Work in the rock cu alepe will continue through the winter, and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pale will be open for breiness in 1870. The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a second Hen as an receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim in services. These Bouds are issued as each twenty-mile section is finished, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class road, thoroughly supplied with depots, repair-shops, stations, and all the necessary-rolling stock and other equipments. The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large re-venue to the Company. Much of this land in the Platto Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests and abound in coal of the best quality

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount caust to the in-Government and no more. Hon. K. D. Morgan and Hon. Having euth-cient evidence to convince her that her fears were well founded, she left her home and returned to her father's house in Columbia, taking with her the two children—a girl now some ten, and a boy seven years of age. During her absence Allen moved to this city, and, it is said, set sence Allen moved to this city, and, it is said, set up housekeeping with the partner he had newly taken to his bosom.

Mrs. Allen's father dying soon after, she determined to again begin a home for herself and children, and carn a living by washing, sowing, or such other labor as she could procure. By the kindness of those who knew her as a good woman, a situation was procured for her as female janitress of the Town Hall, and two-comfortable apartments were assigned to her in the basement of the building. From her conversa-

have to sell at a heavy loss. We are in the midst of a bulk speculation, and there is so knowing how much higher prices will rise; but mod-ration is desirable in all things, and those among the cutside public who think they have only to come into Wallstreet and buy stocks in order to make money had better pause and reflect to make money had better pause and reflect the tendency of prices is upward, the higher they go the more the market will be liable no violent reactions, and outsiders are always losers by three, while the cliques almost invariably are gainers. Without, therefore, meaning to discourage the buils, we carried to profit by it. The market cannot so up forever; and it is well for speculators and those who think of speculating to remember this fact. At the same time prices are ulating to remember this fact, at the same time prices are likely to range considerably higher before the inevitable partic comes which will carry them down again. Money is abundant, and the stock Exchange is well supplied at six per cent. while the principal dealers in government five. Owing to the duluses of trade the demend for first-claus discourns is light; so that money londers have to rely upon Wall street for the employment of their funds. It is the expressed intuition of the regular board to move down to the lower hall of the Stock Exchange building on the first day of the ensuing month, where a railing is to reparate the outside public from "the observed of all otservers, y lept the brokers, and where a little is to expense the their demand for government securities at the counters of the leading dealers, and owing to the most of the counters of the leading dealers, and old issure of 855, for which thore is a foreign market, were particularly strugs.
