

CITY BULLETIN. COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.—The annual commencement exercises of the Hahnemann Medical College of Philadelphia took place at Musical Fund Hall at noon to-day, in presence of a fair audience. A fine program was presented, and the proceedings by some excellent music. The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. Howard Malcom, D. D. The degree of Doctor of Medicine was conferred upon the following graduates: R. A. Adams, N. Y. Chas. M. Foss, Maine; R. C. Allen, Pa. Gantebien, Switzerland; J. P. Angell, M.D. Texas; Jos. M. Gerhart, Pa.; B. Franklin Botta, Pa. N. W. Keoness, Prussia; Maria Bradford, Ohio. Isaac Cooper, N. J. R. Knorrer, Prussia; J. W. Elliott, California. George Lolkos, Prussia; E. A. Farrington, A. B. Philadelphia. M. T. Middleton, N. J. R. F. Underwood, Phila. G. V. S. Wilson, M. D., Philadelphia. H. F. Pahl, A. M., Tex. Philadelphia. H. C. Parker, M. D., Tex. Philadelphia. E. L. Phillips, M. D., N. Y. O. S. Wood, M.D., Phila. Christian F. S. Pa. Geo. Wright, M. D., N. J. Scott W. Skinner, N. Y. Total, 25. A. M. Stackhouse, N. Y. Total, 25. The valedictory address was delivered by Professor O. B. Gauss, M. D. During his remarks he said: "You will ever bear witness that you were each required to evince by your attainments that you do not bestow them as a gift, but as a prize fairly won by each of you, and with it we commend you to the confidence and patronage of any community wherein you may locate. We confidently assure the public that you have each attained to such knowledge and proficiency in the several arts and sciences which combined, make up a finished medical education, that you may safely be entrusted with the care of the sick, the maimed, the subjects of accidents, or such as may require for their restoration the removal of diseased growths. "There are many subjects upon which you are yet uninform. You have not yet to enter upon a thorough course of study of those collateral subjects which do not enter into a medical course. You should take care, during these years, to look carefully into the misty lore of past ages, and study the steps by which our literature has reached its present richness and ripeness. A thorough knowledge of past errors makes us wise to avoid future ones. You should acquire a general knowledge of the application of chemistry to the various useful arts and manufactures, in order to estimate when, and to what extent, it becomes a procurring cause of disease, and which is important to the physician. You cannot safely neglect to study the characteristic influence of climate, as a procurring cause of disease, or a promoter of health. Also you should be especially advised to advise your patients how to select homes where they will inspire health from every breeze, and find strength in every plant. You must study nature's pharmacy, and learn that she furnishes a balm for the healing of many mortal maladies. Sometimes she distils the healing draught in her own bosom, and pours it forth in crystal springs. Again she slides the antidote to pain in the roots of shrubs and plants, or folds it in the odoriferous flower that pleases the eye as it blooms in beauty by the pathway of the pilgrim. The medicinal mineral is the work of a life-time, but you should enter upon it, and gather all you can during the leisure of opening practice, when your body is not wearied, and your mind harassed by the toils and anxiety incident to, and inseparable from, a large practice. "The audience was then dismissed with a benediction. A SWINDLER.—Our readers were warned some time ago of a rather clever impostor who had been victimizing a number of persons of the Catholic persuasion, by pretending to be a sick student of the Seminary of St. Charles Borromeo, in this city. From his new mode of "raising the wind," and his entirely altered appearance, it is evident that he had the description of a "cat-in-the-hat." Instead of the cleanly-shaved face, and the hair clerically and carefully combed behind the ears, he now sports a monstrous and side whiskers, and has carefully cut and polished a "Dundreary." His occupation, too, is entirely altered. He announces himself as an A. M. of the University of All Hallows' College, Dublin, and a teacher of the French and German languages. None of the Irish Catholic colleges, not excepting All Hallows, have been permitted by the English Government to grant degrees or academic honors of any kind. "THE FIRE-PLUGS.—Very many of the fire-plugs throughout the city are covered up with snow. This is all wrong; everybody understands the importance of getting to work quickly on the occasion of a conflagration, and searching for fire-plugs in snow-banks, and digging them out from icy surroundings after they are needed, do not greatly facilitate quick work. We presume that it is the duty of somebody to attend to this business, and the safety of the community demands that somebody should do it. "THE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The stated meeting of the Philadelphia Society for Promoting Agriculture was held this morning at the rooms No. 702 Walnut street. After the transaction of the usual business, R. McClure, V. S., read a paper on the question "Are Live Stock Insurance Companies beneficial to the community?" and a general discussion on the subject ensued among the members. "STOLEN CASSIMERE.