

CITY BULLETIN.

A NEW POLICE DISTRICT.—The Seventeenth Police District, which was established by ordinance of City Councils some time since, will be inaugurated to-morrow night. It is composed of that portion of the city lying between Sixth and Broad streets, and south of South street. This makes a change in the bounds of the First and Second Districts necessary. Hereafter the Second District will embrace the territory between the Delaware river and Sixth street, and south of South street, and the First District will take in that part of the city lying between Broad street and the Schuylkill, south of South street. Chief of Police, Charles W. Carson, has been appointed Lieutenant, and John Hearst and Robert Welch, sergeants of the First District. Their station-houses are at South and Fitzwater streets. The patrolmen of the Seventeenth District will number 40, made up of transfers from the First and Second Districts, and ten new appointments, as follows: John Quinn, Joseph Bleicher, Arthur Corrigan, Thomas S. Mason, Alexander McNeil, Wm. T. Camac, Geo. W. Stinson, James T. Greene and H. A. Miller. Jos. M. Hillery and John McDonough have been appointed substitutes for the District.

SACRED MUSIC.—Mr. Jas. Pearce, the organist of St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal Church, in this city, has just issued new editions of two of his popular publications for the use of church choirs. The first of these is a little volume containing the words of anthems, compiled from the works of a vast number of distinguished authors. These are suited to every time and season, and will be found of the greatest value to organists and chorists. The second publication is a collection of sacred anthems, including the music of the famous hymn "Jerusalem, the Golden," and an original tune, "Quebec," to the "Evening Hymn." This latter composition is simple and beautiful, and is certain to acquire great popularity.

LIBERAL BEQUESTS.—The late Tobias Wagner, Esq., has bequeathed the following legacies to public institutions in this city: To the Episcopal Hospital, $2,000; Church Home, $1,500; Children's Hospital, $1,500; The Society for the Advancement of the Deaf and Dumb, $1,000; Bishop White Prayer Book Society, $500; Ladies' Parish Library Association, $500; Indigent Widows' Society, $500; Clergy Daughters' Fund, $2,000; The Society of Pennsylvania, $5,000; and his astronomical instruments after the death of his widow he directs that $30,000 shall be paid to the Advancement Society, $10,000 to the Episcopal Hospital, and $10,000 to the Episcopal Society.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.—Petitions are being circulated for signature, to be presented to Councils, praying for the removal of the freight-trucks from Broad and Market sts., on the ground of the constant exhibitions of brutal cruelty to the animals employed in hauling trains on these streets. This is a very great evil, and the petitioners are confident that many of the teamsters is not only an offence against all our notions of humanity and civilization, but a positive nuisance to the whole extent of neighborhood through which these trucks are laid. Some efficient remedy is needed, and the present movement will help to bring about the required reform.

A NEW DODGE.—A lady complained at the Central Station this morning that an attempt had been made to swindle her out of her furs. A boy stopped at the house, and delivered a note which purported to be from the wife of the clergyman whose church she attended. This note, she said, requested the loan of her furs for a short time. The lady was somewhat suspicious, and questioned the youth. He said he had been sent by a man who had paid him seven cents to deliver the note and wait for an answer. This is a new dodge, and the individual who has inaugurated it is described as a young man, of a suspicious appearance, without a beard, and is dressed in a fine black suit and a white shawl hat.

A BIBLE STOLEN AND PAINTED FOR WHISKEY.—Charles Nelson is the name of an individual who was arraigned before Alderman Hancock, this morning, upon the charge of drunkenness. During the hearing he was identified as a person who had pawned a Bible at a tavern for whiskey. This Bible was an old relic, and had formerly belonged to the old District of Northern Liberties. It is now the property of Alderman Hancock, and had been taken from his office, but when he sent the official did not know. Nelson, not having the necessary cash to pay his fine for drunkenness, was sent to prison. A charge of larceny was not preferred against him.

THE SECOND DISTRICT REPUBLICAN DELEGATES.—The recent Republican Convention in the Second Congressional District, which elected delegates to the National Convention to be held at Chicago, unanimously adopted the following resolution: Resolved, That the delegates elected by this Convention be instructed to vote for General U. S. Grant for President, and Ex-Governor Andrew G. Curtin for Vice President, and to use their best endeavors to secure their nomination for those positions.

LECTURE ON VENTILATION.—Ventilation is the subject for the lecture this (Friday) evening, at the Franklin Institute. Mr. Leeds treats this subject in a plain, practical way, so that every one can at once understand it and apply it to his own house or office. We think there is still room for considerable improvement in the ventilation of our buildings and public conveyances, notwithstanding that Philadelphia is one of the healthiest cities in the world. The subject is of most practical importance, and the lecture of Mr. Leeds should be well attended.

