a rage, procured a double trace-chain and beat the horse in the most inhuman manner until his horse in the most inhuman manner until his danks were recking with blood. Upon a lady venturing to remonstrate with him upon his cruelty, he turned upon her, and in the rudest and most insolent manner requested her to "mind her to be a superior under the cruelty and the superior under the superior when the superior w own business." A few prosecutions under the law would tend to put a stop to these oft-repeated outrages, and would also perhaps serve to impress upon the officers of the companies the folly of placing tricky horses upon the roads to

THE FOSTER HOME .- Of all the benevolent associations instituted in this city for the relief of the indigent, there are few, if any, that have done as much real good as this one. Its object, as all are aware, is to protect those innocent lit-tle ones, who by a combination of circumstances beyond their control are placed in a position which requires the temporary assistance of those in more fortunate circumstances, and while not neglecting their temporal, to instruct them in the ways of truth and rightcousness, so that they become useful members of instead of a burden to society. By advertisement elsewhere, it will-be observed that the managers of this "Home" are now holding a Fair, (which closes this even-ing.) at Simes Building, Twelfth and Chestnut streets, to procure funds to more fully carry out their noble work. Let those desiring articles for the approaching holidays at once visit it, and by selecting but a triffe from among the very large number of articles displayed second the efforts of those who gratultonsly devote so much time and attention for the alleviation of the wants of suffering children.

He aimed a blow at the head of Silver-thorne, but the latter warded it off and used his ball, for trial.

CITY NOTICES.

SEWING MACHINE FACTS.—The following interesting statistics we gather from the quarterly returns made, we believe under oath, by the several manufacturers of sewing machines throughout the United States. The figures which we prosent, and which we have been at some pains to collect, show at a glance the wonderful growth and great importance of this branch of American manufactures. It will be observed that one company, alone has produced and sold within the year over forty-three thousand machines. It is somewhat remarkable that, during the recent stagnation in trade, this business has been but slightly, if at all, affected. But below are the figures in detail:

The foregoing facts and figures we find in the Financial Chronicle of the Ith inst. About a year or so ago, as our readers will remember, we published a series of articles descriptive of some of the great manufacturing interests of this country. We then selected the Singer Manufacturing Company, located in this city, as the representative and leading concern in the department of sewing machines, and we are now pleased to find that we did not exaggerate or over-estimate the importance of the company in question. It is noteworthy and somewhat suggestive that the Singer Company, who did not, as we understand, take the trouble of visiting or even of sending their machine to the Parla Exhibition—who seemingly do not care in the least for either gold medals or red ribbons, and whose name is rarely seen in print—should nevertheless colippe all other rewing machine concerns in the magnitude of their business. There is, of course, a reason for all this, but we leave our readers to find that out for themselves.—Home Journal.
