A grand civic and military procession, composed of several regiments of the Maryland National Guard. the police force of the city, the Fire Department, and many civic associations, numbering in all about 7,000 men, and headed by Governor Swann, the Mayor and City Council and all municipal officers, passed through the principal streets of the city, presenting one of the finest displays ever witnessed here. Public and private buildings are handsomely decorated with the national olors. German flags, and banners of every description, while the streets are enlivened by crowds of people to witness the turnout. While the procession was moving the church bells chimed. The different Express companies brought up the rear with wagons leaded with freight brought over by the steamer Baltimore.
