THE COURTS.

QUARTER Sessions.—Brewster, J.—The Tack case was concluded this morning. Judge Brewster delivered an elaborate charge to the jury, reviewing the case, with the points of law involved. In conclusion he said:

If you believe one or more of the defendants to be innocent, or if you have a fair, reasonable doubt as to his case, you should acquit him; if satisfied of guilt beyond reasonable doubt, you will on the other hand convict.

tor and the defendants, and will, I am sure, receive your most careful consideration.

I have been requested by the learned counsel for the defendants to charge you upon the following points:
First—To entitle the Commonwealth to a verdict of guilty, the jury must be satisfied that the defendants conspired to defraud James O'Connor, in the month of June last, by representing to in the month of June last, by representing to him that oil was declining: that the supply of petroleum was large; that they were "short," and that at the time they made such representations the same were false to their knowledge; and that in further pursuance of the conspiracy they combined to raise the price of oil by arreading the runers of large salaryage of oil by spreading the rumors of large seizures of oil by the Revenue officers, of large shipments off oil to Europe from Philadelphia, of short supply, and that such reports were false and were known by the defendants to be false; that they secured the control of and withdrew large quantities of oil from the market, and that the same was done dishonestly, wilfully and maliciately and with the matter. maliciously and with the motive and intent to cheat and defraud James O'Connor or others.

I answer this point in the affirmative.

Second—That it is not an unlawful conspiracy for men to agree to purchase oil on their account with a view to making a profit upon

I answer that such an agreement is of itself not the subject of an indictment.

Third—It is not an indictable conspiracy for Third—It is not an indictable conspiracy for several person to agree to purchase oil at a foreign port, where oil is cheaper than at the home market, with the view to make a profit upon an anticipated rise in the price at such foreign port, although the effect of such purpose may be to assist in advancing the price. answer this in the affirmative.

Fourth—That an advance in price which is the result of a purchase by one or more persons is not necessarily a fletitious advance, and the burden of proof is on the Commonwealth to show it to be

I answer this in the affirmative. I answer this in the affirmative.

Fifth—That it is the motive which distinguishes the legal combination of several to purchase for their own profit from the illegal conspiracy to purchase with a view to oppress and defraud others; and in considering the question of motive, the jury ought to take into consideration the fact that such proceed vurchase was openly discussed and composed purchase was openly discussed and communicated, and was generally known to persons in the trade.

I answer this in the affirmative.

Sixth—That to fender several persons liable in a criminal proceeding for unlawfully conspiring fictitiously to advance the price of oil, it must appear that the advance is to be effected by some other means than the mere naked purchase, there must be some fraud, falsehood or deceit used and intended to affect the price, and the motive must be dishonest; as, if several establish a ferry for their own proit, it is lawful, although it injures the value of a neighboring ferry; but in the trade.

it injures the value of a neighboring ferry; but if the motive of its establishment be to ruin the other, it is indictable. This point is affirmed.

Seventh—There is no evidence in the case that defendants purchased and withdrew large quanti-ties of oil from the market.

This is a question of fact for the jury. The defendants contend that the evidence does not show any such purchases.

The commonwealth asserts to the contrary, and you must decide this, like every other question of fact in this case, by the evidence. Eighth-There is no evidence that the defendants received any portion of the money paid by Jas. O. Conner in settlement of the contracts. I afterm this point. Jury out.

CITY BULLETIN.

CHRIST CHURCH HOSPITAL .- The annual joint meeting of the vestries of Christ Church and St. Peter's was held at the Hospital, on Monday last, reter's was held at the Hospital, on monthy last, to elect a Treasurer. The financial report of the preceding year having been submitted, Mrs. Geo. H. Kirkham was unanimously re-elected Treasurer for the ensuing year. The Chairman of the meeting, Mr. John Welsh, informed the vestries of the handsome legacy of Mr. Wittberger, a notice of which was published in the papers yesterday. The hope was expressed that further legacles and contributions might fall to the share of this venerable institution, that the manshare of this venerable institution, that the managers might be enabled to extend its benefits by filling many rooms now vacant on account of the great cost of maintenance. For such a sum as would purchase an annuity of $250 the managers can afford to a person otherwise qualified for admission such a home as could not be had for $1.000 a year.

