William B. Le Van testified—I am an expert in the manufacture of boilers; I examined the boiler after the explosion, and am convinced that it was caused by the unequal thickness of the iron; I consider the iron, however, good; the fracture appeared to me to be a fresh break; an old break would have break and break bear bear and the fracture of the state of th appeared to me to be a fresh break; an old break would have looked mouldy; I think there has been an unusual strain upon the head, the strain being right in the corner of the head of the boiler; if the head had been properly annealed it would have stood the pressure; and I detected the leak before the explosion, I would have stopped the

8. R. Knight, Superintendent of Episcopal Hospital, testified to the death of Geo. Harris and Jas. Devine at that institution from injuries received by the explosion.

G. B. McFadden testified to the death of Frank

Edward Wurtz, the night engineer, was recalled, and identified the weights which were hanging on the lever of the safety-valve attached to the four boilers.

Alexander McFadden, recalled—Never heard tell of or knew of any leak or weakness in this boiler before; I was not running the boilers on any opinion of Mr. Cummins, but on my own responsibility.

This concluded the evidence.
The jury then retired to deliberate upon a ver-

The verdict agreed upon was as follows: The jury bring in as their verdict that George . Harris, John Magill, Frank Wise and James Devine came to their death by an explosion of a boiler at the rolling mill of Marshall, Phillips & Co., Beach and Marlborough streets, Philadelphia,

First—That the said explosion was occasioned by the faulty construction of the boiler which exploded, which had flat cast iron heads, with the flanges turned inward; but that the boiler was in every respect, except the heads, in first-rate order and condition. That the defect which occasioned the accident was not apparent, nor could it have been detected until the small leak occurred on the morning of the 27th of April.

Second—That the immediate detection of the Second—That the immediate detection of the defect, and the prompt attention given it, showed that care and the intention of safe working on the part of the engineer and managing partner had been given in this instance, and thus the error of judgment which allowed the use of the boiler after it had showed its defective condition. was one which, while the jury deplore, they cannot blame those who committed it.

Third.—The jury find the safety valves and Third.—The jury find the safety valves and pressure gauges connected with the boilers in an imperfect and unsatisfactory condition. The safety valves were improperly graduated, and the gauge giving ten pounds error in indicating pressure, but by computation and comparison they find the boilers to have been worked at ninety pounds pressure, which with sound heads, it was perfectly able to carry. The jury would express their conviction that The jury would express their conviction that bollers made as this was, although in conformity with the pattern of the best boller-makers twenty years since, should be carefully watched and frequently examined, and their future construction be condemned, and that a competent inspector and regulator by authority, would go far to and regulator by authority, would go far to avoid and prevent similar accidents.

Another Death.—James Devine, who was injured by the explosion, died this morning at three o'clock, at the Episcopal Hospital. He was a married man, 23 years of age, and belonged to Duscannon, Pa., but was boarding at American and Mester attrets. and Master streets.

AN EXCITING CHASE.—This morning, between one and two o'clock, Sergeant Saunders disco. vered a colored man removing some articl which had been left in front of the grocery stor of Jacob Maull, at Forty-first and Market street He captured the man and handed him over to policeman. On the way to the station-house the prisoner got away. He was pursued, and an exiting chase was the result. The policeman, fining that his man was gaining on him, shot at his property of the policeman of the property of the policeman of the property of the policeman was gaining on him, shot at his property of the policeman of the property of the policeman of the property of the policeman of the polic without effect. The firing attracted the attention of another policeman, and he joined in the pu suit. The negro was a good runner, and bid fe to escape from both officers. Six shots were the fired to bring him to, but he kept on. Policement Eckfeld coming from an opposite direction, cartured the runaway at Forty-first and 'Valn' streets. The prisoner is named Durran Murra On his person were found sixteen pown 'ticket Murray was committed by Inderman Aauli.

A Horse Thier Detected by an Accident. On Market street, west of Fifteenth, yesterday afternoon, a horse and carriage was run into by a wagon and was upset. The occupant, Morris Marshall, was thrown out but was only slightly injured. The wagon was somewhat broken. Marshall acted somewhat suspiciously about the carriage and Licut Leighton took him into custody. This morning the broken vehicle was identified by Mr. Edward Calveriey, residing at No. 811 Wharton street. Mr. dalverley had driven to Third and Walnut streets yesterday, and tied his horse to a post, while he transacted some business. He returned in about fifteen minutes, and no team was to be found. Marshall says that he is from New York. He had a hearing before Ald. Jones this morning and was committed in default of $1.000 ball. default of $1,000 bail.

ST. LOUIS AND IRON MOUNCAIN RAILROAD COMPANY'S First Mortgage

Seven Per Cent. 25-Year Bonds. Interest Coupons due 1st February and August, payable in the City of New York.

The title of the St. Louis and Iron Mountain Ratiroad having been confirmed by Act of the General assembly of the State of Miss uri, and the Bonds devolared valid the work of extending the same to a connection with the Southern system of roads, at Columbus, Ky, is now, going rapidly forward. Ninety-one miles being in profitable operation forty-five miles of new work graded, with alls osough on hand for forty-even mil s, it is expected that the whole line, from St. Louis to Bollmon, one hundred and ninety-three miles, will be opened for business early next year, so that there will be a continuous line from St. Louis to Mobile, New Orleans and other Southern cities. A very large trailic is anticipated.

The old part of the road (ninety-one miles) already carns enough to secure all the interest on the whole mortigage debt, and the excusion completed will vasity increase the earnings. The proceeds of three Bonds going into the extension of the road adds to the security, and a projected branch southwestwardly from Pilot Knob, for which a cash subsidy of Sis,000 per mile is granted by the State, as a free git to the Company, will add vory much to the value of their property.
