A MAUNIFICENT STORE .- One of the most note worthy and important of the changes which have worthy and important of the changes which have recently taken place upon Chestnut street, is the removal of the well-known business establishment of Messrs. Reeve L. Knight & Son ferrin No. 807 to the magnificent marble palace No. 1222 Chestnut street. The present business was founded half a century ago in Second street, and in 1840 was removed in accordance with the popular demand, to what was then "up-town," but after nearly thirty years, the growth of the city and the westward flow of the tide of business, has necessitated another change, and this time the cnormous increase of the custom of the establishment has induced Messrs. Knight & Son to take a stride in advance of their most progressive rivais. in advance of their most progressive rivals. The store into which they have transferred their The store into which they have transferred their business is one of the most superb in the city. It extends from Chestnut street to Sansom street, having a depth of two hundred and forty feet, with a width of thirty feet. The front is of pure white marble, of chaste and beautiful design. The building is divided into three principal sales-rooms, each of which is ornamented by massive chandellers of graceful and elegent design. The immense room upon the ground floor is devoted to the exposition and sale of caroets of all qualiimmense room upon the ground moor is devoted to the exposition and sale of carpets of all qualities and grades, but the very finest. The second moor contains the cream of the whole stock. Here are exhibited the velvet, Wilton and Axminster carpets of the most exquisite patterns, and of the most beautiful toxyture and false. In Axminister carpets of the most exquisite patterns, and of the most beautiful texture and fabric. In the basement are exposed for sale oil cloths, mats, druggets and the less costly goods belonging to this business. Of all these varieties Messrs. Knight and Son have an immense and constantly increasing stock. They have directly from the increasing stock. They buy directly from the manufacturers, and are enabled to offer inducements to customers not possible with houses that purchase from second hands. In their store can be found every variety of floor-covering, from the cheapest rag carpet up to the most superb fabric that ever came from a Persian loom. In the way of druggets their loom. In the way of druggets their assortment is unrivalled, and they believe they offer wider variety of style than any other house. Their line of oil cloths includes new and beautiful designs—some of them Brussels carpet patterns, and most of them not pro-curable elsewhere. And so it is throughout. With their large assortment, their largely increased facilities for transacting business, their disposition to sustain and add to the enviable redualing, Messrs. Knight & Son bid fair even to improve upon the past, and to win that enduring success to which their enterprise in thus adding to the beauty of the city and to its mercantile re-pulation, fairly entities them.

HOLY WEEK .- The most solemn period in the Fast of Lent has arrived. To-day is Holy Thursday, and the services in the Catholic and some of the Protestant churches are more than usually impressive. In the Catholic churches there was but one Mass said this morning, which was that of the Holy Eucharist. At the Cathedral, which was densely crowded, most of the clergy of the other churches were present, when Pontifical Mass was celebrated by the Bishop, beginning at 1014 o'clock, after which the solemn procession of the Blessed Sacrament to the Repository tool place. The Repository was brilliantly illuminated and decorated with flowers. After the ringing of the bells at the Mass to-day, they remain silent until Saturday. The Blessed Sacrament is removed from the main altar, which is ment is removed from the main after, which is also divested of all ornament.

To-morrow being Good Friday, the services are extremely solemn. Prayers are offered for all mankind, and clergy and laity offer veneration to the cross, after which the Sacred Host is brought from the Repository to the altar, and the service is concluded by the officiating priest departedly receiving the Higher vertical that was on. voutedly receiving the Divine victim that was on that day slain. On Saturday the ornaments are returned to the altar, and a new fire is blessed to illuminate them. On Sunday (Easter) the servi-ces are of the most imposing character, and esces are of the most imposing character, and especial attention is paid to the music. At the Cathedral, the fine choir, led by Prof. M. H. Cross, will be accompanied by the Germania Orchestra, Mozart's Te Deum and Zingarelli's Laudate Pueri Dominum will be and Zingarell's Laucate Parts Dominam with sung, together with Haydn's Mass No. 6, in B flat major. At St. Augustine's Kalliwoda's Mass will be sung; at St. Mary's, Mozart's No. 12; at St. Joseph's, Haydn's Mass No. 3; at St. Patrick's the same; at St. Peter's, Haydn's No. 1; at St. Michael's, Weber's Mass in G; at the Anunciation, Mereadante's No. 2; at St. Francis's, Farmer's Mass; at St. James's, West Philadelphia, Mozart's No. 12; at St. Agatha's, West Philadelphia, Mozart's No. 12; at St. Agatha's No. 12; at St. Agatha' phia, Millard's Mass in G.

