For four days the election has been quietly proceeding. To-day is the last of the term allowed. If ratification fail it will not be because time enough was not given to muster all who desired to vote. Originally but two days were named, then four. The voting commenced in a raw rain-storm, the creeks became swollen, and it was feared that many negroes would be kept at home by the sorrowful negro, "I'se been hyah evah since the Government. At this juncter every man in the bildin rose tu his feet very excitedly, ail uv em in korious commenst, "Bascom holds a note uv mine, wich bears intrest and I.—"
