BUBINESS NOTIOES

EVENING BULLETIN. Wednesday, February 19, 1868.

THE CITY ICE BOAT. The experience of many severe winters demonstrates two facts concerning the port of Philadelphia. One is that it can always be kept open by the use of proper ice-boats, and the other, that a single boat is utterly inade quate for the purpose. Since the ice-boat got kept open by the use of proper ice-boats, and the other, that a single boat is utterly inake quate for the purpose. Since the ice-boat got to work, this winter, it has done good service to the extent of its capacity; but there has still been a great interruption of trade, and yesterday the boat was compelled to haul off for repairs, in consequence of the hard work of breaking a channel to the sea for the ice-bound fleet of steamers and sailing vessels which sailed from this port on Sunday last. It would seem unnecessary to discuss the importance of keeping the Delaware and Schuylkill rivers open during the winter, were there not such a hesitation about providing there not such a hesitation about providing adequate boats. The whole commercial in. terests of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania are paralyzed by the closing of this port by ice. The enormous coal traffic is arrested, and our New England customers are driven to devising railroad fines to bring them their supplies directly from the mines, without coming to Philadelphia at all. The constantly inwhich gives employment and business to Andrew Johnson will, for a time at least, to not the stocks of the various merchants creasing trade in petroleum suffers in the such various branches of industry, make insuperable obstacles to their admission is suspended. The whole business credit of to the Union. Besides that, many of them the city is involved in this one question of an open port, and yet the means to secure these to the loyal people of the United States by the 1
