OITY BULLETIN.

DARING HIGHWAY ROBBERY .- Yesterday afternoon, while an elderly lady was passing along Arch street, above Fourth, she was run against and knocked down by an individual, who immediately seized her satchel, containing $40 and two pair of spectacles, and disappeared. The daring thief entered a store, passed through into the yard, and then jumped fences into adjoining yards. In the yard of Rosenbaum's fur store he stock the stellar setchel in an ten hugher and conleft the stolen satchel in an iron bucket and continued to scale fences. Finally he entered the back door of a store, and exclaiming, "Did you see anything of my dog!" passed through, turriedly, to Arch street. By this time a crowd had collected, but as all the excitement was some distance below the store from which the thief got upon the street again, he quietly walked off, and escaped. The lady went away without stating her name, and she is requested to call at Mr. Rosenbaum's store and get her property.

PICKING POCKETS AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC. -A man who gave his name as James Haggerty was arrested last night at the Academy of Music by Policeman Smith, of the Fifth District. At by Policeman Smith, of the Fifth District. At the time he was attempting to pick the pocket of William Seefelt, residing at No. 731 Race street. After the arrest Mr. Seefelt discovered that he had lost his watch. Mr. Thomas McDowell, who last list watch in the same building on Saturday evening last, recognized the prisoner as a man who had been in close proximity to him several times during the evening. He was also identified as the man who was arrested sometime since for picking pockets in an auction store at Second and Buttonwood streets, and then gave the name of Henry Benton. The prisoner will have a hearing this afternoon at the Central Station.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY .- A negro woman named Lizzie Truitt was arrested yesterday and taken before Alderman Patchet on the charge of robbery. A few nights ago a man was enticed into a house in the resr of No. 718 Cullen, atreet by three women. While there he was relieved of $141. Lizzie Truitt is charged with having been one of the women who are supposed to have committed the robbery. She was sent to prison to await a further hearing.

REMOVING WHISKY .- This morning about halfpast three o'clock, two men, named Samuel Gilbert and Wm. Ovens, were arrested by the Fifteenth Ward police, for removing a barrel of whisky from a rectifying establishment on Coates street, near Twenty-fourth, contrary to the revenue laws. They had a horse and wagon, which was also selzed. The accused were held for a hearing before a U. S. Commissioner.

FIRES.-Last evening, about eight o'clock, an alarm of fire was caused by the burning of some clothing in the third story of the house of Mrs. Rodgers, on Tenth street, above Carpenter. The flames originated from a lamp. About 12 o'clock last night a fire was discovered in a house at Russell and Benneville streets, oc-cupied by colored people. The flames were ex-tinguished before they had gained much head-

Ad Interim Thomas's Friend from Deluware. Tva Wilmington Commercial of yesterday contains the following extract from the Washington Republican, with

The Wilmington Commercial of yesterday contains the following extract from the Washington Republican, with the subjoined comment:

"THE fureaciment witnesses, sestorday at the Capitol, summoned to testify on behalf of the Managers, was one George D. Karner. Karsner is the party who engaged Adjutant General Thomas in conversation at a reception at the White House a few weeks since, and about which the latter was summoned before the Impeachment Committee. The conversation was in relation to Secretary Stanton, a detail of which was first furnished to the country through the columns of the Republican. Mr. Karsner, at the time, introduced himself to General Thomas as an old friend and neighbor, claiming New Castle, Delaware, as the place honored by his birth, and spoke of many matters happoning in years past, which were all duly romean beered by the veteran General. The conversation, as heretofore given, was then elicited.

"General Thomas now states that Karsner is and was a spy; that he is a low drunken fellow, and of no reputation. He was born in St. George's, Delaware, cremoving at an early age to Delaware city, where between keeping a one hores grocery, and annoying his n-ighbors by petty lawedith, he managed to live along. The General further says that he never, te his recollection, saw Karsner but once—in 1637, when both sitended a ball at St. George's, Karsner becoming disgracefully drunk.

"Yesterday General Thomas was in attendance at the Capitol, ready to appear befere the High Court as a witness and he then met his Delawarean friend, whe did not or would not observe him. The General's suspicions were aroused; and after some exitation formed the conclusion in reference te Karsner that we have here given."—Washington Republican.

