Horace Greeley pities the South. In bailing Jefferson Davis he felt that he was bailing the South. And yet even he, with his "bushel of brains, deep sense of justice and glowing philanthropy," can keep on saying to the South, "Root, hog, or die!" I, certainly, would have nothing dans to supergradars in any darger relay the self-ne to supersede or in any degree relax the self-iance of the South. But, because of her deep poverty and of our large measures of responsi-bility for it, and because, withal, she is our sister, I would have the North extend a helping hand to her.

It is true that the South has come to her ruin through her wickedness. But, as we were her partner in it, and encouraged and sustained her comes us not to reproach her with the wicker ley, in an unguarded hour, to enter into a part-nership with his neighbor for building gambling-houses and dramshops, and were the enterwhile he himself remained rich—who believes that Mr. Greeley would instead of condemning bimself, and pitying and helping the guilty partner; say to him: "Root, hog, or die?" He would not say so to him. Neither should the North say to the South. It is true that the oppression which the South practiced was a worse business than building restrict houses. than building gaming-houses and dramshops. But now that she has come out of the this worse to say to her: "Root, hog, or die?"

[From the New York Times of to-day.]

Fruncary 13th.—The sales of Gold opened at, 1413, per cent, this morning, and gradually broke down, before two o'clock, to 1484 per cent. There had previously been shown more courage on the part of the bratch filterest in the Gold Room to follow the market down, and their sales were probably increased to day by the Washington telegrams advising the explorion of the recent impeachment threats. The Gold, under these short sales, is less abundant than carifer in the week, and holders were able to carry over their halances at cheap rates of interest, 3to 4 per cent. The Foreign Exchanges were unusually quiet to day, and in the absence of Cable news (owing to a break in the land lines of telegraph down East) the Public Funds were also duller than yesterday, though without much change in price for the 1825 and 10-42s.

Frin. 13.—The activity in the stock market continues under the stimulus of cheap money and larger traffic upon the roads of which the shares are old at the 8 tock Exchange. It is a fact evident to all who will take the trouble to examine the financial condition of nearly every road upon the list, that the natural increase of the business of the country has brought to them a permanent traffic sufficient to make them secure of incore unon all their cert.