—A youth named George White was arrested yesterday at Hancock and Otter streets, on suspicion of having stolen two pieces of cassimere which he had in his possession. He subsequently acknowledged that he had stolen the goods. The cassimere awaits an owner at the Tenth District Police Station. White was committed by Alderman Shoemaker. "BELLIGERENT FEMALES.—Two women, named Jane Howard and Margaret Parker, were before Alderman Heins this morning upon the charge of malicious mischief. They got drunk yesterday, went to a large bar saloon on Chestnut and Norris streets, smashed the windows with paving-stones and railed a general muss. They were held in $500 bail. "CHARGED WITH ROBBERY.—Bernard Shannon, aged 18 years, and Wm. McNeill, aged 15 years, were arrested yesterday and taken before Ald. Jones upon the charge of having been concerned in the recent robbery of the second-class baggage car of John Spadol, at Sixteenth and Market streets. They were committed in default of $1,500 bail to answer in court. They accused have been in the hands of the police before, on the charge of robbing railway cars. "STEALING MILK.—A man named Thomas Kelly was arrested yesterday at Germantown avenue and Thompson streets, upon the charge of having stolen a can of milk from the North Pennsylvania Railroad depot. He was taken before Ald. Davlin, and was held in $500 to answer at court. "LABORER.—Lawrence Nugent was before Alderman Swift this morning, upon the charge of larceny. It is alleged that he broke into and robbed a candy stand. He was held for a further hearing. There are said to be other charges against him. "PASSENGER RAILWAY ACCIDENT.—Jos. Heath, residing at Forty-first and Market streets, in jumping from the platform of a Market street car, in front of his house, on Monday evening, slipped on the ice and fell. He had a leg broken. "PUNISH CRUEL.—The regular meeting of the Press Club of Philadelphia for general debate will be held this afternoon, at the rooms No. 515 Chestnut street. There will no doubt be an interesting discussion. "STILL COLD.—The weather still continues very cold. This morning at four o'clock the thermometer marked four degrees above zero. At seven o'clock the mercury stood at six degrees. "FROZEN TO DEATH.—Last night an unknown man was found dead on a lot off of the Ridge road, near Laurel Hill Cemetery. He had been frozen to death.

A GOOD ARRANGEMENT.—In view of the bad condition of the streets, the Hibernia and Hope Steam Fire engine companies have made arrangements for the prompt conveyance of their apparatus to fires in their district—a district in which so much valuable property is located. On the occurrence of fire, the horses of the Hibernia are despatched to the house of the Hope, and with the aid of the team of the latter engine is drawn to the fire. The members of the Hope turn their muscle in the direction of the Hibernia, and they drag their reel of forcing hose to the fire. These companies are of great importance, as they are quartered among the heaviest stores and warehouses in the city. "WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT, see it stride, Over mountain walls wide, It is spreading left and right, Like a giant in his might. Opposition down will tread, Breaking cobwebs that they spread, Pills and Physic overture, Common sense the great concern. Envy hisses in her lar, Bloodshot eyes that vacant stare, Wolcott's PAIN PAINT all round. Pills and plasters you lay by, Wolcott's Pain Paint once you try; Pain removed without delay, Suits the people, so they say. Henceforward no drug store will be supplied with Pain Paint or Pain Annihilator. It would be ineconomical to divide my profits with those who deal in drugs, or who countenance their sale. Real offices will be established at all important centers, where all can test my remedies free of cost, or purchase them when they see how indispensable they are to all who suffer. Orders filled on receipt of money. Half a dozen Annihilator for Catarrh or Colds in the Head, $6; or one Pint Pain Paint for curing all kinds of pain, $5; sent free of express charge. Less amount ordered at purchaser's expense. R. L. Wolcott, 170 Chatham Square, New York. Branch Office, 622 Arch street, Philadelphia. "THE COURTS. Nisi Prius.—Chief Justice Thompson.