WEST JERSEY RAILROAD .- The West Jersey and Millville and Glassioro Railroad Companies are now in complete operation under the provi-sions of the new law consolidating the two roads. Under the new management many advantageous improvements have already been commenced, improvements have already been commenced, and will be followed by others contributing no less to the interest of the company and the public at large. At the joint meeting in Camden twenty directors were elected, as follows: Edwin A. Stevens, John P. Stockton, John G. and Richard F. Stevens, John L. McKnight, Samuel J. Bayard, A. W. Mackley. Samuel A. Whitney, Thomas Jones Yorke, Geo. M. Ward, Horatie J. Mulford, Charles E. Elmer, C. F. Leaming, Richard D. Wood, Thomas H. Whitney, George Wood, Lewis Mulford, I. B. Mulford, F. F. Sharp, John McNeal. The Board of Directors organized by the election of Hon. Thomas Jones Yorke, President, and George J. Robbins, Esq., Sceretary and Treasurer. Under this management these consolidated roads will enter upon a new career of usefulness and prosperity uaprecedented in the history of railroads in South Jersey.

THE NEW CITY HALL.—The proposition to erect a new City Hall in Camden is creating conciderable discussion. The committee of council to whom the matter was referred having reported in favor of its erection, and the people, as a general thing, having expressed a willingness in securing such a much-needed improvement, it is thought that definite measures will be taken towards commencing it during the present season. Opposition is raised to it, however, on the ground that it will increase the indebtedness of the city about $75,000, which, being already over $200,000, will inflict a burden of taxation on the citizens which they are illy prepared to meet. This is denied by the friends of the measure, and the denied by the intends of the measure, and the probability is that arrangements will be adopted by which the new hall will be built at a very slight increase of the rate of taxation. Camded needs such a hall, and every consideration of progress and public interest demands it.

POULTRY THIEVES AT WORK.—During the past few weeks farmers residing in close proximity to Camden have been greatly annoyed at frequent depredations made upon their poultry yards.
