Thomas having failed, for want of brains and moral courage, to out Secretary Stanton, Mr. Johnson pre-tends to turn on him, and charges him with being so over-elated with his promotion as to have lost what little sense he may have had, and to have exceeded his authority in at-tempting to eject Stanton by force. Yet he gives the lie to these professions by con-tinuing to admit him, in all his "fuss and feathers," to the Cabinet meetings, and gives no sign of disapproval, unless, by some after-thought of his coursel, he may have done so, by way of making capital for his defence. Mr. Curtisthen proceeded to show which the feeling and intention of both houses of Congress was in the fram-ing and passage of this bill, maintaining that they were in accord with the views he had just expressed. He quoted from speeches explaining the report of the Com-mittee of Conference, made by Mr. Schonck, and also from the speeches of Senators Chernian, Williams and others in the Senate, in which they denied that either the purpose or offect of the Uill was to keep Stanton in office. He rend these, not as express-tions of the roport of the Committee of Conference. Returning to the consideration of the articles, he said: The 6th section forbids any removal conference.