JUVENILE THIEVES.—Two boys, named John Conway and Theophilus Fisher, aged respectively thirteen and fourteen years, went into a hardware store on Third street, near Vine, yesterday afternoon, got upon the counter, reached over to a shelf, and helped themselves to two packages of fine penknives. They were observed by one of the attendants, who summoned a policeman and had the juveniles arrested. Alderman Hancock committed the youths in default of $300 bail.

HANDSOME CALENDAR.—Messrs. Bryson & Co. Job Printers, in the BULLETIN Building, have just issued a Calendar Card for 1868, of a novel and beautiful design. The seasons are divided off in appropriate colors, and the arrangement of the dates is such as to be of great service to those who desire to find any particular day. The calendar will be an ornament to any counting-room.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION OF THE SIXTH LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT, in electing John G. Butler a delegate to the State Convention, instructed him unanimously to vote for no delegate to the National Convention who is not pledged to vote for the nomination of Gen. U. S. Grant for President and Andrew G. Curtin for Vice President of the United States.

A BUTTER THEIF.—A colored man named John Ross was arrested yesterday and taken before Alderman Morrow upon the charge of robbing a store of 50 pounds of butter from the Eastern Market. He was held in $1,000 bail for trial. The butter was sold to three different persons, who were arrested and were held in $500 bail to answer the charge of receiving stolen goods.

LARCENY OF BOOTS.—William Taylor was arrested yesterday by Policeman Fisher, upon the charge of robbing Alderman Massey, upon the charge of the larceny of boots from the front of the store of F. C. Hamill, at Ninth and Spring Garden streets. He was held in $500 bail to answer a court.

RESCUING A PRISONER.—A man named Charles Wolf was arrested last night, at Tenth and Calowhill streets, upon the charge of rescuing a prisoner and committing an assault and battery upon a policeman. He was sent to prison by Alderman Massey.

ROBBERY.—The second-hand store of James Spadol, in the basement at the N. W. corner of Market and Merrick streets, was entered last night, and a sufficient quantity of clothing to fill a cart was carried off.

CUBA.

The English Loan Accepted.—Some of the Havana, Feb. 27, 1868.—I have received confirmation of the news concerning the proposition of Messrs. Kobbe, Lüling & Co., of Matanzas, to Captain General Lezama. The offer has been accepted. The interest on the loan is to be at seven per cent, and the repayment of the loan is to take place within twenty years in annual installments of one million dollars. General Lezama returned that the pledge of the revenues would be sufficient collateral security. Mr. Schroeder insists on having the sanction of the Madrid government to the whole affair, as many strange events may occur within twenty years. Telegrams have been exchanged between Madrid and Havana, and the government at Madrid are apparently reluctant to submit to the terms demanded by Mr. Schroeder in relation to security for the loan. Still he has the preference over all others who have applied.—N. Y. Herald.

Suppression of the Insurrection in Yucatan. (Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.) HAVANA, Feb. 25, 1868. The practice of entering the harbor last evening. She sailed from Vera Cruz on the 18th, but brings dates only so late as the 17th. A letter from the American Consul at the last named place states that the revolution in Yucatan was suppressed; that the Tabasco had returned on the 12th to the roadstead of Vera Cruz, and that Merida was taken by Gen. Matrozo on the 31st of January. The property left Company for Merida on the 28th ult., and encountered no resistance until with a short distance of the city. They came to the people of Merida, who the company, for the first time, church and plaza, commenced to dispute the passage. After several hours firing, the forces of the Government got possession of the latter, wounding many of the opponents. The rebels, on the 1st inst., another body of the revolutionists, about 200 strong, at Uman, were surprised by General Matrozo, who, with a detachment of thirty killed and wounded, and some thirty prisoners. Alatorre, thereupon, ordered his army to Merida, expecting to have a combat with the insurgents, but before his arrival the commander had retired with his 500 soldiers to Zamaal. For his part, Col. Foster met the enemy's fleet on the 5th inst., in front of Chaviljay, and after a fight of three hours, drove them back to the sea. Gen. Alatorre was to have taken up his march for Zamaal, and it is not difficult to suppose that before this he would have been beaten and put to flight. Since he, likewise, in the power of the army of the Republic.

THE COURTS. OYER AND TERMINER.—Judges Ludlow and Brewster.—Yesterday James F. Whitby was acquitted of a charge of homicide. This morning William Wharton, colored, was put on trial, charged with the murder of William Wansley, on the 24th of November, 1867, at 516 South Seventh street. On the night in question the deceased was in the house 516 South Seventh street, in the bar room, talking to a female, when Wharton came in and commenced talking to the same woman. This incensed the deceased, and he struck Wharton who backed away and said he did not wish to fight. Wharton then went into the yard and was followed by the deceased, and then the parties got into a fight, and Wharton received a blow on the head. Nothing seemed to result from this blow, but on the 17th of December, when he died, the post-mortem discovered the fact that the brain had been injured. On trial.

A SAVANNAH MILLINER beat an old gentleman most unmercifully with a broom-stick for the offence of stepping on her dress, and after her anger was appeased, discovered it was the wrong man. The old party can't say in the adapted language of the Grand Duchesse, "I love the military."

