Mr. Brooks has been a consistent copperhead throughout the war and since its close, and no doubt fairly represents the general tone and spirit of his party at the present time. He does not hesitate to declare it as his hope and as the purpose of his party, to overturn all the legislation of the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses. "Everything which The doom of Ulysses S. For two days past, the rumor has been current on the streets of this city, that a heavy robbery had been committed on the stanneh old Southern be detected. The Express messenger between Montgomery and Mobile on Friday last, committhe da robbery of seventy thousand dollars, and or his return to Montgomery on Sunday morning last, concocted the following story:

That while the train was near Perdido station, about two hours before day, the express car was entered by two robbers, who fired several shots at the messenger, then forcibly threw him down and procured the key to the safe; that then he rang the car bell and the robbers jumped off the train with the seventy thousand dollars. No other person was in the car during the night, it being contrary to the regulations of the Company to allow any one to ride in the express car, except the messenger himself.

The name of the robber is Thomas Wolfe, and he had been in the employ of the Company only a few months. He showed his coat containing several bullet-holes, and his tale altogether was very plausible.

Mr. Born at once telegraphed the fact to Col. Offsilen, at Augusta, Superintendent of the Company, who immediately came to Montgomery with a detective belonging to the Company, who immediately came to Montgomery with a detective belonging to the Company, who immediately came to Montgomery with a detective belonging to the Company, Colonel O'Brien and the detective at once set to work to ferret out the matter, and about twelve e'clock last night, found the greater portion of the money in Wolfe's own house. FIRE.—A fire occurred in the cotton waste establishment of Messrs. Bridge & Houldsworth, No. 305 North Front street, about cleven o'clock this morning. In raking a fire in a stove in the fifth story, some of the red hot coals fell on the waste and set it on fire. The damage will be liames broke out shortly after 11 o'clock in the five-story brick building, No. 197 Lake street, and originated, it is stated, on the fifth floor. As coon as the presence of fire was discovered an alarm was at once sounded, and the fire department was quickly on the spot. The flames spread with wonderful rapidity, and Fire Marshal Harris gave orders for sounding the general alarm. As soon as possible every engine in the city reached the spot, the apparatus was adjusted, but no the spot, the spot, the apparatus was adjusted, but no the story, some of the red hot coals fell on the story in the story.