BURGLAR CAPTURED .- This morning, about 3 o'clock, the door of the tailor store of Henry C. Vesey, No. 234 South Tenth street, was forced open. About that time Policeman Mouille, of the Fifth District, was taking a drunken man home. His attention was called to three men who had been acting in a suspicious manner. He observed these men standing in front of Mr. Vesey's store, and upon approaching them two ran away. The third man walked leisurely down Tenth street and passed late an alley, where he laid a jimmy upon the sidewalk. He then ran through the alley. Mouille, who had been following him, sprang his rattle and gave chase. The fugitive ran into the arms of Policemen Steele and Berger, who had been attracted to the alley by the rattle. The prisoner gave his name as George Bennett, but he is known to the police as Cockey Butler. He is an old convict, and has served several terms on the charge of burglary. He will have a hear-ing at the Central Station this afternoon.

ROBBERY AT THE NAVY YARD .- Captain John De Camp, U. S. N., commanding the receiving ship Constellation, lying at the Navy Yard, was robbed of a valuable chronometer watch and $400 on Tuesday. A young Chinaman, named Ping Yleg, who had been employed by Captain De Camp as a waiter, was missing, and he was suspected of having committed the robbery. Information was lodged at the detectives' office, and mation was lodged at the detectives office, and telegrams were sent to several places where it was supposed that Ping Ying might go. His mother resides in Harrisburg, and he was arrested as he was leaving the cars in that city. The watch and most of the stolen money were recovered. The prisoner was brought to this city this morning, and was taken to the Navy Yard.

MR. A. D'HUTVETTER'S SALE OF HIGH CLASS Pictures was commenced list evening, by B. Scott, Jr., at his Art Gallery, 1020 Chestnut street. The attendance was quite large, but the prices realized were very low. About 75 pictures were sold. The balance will be disposed of this evening at quarter before 8 o'clock, when many fine specimens will be offered. We advise all who wish to obtain a good picture to attend this sale, as it will probably be the last collection that Mr. D'Huyvetter will offer in this city for some

NEW BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS.—As the building season is now at hand, those intending to build New Bullding improvements.

Ing season is now at hand, those intending to build should use great care that their houses have every convenience for comfort, and health, and one of the most important of these is to have a good cooking range; for a range that will not bake well is useless and expensive, and there are many such. In strolling along Market street we had occasion to call in the extensive heater and range establishment of Mr. John S. Chark, 1008 Market street, and any person that could not be suited with his line of ranges must, indeed, be hard to please. His Gold Modal Range, in particular, is well worth one's time to examine it, as we believe it has no equal in the history of ranges. It not only bakes well, but will hear two or three froms comfortably. We cordially recommend all our patrons to call and see this range in tull operation before purchasing, No. 1008 Market street, above Tenth, south side.

That official employed them to equip his treops as well as to furnish and decorate his palaces, and has found their charges too heavy, and has withdrawn his gustom. It holds good with Frenchmen, as with other people, that a good article at fair charges is the only surety of a continuance of custom. From the London Art Journal, November, 1867. "This page contains engravings of three Tea Services and other objects in silver, manufactured by Messra Tiffany & Co., of New York. They are all designed an BALTIMORE FAMILY FLOUR executed by American artists, and are not surpassed by any articles of the kind in the Exhibition. The design re of the best order, introducing neither too much nor too little ornament, while they all hear evidence of good workmanship. The establishment of Messra, Tiplany is the largest in the New World; it is of great importance, therefore, that they should minister to pure taste in America; they are doing so, if we may judge from their contribution. Our only regret is that they have not sent more. It is, however, comething to show what America is producing and estimating. These 'exhibits' hold their own beside the best of England and France."