CITY NOTICES. I WILL CUT MYSELF LOOSE FROM DRUGS. A practice breeding woe My PAIN PAINT shall not prop. Mix Paint with Drugs? Oh no! All drug stores I will drop.

PAIN PAINT shall not be sold Where Drugs and Physic's lie. Honor, instead of Gold, Forbids the marriage tie.

Let Drugs and Physic go! Black pills of the past; I've parted with the foe; Shall fight it to the last.

Let those who cling to drugs The poison swallow down, Blister with Spanish bags, Bleed, purge and vomit round.

Dumb beasts disgusted turn Their noses high in air; Brute instinct makes them spurn, Refuse it everywhere.

Shall man be lower still, Coax, force the nostrums down Between the teeth, and kill A child in every town?

Another holds the nose And pricks the jaws apart, Her child, compelled by blows, Will drink to save more smart.

The day is drawing near, God brings you to account; Such sins breed horrid fear, A long and black account.

I teach a better plan, Just read and you will see, In Chatham square you can, One hundred every one.

FAREWELL TO THE TRADE. No drug stores in future will be supplied with PAIN PAINT or Pain Annihilator except at retail prices. Therefore, after druggists have disposed of the present stock on hand, my connection with the trade virtually ends forever. Druggists will make their profits on prescriptions, and I will make mine on those who deal in drugs or counterfeits their use. I am, and have been for a long period, opposed to the absurd custom of swallowing medicine. The practice is certainly a relic of the darkest and most barbarous ages, and it is utterly at variance with the enlightenment of the nineteenth century, and what little influence I may have shall be thrown in the scale of humanity.

OFFICES will be opened at all important points, where the rich or poor alike can test the benefit derived from the application of PAIN PAINT and Pain Annihilator, free of cost, and purchase my remedies, if satisfied with results. In the meantime, those who live at a distance, who cannot avail themselves of the privilege of practically testing their merits, will be furnished at the following prices, free of express charges: Pint bottles, $1.50; quart bottles, $3.00; removing all pain of every name and nature; or half a dozen pint bottles of Annihilator for $9.00, for curing catarrh and colds in the head. PAIN PAINT cures and removes all pain, and Annihilator cures catarrh. If a loss amount is ordered the purchaser pays express charges. All orders sent on receipt of the money. Any of the following free offices will furnish it: 170 Chatham Square, New York, general depot; or 622 Arch street, Philadelphia, S. H. Haszings, Agent; or 75 Cornhill, Boston; or 33 South Pearl street, Albany; or 132 Superior street, Cleveland; or 184 Vine street, Cincinnati. Prices range from 25 cents per bottle upwards. No goods can be sent by mail.

Very truly, R. L. WORCOTT, Inventor and Sole Proprietor. S. H. HASZINGS, Agent, 622 Arch street, Philadelphia.

There was printed a few days since an article in one of our city papers, and the general notices advertisements, especially complimentary of the Northwestern Life Insurance Company, of Milwaukee, Wis. This article, had it appeared among the editorials, might have been mistaken for the actual sentiments of the editor, and the editor would have been personally responsible.

Now, in all the rhapsodies and fustian rhetoric about the Northwestern Life Insurance Company, it is not mentioned one or two important facts about the value of a policy in his company, considered in the light of the actual security of the Company's real estate and bond and mortgage investments.

Second.—The value of a policy to a wife and family if the husband was an insolvent debtor. It is generally understood among people familiar with the advantages and disadvantages of the West that Wisconsin is and has, for a great number of years, been laboring under the terrible burden of railroad mortgages. The inhabitants of the State many years ago having mortgaged nearly every foot of property in the State to a number of railroads protected, most of which were never built, but to which the courts have decreed these mortgages hold good. This fact has incited the real estate security of property in Wisconsin that no prudent or even impatient capitalist in the East would think for an instant of loaning money, at any rate of interest, in the State of Wisconsin.

The value of an insurance to the wife or family of a deceased insolvent debtor may be determined when it is stated that there is no law in the State of Wisconsin, as in New York, Massachusetts and other Eastern States, which allows a wife to sue her husband's estate for the respect of an unpaid creditor. We leave it for the reader to determine whether he will insure his life for the benefit of his family, in a Company a thousand miles to the west of us, in a longitude where every Life Insurance Company, organized thus far, has been obliged, within a few short years, to give up business, or when, as in the case of this redeemable Company, a policy would be worthless to the family unless all debts were paid.

We give the Company, and their agents here, Messrs. Mansell & Smith, the benefit of the first-class advertisement gratis, but we candidly trust that our citizens who are insured in our old, well-established, and truly imperial companies of the Atlantic cities, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, will not be induced by the representation of the assets of the Western Company. An opportunity may occur for a few shares, bearing on the experience of Western Life Insurance institutions, fire and life companies.