A Big Jump .- James Haggerty was before Alderman Jones this morning upon the charge of assault and battery on George Brotherton. The assault was committed on Monday, on Sansom street, below Eighth, when Brotherton was knocked down. Policemen Cox and Young, of the Sixth District, who had the warrant for the arrest of Haggerty observed him goinglinto a house on Tenih street, above Wood, yesterday. One went to the back and the other to the front of the house. Haggerty jumped from the third-story window. He escaped injury and attempted to escape. but was brought to by one of the oill-cers leveling a pistol at him. After the hearing he was held in $1,000 ball to answer at Court.

An Imposter.-We understand that an impostor is soliciting contributions for the erection of the Church of the Holy Apostles, in the south western part of the city. He has had a circular printed embodying an article taken from one of the church papers, to which is appended the names of two of the vestrymen and two other gentleman not connected with the enterprise. The vestry desire to inform the public that no person is at present authorized to obtain contributions for the above church.

PICKING POCKETS.—Joseph Robinson was arrested last evening in a Chestnut Street Railway car upon the charge of picking pockets. At Twelfth street there was a rush upon the plat-form and Mr. Wm. M. Sheppard lost a pocket-book containing $20 and a lot of papers. He seized Robinson, who was pushing and pulling, and handed him over to a policeman. The stolen pocket-book was not found. Robinson was taken before Ald. Jones and was held in $1,500 ball for HOUSE ROBBERY.—The house of Mr. Albert H. Ladner, No. 526 North Third street, was robbed yesterday morning. Mrs. Ladner went to the rear portion of the house for a few minutes, and as she was returning she observed a woman leaving the premises. She then discovered that a gold watch and chain, a hair chain, two gold sleeve buttons and several other articles of jewelry had been stolen. The house was robbed in a similar manner some time ago, and a por-tion of the stolen property was then recovered.

IN UNIFORM.—The employes of the Philadelphia. Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad Company donned their new uniforms this morning. The conductors are dressed in full suits of blue. The baggage-masters wear blue coats and vests and gray pantaloons, and the brakesmen blue coats and gray vests and pants. All have caps of the same pattern. The buttons on the coats are gilt, and have the letters "P. W. B." on them.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY .- Michael McMenamin was arrested yesterday and was taken before Alderman Swift, on the charge of larceny. It is alleged that he was given $12 by his employer to purchase something, and that he went on a spree and used the money in that manner. He was committed to answer.

FIGHTING .- John Foust and Edward Delavan, who have been in the habit of indulging in lights at Front and Coates streets, were arrested yester-day by Officer Myers, of the Harbor Police. They were held to keep the peace by Alderman VAIN VANES .-- At noon to-day the four weathercocks visible from the Bulletin Building indicated as follows: Mayor's Office, N. N. E.; State House, W.; Court House, S. E.; new Ledger Bullding, S. W. Our friends who pay their money can therefore take their choice.

Accident.-Last evening a man named John logan fell through the trestle work on the Reading Railroad, above Thompson street. He was severely injured, and was conveyed to his home. NEW JERSEY MATTERS.

FAILED.—The efforts which were made so extensively last fall and during the session of the Legislature to secure a division of Camden county, have signally failed for at least another year. During the coming year, however, if we may judge from the signs of the times, the Republican party will have a working majority in the Legislature, and then the division of the the Legislature, and then the division of the county will suffer another postponement. The measure is one purely Democratic, and it would have passed by the recent Legislature had it not been discovered that it would have resulted favorably to the Republican interests.

IMPROVEMENTS .- Everywhere within the bound laries of Camden, improvements are going forward with a zeal that has not been equaled for ward with a zeal that has not been equaled for many years. New private residences and public buildings are going up rapidly, while the streets are being graded and curbed, superabundant earth removed to fill up low places, so that by the close of the year more fine and advantageous improvements will have been completed than for many years past. There is scarcely a mechanic or laboring man in Camden now out of employment.

ment. DEFEATED .- The new charter for the city of Camden, which was prepared with great care and embodied so many advantages over the old one, was too Republican in character to suit the Democratic legislature, and it was defeated. The provisions of the new charter were mainly sucgested and approved by citizens of all classes be-fore it was presented to the Legislature. Its defeat, therefore, will subject the authorities to the inconvenience of bungling through another year with the old charter.