We should hesitate to republish a libel so gross as the above, even for the purpose of contradicting it, if it were not that the utter fasisty of the charges contained in it make it rather amusing than otherwise to those acquainted with the circumstances which leak to his being su in that regiment during its short term of service at Fort Delaware.

Mr. Karrner, while in Washington recently, did meet General Thomas at the President's levee, and jacosely advised the old gentieman to "sitck," or something to that effect, when the garruleus "ad interim" immediately, then and there, unbosomed himself to him and told him his plans for getting possession of the coveted prize—the War Department. Mr. K. enjoyed the affair as a joke, but esme one having overheard and reperted the conversation, he was summonsed as a witness before the mannagers, and much to his anneyance retained as a witness. This is the sum and substance of the whole affair, and General Thomas's railing, and totally untrue and irrelevant accusations, only serve to show what a scolding eld woman his recent trouble and excitement have made of him.

Reconciliation of Generals Grant and Butler, A Washington despatch says: It is understood that the difficulty between General Buttler and General Grant has at last been amicably settled. The friends of both parties have been engaged for some time past in a sort of diplomatic correspondence with a view of bringing them togetter. The chief actor in this business was Georgo Wilks, who has been here for some weeks, cateaelbly as a spectator of the impeachment trial, but really as a nor gottator between Grant and Butter.

The inter's resemment against Grant has been very bitter. He could not well forget his pungent criticism on his military services when he altuded to him in his report as being bottled up at Bernuda stundred. After this had heen satisfactorily explained away Buttler said Grant had insulted him by ronding him an invitation to his reception after having said to the country that he was bottled up. This also was fully explained, and Butter at last consented to smoke the pipe of peace.

CITY NOTICES.

Ben. Butler's opening speech was a most long-winded exhibition, a good deal like the opening of the spring trade in our mercantile cities. If we were going to have an impeachment trial, an oyster supper, or anything of that sort, we would prefer a culcker and more showy opening than Ben makes. The opening of the spring styles of Clothing at Chas. Stokes & Co.'s first-class Clothing House, under the "Continental," is more like an opening, to our notion. Dried Bref, Tongues, &c., &c.,

American Manufacturers of Silver-Ware.

From the London Art Journal, November, 1867. "This page contains engravings of three Tea Services, and other objects in silver, manufactured by Measta. Therany & Co., of New York. They are all designed and executed by American artists, and are not surpassed by any articles of the kind in the Exhibition. The designs are of the best order, introducing neither too much nor too little ornament, while they all bear evidence of good workmanship. The establishment of Mesers. TIFFANN is the largest in the New World; it is of great importance, therefore, that they should minister to pure taste in America; they are doing so, if we may judge from their contribution. Our only regret is that they have not sent more. It is, however, something to show what America is producing and estimating. These lavibility hold their is producing and estimating. These 'exhibits' hold their own beside the best of England and France." From the "Reports of Artisans selected by a Committee appointed by the Council of the British Society of Arts to visit the Paris Universal Exposition, 1887. "Tiffany & Co., of New York, have but a very small case of silver goods, but the articles exhibited are of very superior class. The coffee services and water juge ornamented in flat chasing are very beautiful both in outline and workmanship; some of the articles are nearly if not quite equal to repoussé."

1b. (Page 283.) "On Design."

"TIFFANY & Co. show a few excellent tea-sets, &c., both as to form and decoration; the flat chasing described in the catalogue as repoussé being especially notoworthy. It is carried out to the fullest extent. Nothing equal to it in either French or English departments. "One of the pieces has a band of chasing—griffins and foliage; the drawing exceedingly good. Altogether they are lessons in the art of decorating utility."

Ib. (Page 208.) "Remarks."
"The United States show of silver work is very limited. Although they cannot boast of quantity, they may fairly boast of quality. The forms of the various articles oxhibited are well considered. While the decorations are beautifully designed, and carried out with patient care the judgment with which the different 'mats' are used is deserving of great praise, and demonstrates the extent to which the process of flat chasing may be carried. Com pared with works of a similar kind exhibited by other countries they seem to be perfect of their class, having no rivals. While other exhibits rest principally upor rare and costly works, elaborated to the highest de this little display of the Americans rests upon hu work, proving that ordinary articles may be exalted and invested with a dignity that will entitle them to rank with the proudest achievements of industrial art." mb3i-tu th a 6trp5
