A ROMAN COIN DISCOVERED. A Fort Mackinac Indian Digs Up an Antique Medal of the Time of the Roman 1 imperor Trajan. [From the Detroit Free Press.] We were shown a few days ago by G. M. of an old Roman coin or medal, in an excellent state of preservation, with the inscriptions and figures quite distinct and in good relief. This coin, Mr. Wendell states, was given to him by an Indian at Fort Mackinac. who said he had found it, or dug it up, in the earth. This being the fact, the opening for who, in their self-sacrificing devotion to their chosen duty, penetrated the heart of the conand from thence carried it inland till it found the resting-place from which it has now been exhumed. Or still another hypothesis: The ancient working of the Lake Superior mines, so evidently the labor of a more enlightened race than the Indian, may have been the means of bringing the coin hither. But if this were so, why have not more of them or similar relics been discovered? The first of politics. [Please do not mention this fact to Mr. Crum-Ewing, as he might think, 'Woe betide their future husbands! How can such girls mind them, especially should they be Italian patriots?']

In above premises is no doubt the correct one, and this coin has served as a pocket-piece to Father Marquette, or some one of his coadjutors. And in this connection it might have a striking significance to some persons, as it belonged to the time and the persons as it belonged to the time. when the new religion of Christ was beginning to be preached, having been struck off in the beginning of the second century. It would thus be a significant accompaniment to the introduction of Christianity into the The coin, which is the size of a nickel cent, and as thick as an American ten-cent piece (which some of our readers may remember having seen), bears upon the fac a medallion portrait of the Roman Emperor Trajan, surrounded by this inscription: IMPERATORI TRAJANO AUGUSTO GER.-DAC.—P. M.—T.—R.—Coss.—V. P. R. "The Senate and people of Rome to the conqueror of the Germans and Dacians, Chie Upon the reverse is the figure of a Roman warrior clad in armor, with spear and shield, with these words: S. P. Q. R — OPTIMA PRINCIPL.—"The Senate and the People of Rome to the best (or most cherished) Prince.". Trajan, one of the greatest and most beloved of the Roman Emperors, was born, as most authorities agree, at a town on t Guadalquiver, near Seville, Spain, on the 18th of September, A. D. 62, and was the son of an officer in the Roman service. He issued edicts against informers, curbed the insolence high character to public offices, made pro vision for supporting the poor, victualed Rome by allowing the entrance of grain free of duty, etc. He founded extensive libraries in Rome, one of which became very celebrated. The story of the forum which bears his name, and the columns which he erected in honor of his Dacian triumph, and beneath which his ashes were placed in a golden urn, need not be recounted here. The immense high, 60 feet wide, and 170 feet apart, and This, his second triumph over the Dacians. MEDICAL. FRENCH MEDICINES PREPARED BY GRIMAULT & CO. Chemists to H. I. H. Prince Napo-These different medicines represent the most recent medical discoveries founded on the principles of Chemistry and therapeutics. They must not be confounded with secret or quack medicines, as their names sufficiently indicate their composition; a circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those numerous medicines advertised in the public papers as able numerous medicines advertised in the public papers as able to cure every possible disease, as they are applicable only to but a few compilaints. The most stringent laws exist in France, with regard to the sale of medical preparations, and only those which have undergone an examination by the Academy of Medicine, and have been proved efficacious, either in the Hospitals, or in the practice of the first medical men, are authorized by the Government. This fact must be a guarantee for the excellency of Messrs. GRIMAULT ET CO, medicines. DOCTOR LERAS' (Doctor of Medicine) LIQUID PHOSPHATE OF IRON. It is a perfect substitute success in the Hospitals of Paris. It is a perfect substitute for Cod Liver Oil, and has been found most beneficial in diseases of the Chest, Scrotula, Lymphatic Disorders, Green Sickness, Muzcular Afony and Loss of Appetite. It regenerates the constitution in purifying the blood, it being the most powerful depurative known. It has also been applied with happy results in diseases of the skin. Further, it will be found to be of great benefit to young children subject to humors and obstruction of the glands. CONSUMPTION OU GRIMAULT'S SYREP OF HYPOPHOSPHITE OF This new medicine is considered to be a sovereign remedy in cases of Consumption and other diseases of the Longs. It promptly removes all the most serious symptoms. The cough is relieved, night perspirations cease, and the patient is rapidly restored to health.