—Forst Brothers & Co. vs. The Camden and Amboy Railroad Company. Before reported. Verdict for plaintiffs for $2,804. John H. Gillmore vs. Jas. Rusk. This was an action brought to recover damages for injuries sustained by plaintiff on the 31st Dec. 1867. The occasion was New Year's Eve, and the defendant alleges that while in a restaurant at the southwest corner of Second and Pine, conversing with some friends, the defendant came to the door, and pointed a gun inside and discharged it. The contents entered the leg of Mr. Gillmore, inflicting a severe wound, from which he suffered for several months, and from which he has not yet fully recovered. The jury found in favor of plaintiff, and awarded him $5,000. John Sweeney was charged with assault and battery upon his child. The boy was found applying for protection at a station-house, and was represented that his father whipped him with a cowhide. The father denied this story, and produced two females, who testified that the boy was vicious, and his father whipped him as a punishment for stealing. Verdict not guilty. John Burns was charged with assault and battery, with intent to kill Officer Kendig. Burns pleaded guilty to the assault and battery, and not to the charge of intent to kill. He was tried on the latter count. Officer Kendig had a warrant for the arrest of Burns on a charge of horse-stealing, when Burns threw a brick at him, and struck the officer, cutting his leg. Mr. Kendig could not tell whether a knife or ring was used in inflicting the wound. Burns denied using any instrument, but admitted that he did use his fist. Verdict not guilty on the second count. "The Solar Eclipse This Year. The eclipse of the sun on the 18th of August next, will be total in India, and thither, accordingly, the astronomers of the world will flock to make their observations of the phenomenon. M. Leverrier has read a paper on this subject before the French Academy of Sciences. He says the line of the central eclipse will pass through Aden, then enter India by Kalyan, a little below Goa, cross the whole continent from West to East, and quit it near Masulipatam. It will then traverse the Gulf of Bengal, pass north of the Andaman Islands, cross the north-east part of the Peninsula of Malacca, the Gulf of Siam, the point of Cambodia, the north of Borneo and the Celebes, and lastly, skirt the coast of New Guinea. The work will last very long, and more than six minutes, and varying by a few seconds according to the localities. This long duration is owing to the circumstance that, while the moon will be in its perigee, and therefore, have a large apparent diameter, the sun will be in its apogee, and will therefore have a very small apparent diameter. Aden is not a convenient station, the sun being too near the horizon; but British astronomers have the choice of excellent stations, and are already making preparations. M. Leverrier remarked that, in regard to France, the point of Cambodia, which lies within the French territory of Saigon, ought to be selected for the observation of the eclipse; that the station for the purpose ought to be prepared forthwith, and its latitude and longitude determined; the elements deduced from the eclipse itself being useful to correct the longitude in question, and to determine the diameter of the sun. "Patriotism of General Cass. In December, 1860, General Cass wrote to General Canby, then Secretary of War, Washington, to ask him to impress upon the President the immediate garrisoning of Fort Montreir, and the adoption of other prompt measures to check the rebellion. The Secretary of War, General Cass replied in the following letter, which has just recently appeared in print: "My Dear Sir: I received, some days since, your truly patriotic letter, and showed it to the President. He fully appreciated your pure motives, but, as you will have seen, does not concur with you as to the measures to be taken. We have indeed fallen upon evil times. The pillars of our glorious temple are shaking. Whether they are to be overthrown, and with them the noblest and freest Government ever given to man, God alone knows. While my gloomy apprehensions predominate, I have yet some hope that the same kind Providence which has so often saved us from anarchy, will yet interpose for our rescue, as you will have seen. I part from J. Buchanan and the Administration with the saddest feelings, but the course of measures which I considered necessary did not appear to them to be called for, and I was unwilling to remain and share in the responsibility which did not belong to me, and now, my friend, farewell. You have been a gallant soldier, and by your noble deeds have inscribed your name upon the rolls of your country. "May the evening of your days be without a cloud, though I fear they will not be. I am, dear sir, truly yours, LEWIS CASS.

FOR REFRRESHMENTS, etc., as to place it within the power of Hutchings and Lamson to sell portions of the land to persons who would do this." "CITY NOTICES. THE REASON WHY MISHLE'S HERR BITTERS cures so many different diseases, is because it is the best remedy for a deranged stomach, or Dyspepsia, now known, and because it invigorates the entire system, strengthens the nervous fibres, elevates the standard of all the vital forces, and sustains a most healthful tone of the entire human organism. Medicine that will do this, will cure any disease, for the simple reason, that Nature will do it, and she is never wrong. We guarantee, that no woman or child, however pale and emaciated, can use these Bitters regularly five or six days, without the most happy and healthy change and fair complexion characteristic of good health.