HANDSOME CHURCH.—The new Methodist Epis-HANDSOME CHURCH.—The new Methodist Episcopal Church on Third street, Camden, is rapidly progressing, the walls having nearly reached the second row of joists. The workmanship is of the most substantial character, and it will be a beautiful structure. Mandsome spruce and other evergreens have been set out around it which will form elegant shade trees. No expense for pains will be spared to make this the most convenient and attractive church in Camden.

will be spared to make this the most convenient and attractive church in Camden.

A PROTRACTED TERM.—The May term of the Camden County Courts, it is believed, will be a very lengthy one, continuing in all probability to near the close of June. A large amount of business is to be disposed of, and it seems that criminal matters are on the increase notwith-standing the sure punishment which overtakes those who commit crime.

New Trace Table.—On Monday, the fourth day of May, the spring arrangement of the trains on the Camden and Atlantic Railroad will go into effect, affording additional facilities for going to and returning from Atlantic City.

ART ITEMS. We have seen a large water-color drawing, (well executed by Mr. Lovie, artist correspondent for the French illustrated press throughout our war) of Mr. J. A. Bailly's competing design for the Lincoln Monument at Springfield. This design is intended for a work on the grandest reads companied of a combination of Areadest for the Lincoln Monument at Springfield. This design is intended for a work on the grandest scale, composed of a combination of American marble and American bronze-casting, and to be strictly of home manufacture. Under an open dome, of a mixed Italian order of architecture, will eit a colossus of Lincoln, while four stairways, approaching the monument from the four cardinal points, will be crowned with groups, (after the manner of the "captives" of the old Italian monumental architecture) indicative of Emancipation, Indian conquest, &co. Four more figures, representing the arts and industries, are introduced above, and the whole bears a gigantic image of America, watching over the good chief's grave with the palm of victory. The bounding outline of this monument—the most important feature—is very imposing. Everything will depend, after this, upon the conception and execution of the statuary, of which only small sketch-models, of a sufficiently attractive style, have been prepared as yet. The committee of adjudication, who were expected to have awarded the contract for this monument by the middle of the present month, have been induced to postpone their decision until certain competitors residing abroad could have time to introduce their sketches, and the decision is deferred until September.

FOREEGN.

The journal La Situation has been suppressed for the following local item and comment, recently published in its columns:
"The re-establishment of the kingdom of Poland is a national duly to the Second Empire. This duty will be energetically and happily accomplished."

"A few days since, at a dinner of slxty covers, given by Prince Napoleon, Count Walewski, we are assured, proposed a toast for the reconstruction of Poland, and everybody present joined in, heart and voice, with the outburst of patriotism. "This good will shall not be lost. It will be carried out sooner than is thought."

We read in the Journal du Hâvre:

"The wretched subscribers to the Mexican Bonds are going to assemble still another time at the Circus of the Empress, M. de la Guéronnière in the chair. What will come of this new meetog? What resolutions are to be proposed? That sugar what the commissioners of the Mexican Is just what the commissioners of the Mexican Steck themselves, who have called the meeting, would seem to be ignorant of. It is conjectured that they will endeavor to prove: that the subscriptions opened by all the agents of finance in the country can never arrive at any satisfactory result until some sort of administrative influence is brought to bear; that it will accordingly be beat to invite the helders of their cordingly be best to invite the holders of their onds to attach a mass of signatures to a petition to the Senate to protest against the decision of the Council of State, which, notwithstanding the distinct and formally declared intention of Gov-ernment, has said that there would be no chance of an indemnity to subscribers. It is even said that Government, in case of a sufficiently imposing array of signatures, has the intention to control the action of the Corps Législatif in the affair, and compel it to vote an indemnity."

THE DICTATORSHIP .- The New York Berald's THE DICTATORSHIP.—The New York Berald's prediction of an Empire in the place of a Republic for the United States of America, is re-echoed by many as a true prophecy. Bennett, in thus discussing the subject, is by that means forming public opinion, and helping, by his agitation, to familiarize minds with the project. We remember when it was shown conclusively that Ready made Clothing could only command a very limited custom, and of an inferior kind at that, but the discussion of the subject gave birth to the idea, and to-day palatial ready-made clothing establishments, like Charles Stokes & Co.'s, under the Continental, show the thing not only practicable, but very desirable.