M. C. McClusky purchased the receipt of him some ten years ago; he has fince that time given it a perfect trial among his personal friends and the artitocratic circles of Philadelphia, New York Baltimore, Boston, New Orleans, St. Louis, Savannah, Charleston, Wilminton, N. C., &c. They have used it with unqualified admiration and would consider the folletimperfect without this delightful and curely harmless preparation. Victoria Regia and Occelia do Peria has given such entire satisfaction in every instance, that he is now compelled to offer it to the public. This article is entirely different from anything of the kind ever attempted, and is warranted.

FREE FROM ALL POISONOUS SUBSTANCES.

After using Occelia do Persia and Victoria Regia for a short time, the skin will have a roft, ratin like texture; it imparts a freshness, smoothness and softness to the skin that can only be produced by using this valuable article. On motion of Mr. Harlan the further consideration was postponed to Monday, and the Senate took up the bill to provide for the formation of corporations and regulating the same in the District of Columbia, which was discussed by Messrs. Johnson, Barlan, Willey, Morrill, of Vermont, and Conkling, the latter condemning it as granting unprecedented license. The bill was amended so as to require the principal offices of the corporations to be kept in the District of Columbia, and by making private property of the stockholders in certain cases liable to the amount of par value of his stock.

After further verbal amendment, the bill was passed to a third reading, and Mr. BUKALEW, of Pennsylvania, called for the yeas and nays on its final passage.

He said that the conference committee on the part of the House did not feel that it could not take the responsibility of destroying the bill, for it was palpably evident that this being the third conference committee, unless it could agree the Scnate would not consent to any further conference. This was the very best proposition that could be obtained. Under it the American producer of cotton would not have the protection he now has—equal to 1½ cents a pound. It was deemed important by the committee that the tax be removed so to encourage the growth of cotton in 1869; and, therefore, the report was agreed to, but with the understanding on the part of the House conferences that, when the question of tariff came up for adjustment at this session, the whole subject could be revived.

The conference had, therefore, been reluctanly compelled to assent to this proposition.

Mr. BROOKS asked Mr. Allison whether the House was to understand that it must take this bill or nothing.

Mr. Allison repeated his belief that if this conference report was not agreed to, the Senate would not agree to the appointment of a new conference committee.

Mr. BROOKS expressed the conviction that under these circumstances the House would not be gratified.

Mr. Schenck remarked that the title told the whole story. The House had passed a bill to repeal the internal taxation, and the Senate was determined to tack to it that which related to a totally different subject, and was determined that nothing should be done for the grower of American cotton, unless at the same time for the benefit of certain American manufacturers. It seemed that that remark had given offense in the Senate, where it had been commented upon and found fault with. He desired now to make an apology to the Senate. He had thought that, on sober second thought, and after time for reflection, the Senate would, recede from the ground which it had, as the House believed, wrongly taken. If he should vote to concur with the Senate on this report he should do so only on the ground on which the gentleman from New York (Mr. Brooks) placed it—for the sake of relieving the cotton interest from a burden it could not bear, and he did not know that he was fully justified in going so far.

Mr. Baine, of Wisconsin, called the attention of the House to the fact that while the House was by a very large majority in favor of renealing the cotton very large majority in favor of repealing the cotton tax, the Senate was in favor of repealing the cotton tax, the Senate was in favor of it, it at all, by a very whole majority. Mr. Pike, of Maine, expressed the hope that the House would stand on its dignity and adhere to its position. If the bill thereby failed that would be a most excellent result.

Mr. Blank remarked that his colleague ought to state he was against the cotton tax being taken off.

Mr. Pike continued to argue that if the bill did fail, then the question would go where it ought to go—into the general bill. He hoped there would be no special legislation in favor of cotton, or any other interest. If the Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means (Mr. Schenck) intended his remarks as threats of free trade, then he would say to him that he did not fear free trade to its utmost extent, if that was to be established as the policy of the country.
