FALSE ALARM.-Last night, about 12 o'clock, an alarm of fire came from the signal box at Passyunk Road and Reed street. The Fire Department turned out in full force, but upon reaching that point, no fire could be discovered. About the time the alarm was given there was a bright light in a southwesterly direction, which is supposed to have been caused by the burning of a barn in Chester county. The policeman who gave the alarm last night should learn his duties better, and not put so many firemen to such inconvenience on a cold night.

Hebbew Charry Ball.-Those who have visited the Academy of Music to examine the preparations being made for the Ball in aid of the Hebrew Charity Fund, which takes place on next Tuesday evening, 25th, will find that nothing that good taste or judgment could suggest has been omitted by the committee that can contribute to the comfort and pleasure of those who may attend. The whole interior of the building is most beautifully decorated, and presents a more elegant appearance than upon any previous oc-

A BEUTE.—An individual named Samuel Bale residing at No. 264 South Tenth street, was arrested yesterday by Sergeant Lacey, at Ridge avenue and Buttonwood street, upon the charge of misdemeanor. It is alleged that he stopped a little girl who was passing slong the street, and made insulting proposals to her. He was taken before Ald. Massey, and was held in $800 to an-

Wolf was arrested yesterday at Fortieth street and Lancaster avenue, by Policeman Geddes, upon the charge of having stolea a black mare, valued at $350, from the farm of Alonzo Gibson, near Catharineville, Chester county. MR. BEECHER'S LECTURE.-The lecture of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, at the Academy of Music, on Thursday evening next, will doubtless attract on Indicate evening next, will be not only the only opportunity of hearing this eloquent orator the present season, but probably for a long time, as he contemplates retiring from the lecturer's platform for a protracted period.

ALLEGED FUGITIVE FROM JUSTICE.-Henry Clifford, aged nineteen years, was arrested this morning, at Delaware avenue and Market street. upon the charge of the larceny of jewelry valued at $60, and some clothing, from the house of Dr. Webb, at Wrightstown, N. J. He was sent back Fire. -This morning about three o'clock, the cating house of Philip Lowry, Jr., in the home ment of the market house at Sixteenth and Market streets, was somewhat damaged by fire. The flames originated from the lamp under the heating apparatus.

RUNAWAY AND ACCIDENT .- A pair of spirited norses, attached to the family carriage of Jacob Birely, became frightened while being driven along Girard avenue, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Birely and her sister were thrown out and injured. The vehicle was wrecked.

DUMMIES ON THE DARBY RAILROAD. - Negotiations are now pending, we understand, between the Philadelphia and Darby Railroad Company and the Darby Plank Road Company, whereby steam power may be used on that road.

Anornen Change.-The weather has again become wintry. A stiff breeze sprang up early last evening, and the mercury in the thermometer began to descend. The wind howled, windows rattled and signs squeaked all night. At day-light this morning the mercury had got down as low as 17 degrees at some points in the city. When people got up this morning there was an entirely different appearance of things. No mud, no slush, no overflowed pavements. The streets have become perfectly hard again, and the sidewalks are again in good condition for promenading.

THE YOUNG PROPLE'S ASSOCIATION. The fifth of the second series of monthly sermons before the Young People's Association of the Tabernacle Baptist Church, Chestnut street; west of Eighteenth, will be delivered to-morrow evening, at 7% o'clock, by Rev. THE DEATH OF MR. INGERSOLL. - The memers of the bar will hold a meeting in the Supreme Court room at one o'clock on Monday afternoon, to take action in reference to the death of the late Hon. Joseph R. Ingersoll.

A DANGEROUS MAN .- We notify the public that A DANGEROUS MAN.—We notify the public that in person residing in Brooklyn, N. Y., is practicing a imperous innovation, and if steps are not taken to stop his career, it will overthrow time-honored principles and institutions. We refer to Dr. Wolcott, who has an office at No. 170 Chatham square, N. Y., 622 Arch street, Philadelphia, 36 Winter street, Boston, 184 Vine street, Cincinna i, Ohio, and the probability is that he will have a firm footing established in all the principal cities in the United States and elsewhere. At 101 of the above places he removes played a page of any let hat he will have a firm footing established in all the principal cities in the United States and elsewhere. At all of the above places he removes physical pain of any name or nature, free of cost for everybody, with a liquid preparation he calls Pain Paint, applied to the surface of the limbs or body with a brush. Although the remedy appears to be harmless as water, certainly leaves to stain, and people who have had an application say that the sensation preduced is delightful, and invigorates them wonderfully, allaying every manner. of pain or inflammation instantly and although it breaks up violent fevers in a few minutes, yet the system he adopts is most damaging to all manufacturers of Pills, Liniments, and various other preparations which were formerly used for the same purpose. But he supersedes and condemns all these old-established remedies, and insists that Pain Paint tops the pain instantly, and does not cause more pain by its use. His instantly, and does not cause more pain by its use. His instant of his different offices large crowds of people, who after an application of Pain Paint go and tell all their friends and neighbors, and this, of course, brings to each of his different offices large crowds of people, who after an application of Pain Paint go and tell all their friends and neighbors, and this, of course, brings more and more patients; and thus does great damage to the regular profession. Patients leave their physicians and go to Dr. Wolcott's office, or rush to the nearest drug store and purchase a bottle of Pain Paint to one bottle or box of any other remedy. Times are now dull, and it lawery trying to sit down and quietly submit to a man so daugorous to all manufacturers of parent remedice and to the vast army of physicians. We propose, therefore, to have printed in all newspepers having a wide circulation that Wolcott's Pain Paint will kill everybody who buys it. Self-defence let the first law of nature; and although the free system of curing everybody, adopted by Dr. Wolcott, may be death to us who manufacture Pills and Liniments.

Hoping a response may be unanimous for calling a meeting to raise funds to carry out the project and crush Pain Paint, our motto shall be, "Revenge Rule Rivals."

ENGLISH LITERATURE OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY—a new edition, thoroughly seviced and greatly e larged.

State of the author fell it his duty to revise it the roughly and have it restereotyped. Accordingly, besides introducing into it thit y new authors, with extracts from their works, he has added to it a new feature, which the publisher think with be welcomed and valued. At the end of each of the first six decades is a "Supplementary List" of such authors of less prounence as have died during that period; giving an account of them and their works, with now and then some little gem from their writing; while in the last decade will be found an account of nearly two bundred living authors. By thus bringing up his work abreat of the age, he has endeavored to present in it a full and complete view-of the literature of Great Britain of the present century—such a view as, the publishers believe, can be found in no other ringle volume.
