INORNDIARISM-The alarm of fire shortly after ten o'clock last night was caused by the burning of a bed in a house No. 729 St. Mary street. The building is owned by Sarah McCann, and is ocscupled by several colored families. The second story front was occupied by, William Hamman, colored, who has had living with him for some time an Irichwoman named Annie O'Neill. Lately, Annie has been very dissipated and quarrelsome. During yesterday afternoon and last evening several wars of words occurred between ber and Hamman, and about nine e'clock a policeman was called in to put a stop to the strife. Hamman went out for a few minutes, and during his absence his straw bed was placed across a hot stove. It took fire, and the house was soon filled with smoke. Some of the inmates broke open a window, and threw the burning bed into the yard, thus preventing any further damage. Some excited individual gave an alarm by telegraph, however, and the whole Fire Department was called out. Ham-man was arrested by the Fifth District Police, but Fire Marshal Blackburn, upon investigation, is satisfied that he did not cause the fire. Annie furnish in future his remedies to the druggists. denied both to Mitchell and Lyles, but in the I am supplying all druggists at the same prices as usual, and as fast as I can manufacture. R. L. ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 24, 1868 .- J. F. Hoy Agent for WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT-Dear Sir:-In justice to Dr. R. L. WOLCOTT's great discovery of PAIN PAINT, for the relief of all kinds of pain instantly, permit me to add my certificate of its wonderful cure and instant relief. I have been suffering from pain in my back for some time, and applied many remedies for its relief, but found none to do me any good. I tried but one application of Pain Paint, and it relieved me instantly, and I have not felt the pain since. I take pleasure in recommending it to all who suffer, and would suggest the propriety of the medical profession adopting it in their practice. Yours, respectfully, D. VAN WART, M. D. THE STORM AND WRECKS .--- The heavy storms and high winds along the New Jersey coast, this week, were felt the most severely of any that have prevailed the present winter, and were attended with greater loss. On Monday the schooner Lottie Clotts, under the command of Capt. T. Endlcott, was driven ashore on Peck's Beach, about ten miles below Atlantic City.

crew, however, safely reached the shore, with-out accident. The vessel was loaded with sugar, most of which will be saved, but the schooner, it is thought, will prove a complete wreck. About the same time another schooner, named George T. Thorn, Capt. Town-send, was grounded on the same beach. This vessel was loaded with corn and cotton seed, and pretty much all of her cargo will be saved. The crew escaned any accident. It is believed that this schooner will be got off. About twenty miles below Atlantic City, on Ludley's Beach, another, two-masted, schooner was wrecked on Tuesday, but no particulars have been ascer-tained. The weather was intensely cold, but Japhet Townsend, the wreck master of the coast, immediately went to their relief, and suc-ceeded in saving most of the cargoes of the two wrecks on Peck's Beach. DESTITUTE .- The cold weather of the past few days has been more severely felt by the destitute than at any time this winter in Camden. Coal, provisions and clothing are needed more exten-sively, and the committee appointed to attend to such matters have been very busy in distributing the various articles sent to them by the philanthropists.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT .- The evening train of the Camden and Burlington County Railroad, which left Camden at 4.30 yesterday, ran over a flagman a short distance above the depot, and crushed hi legs in such a shocking manner that amputation of both limbs will be necessary.

THE SCAFFOLD.

Execution of a Negro Woman in Maryland-She Confesses to Burying her Victim Alive. On Friday, the 28th of February, Lucy Purnell, negress, was executed at Snow Hill, Maryland, for the murder of Hanson Robbins. The scatfold was crected in an open field. The prisoner shook hands with all those admitted to the scaf shook hands with all those admitted to the scaf-fold. She expressed herself as loving everybody, and, having made her peace with God, was ready and anxious to go home to Him. While the clergyman was addressing the crowd in her be-half her eyes lit up with a wild un-earthly excitement, and she was rock-ing herself back and forth, clapping her hands and working her lips. So soon as he was done she burst forth in the following manner: "Yes, I have got the grace of God in my soul. I don't fear to die. I am going to my God. I am going home to glory. I am going to a house not made with hands. I shall live for-ever. I have just found out how to live. I'm go-

God. I am going home to glory. I am going to a house not made with hands. I shall live for-ever. I have just found out how to live. I'm go-ing home. There is no mistake about it." After conversing with several friends she exclaimed, "I am going to live with God forever. I am going home to live with God. I am only going to die a little spiritual death here." Then, with great fervor, "Turn sinners, turn. I have turned. I die now one time, and never no more. I am just going to church." As the visitors left the scaf-fold she commenced shouting, exclaiming all the time, over and over, that she was "ready to go," that "she was going to God," Acc. Then sitting down she said, "This is good old Friday, my best day. I prayed God last night that it should not rain or snow, and He has answered my prayer. I am going home to glory. Don't shed a tear over my grave. Farewell to this sinful world. I'm turned from sin to grace. This death won't be any more than a horse-fly blte." She died with but little apparent suffering. Be-tore the body was placed in the cofiln the crowd became highly excited, and in defiance of the guards rushed over the barriers ', to the body. It was finally carried off the grounds. CONTE-STON.

BOARDING HOUSE THIEF .- James Barnes halls from Cleveland. Yesterday he went to the house of David Colgan, at Eighth and Morris streets, and engaged lodgings. This morning he left at an early hour, and about the same time a pair of pants belonging to Mr. Colgan mysteriously dis-appeared. Barnes was afterwards arrested at Eighth and Wallace streets, and after a hearing before Alderman Massey, was held in $800 bail to auswer at Conrt. answer at Court.

FOND OF OYSTERS -An individual named Win. Watson, who has a weakness for good bivalves, backed a wagon on to Spruce Street Wharf, and without the fear of the law, or anything else, loaded his wagon with one thousand oysters and drove off. The owner was not disposed to part with his property upon such unfavorable terms, and pursued Watson, who was soon arrested. The alleged thief was taken before Alderman Morrow, and was held in $800 bail for trial.

RECEIVING STOLEN GOODS .-- Christopher Bridge, aged 70 years, whose place is at No. 2303 Vine street, was before Alderman Pancoast yesterday, upon the charge of receiving stolen goods. Some copper kettles and other articles, which had been stolen, were purchased by Bridge. He denied having the articles, but they were found on his premises. The accused was held in $500 bail for

She then struck him a second time while he was lying pros-trate. That seeing he was worse hurt than she intended, she struck no more. At this stage of the tragedy her daughters woke up, and the three took the body across the road and laid it down. The deceased was then alive, as indicated by his groans. She bade her daughters go back to the house, dug a hole herself and placed the body in it alive! Having covered it with diff; she placed shavings on top to conceal the place of burlal. After placing the shavings on the newly made grave she heard the most unearthly groans proceeding from the burie! man. Conscience stricken, she turned and fied from the scene of her horrible crime. She seemed, however, to be drawn to the spot by some terri-ble fascination, and sometime afterwards dis-covered in one of her visits past the grave that the hogs had rooted up part of the skel-eton, which she carefully reinterred. Again she discovered that a hog had scratched up the skull and carried it into an adjoining field. This she took with her, and, making a circuit around the field, buried it in the woods under a cedar tree. cedar tree.
