The first question was on Mr. Bliot's amendment to limit the House for the extension of the provision allowing the discharge where the debtors cannot pay fifty per cent. of their indebtedmess to the 1st of January, 1869, instead of 1st of June, 1869. On a vote by tellers there were—ayes 42, noes 49. No augram voting.

sion of the provision allowing the discharge where the debtors cannot pay fifty per cent. of their indebtedmess to the lat of January, 1869, instead of 1st of June, 1869. On a vote by tellers there were—ayes 42, noes 19. No quorum voting.

Mr. Washnung, of Illinois, moved, at 3 o'clock, that the House adjourn.

Mr. Jenches demanded the yeas and nays, appealing to the House to pass the bill in some shape.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The yeas and nays were ordered. The yeas and anys were ordered.
The yeas and anys were ordered.
The vote was taken, and resulted—yeas, 54; nays 57.
So the House refused to adjourn.
Mr. JENCKES consented to Mr. Bliot's amendment being adopted, and then the bill was passed—yeas, 75; The bill is as follows:

A bill in amendment of an act entitled "An act to establish a uniform system of bankruptev throughout the United States." approved March 2, 1867:

Be it chacted, icc., That the provisions of the second

He it enacted, itc., That the provisions of the second clause of the thirty-third section of said act shall not apply to the cases of proceedings in bankruptcy commenced prior to the first day of January, 1869, and the time during which the operation of the provisions of said clause is poetponed shall be extended until said let day of January, 1869, and said clause is hereby so in the control of the control let day of January, 1869, and said clause is hereby so sumended as to read as follows:

In all proceedings in bankruptcy commenced, after the first day of June, 1869, no discharge shall be granted to a debtor whose assets shall not be equal to fifty per centum of the claims proved against his estate, upon which he shall be liable as the principal debtor, unless the assent in writing of a majority in number and value of his creditors, to whom he shall have become liable as principal debtor, and who shall have proved their claims, be filed in the case at or before the time of the hearing of the application for discharge.
