WESTWARD, HO. BY MISS MULOCH. We should not sit us down and sigh, My girl, whose brow a fane appears e steadfast eyes look royal Backward and forward o'er the years-The long, long years of conquered time, The possible years unwon, that slope fore us in the pale sublime, Of lives that have more faith than hope.

We dare not sit us down and dream Fond dreams, as idle children do; My forchead owns too many a seam And tears have worn their channels throug Your poor thin cheeks, which now I take Twixt my two hands, caressing. Dear, little sunshine for my sako! Although we're far on in the year.

Though all our violets, sweet ! are dead, The pimrose lost from fields we knew, Who knows what harvests may be spread For reapers brave like me and you? Who knows what bright October suns May light up distant valleys mild, Where as our pathway downward runs We see Joy meet us, like a child,

Who, sudden, by the roadside stands, To kies the travelers' weary brows, And lead them through the twilight lands Snfely unto their Father's house. So, we'll not dream, nor look back, dear But march right on, content and bold, To where our life sets, heavenly clear, Westward, behind the hills of gold.

I this all the same; an association to destroy the liberties of the country and assassinate the good men. I am astonished when I think how reasonable men, who can read and write, continue in such company as that. I cannot understand how any couble man can remain in the Democracy when he knows this fact to be true. It seems to be a determination to stick to a name-the name of a party who has given us good Presidents, but which has no longer any principle about it. I really believe that if the goot control of the Government they would not know what to de with it. The Governor continued at some length, reforting also to the question of party that was in a prior priate speech introduced Governor Genry, who was received with much enthusia.m. The Governor said: Mr. President and Gentlemen of the National Union Chib. Please accept my hearty and cordial thanks for this welcome to me. When I left that is in the people of Pennsylvania. I felt that is in the people of Pennsylvania. I felt that is in the people of Pennsylvania. I felt that is in the people. But it is true that we have work before us. even with the great hero, Grant, at the head of our national ticket. We must be up and doing, and not tire either in the day or night. We are contending with a foe that has been the enemy of the contending with a foe that has been the enemy of the stronger than he was before their betrayal. In my deliberate judgment General Grant is the best candidate for the time that could by any possi-bility be presented. the country for years, with whom many of us contended on the tented field. You must expect my remarks to be somewhat desultory, for I have had ro time to prepare a written speech or collect my thoughts. Mr. President, if ever the Republican party had reason to congratulate itself and the atry on a favorable movement, it is upon the The convention at Chicago has placed before us a most acceptable ticket, one that has not been excelled since the days of Washington and Jack-What can be said of General Grant that ha not been said to every one present already? General Grant has been placed on the ticket for the highest position known to the American people, and he is well deserving of it. It has the highest position known to the American people, and he is well deserving of it. It has been my province to know him for twenty-one years. We were both young men together in the Mexican war. He was the same enduring hero then as heproved himself to be in the late rebellion. I knew him when a second lieutenant when Molino del Rey proved that there was more stuff in him than was apparent on the surface. rebellion. I knew him when a second lieutenant when Molno del Rey proved that there was more stuff in him than was apparent on the surface. He was brevetted as a first lieutenant there for gallantry. He left sometime afterwards for home, but not before he had been made a captain. We, as Pennsylvanians, have something to say of him. His father was from old Westmoreland county, the place of my own nativity. I have often stood on the ground where he was born. I know Grant well. It was my good fortune to serve under him in the war just closed. I first serve at Wauhatchie. I first saw then the power of his mind as a military man. [Applause.] He first directed the assault upon Lookout Mountain. He turned the cannon apon Missionary Ridge.and on Chickamauga, and obtained the victories at Taylor's Ridge, near Ringgold. I want to show you what I know of the man that he may be acceptable to you. I know him well; I have dined with him, and I never saw any the serve interest the top and industry. I know him well; I have dined with him, and I never saw any well: I have dined with him. and I never saw any wen; I have diffed with him, and I never saw any thing strong upon the table. I never knew him to touch spirits of any kind. I believe there is no man who has been more ungenerously treated on that subject during the last few months than Grant On a certain occasion, when dining with Grant at Chattanooga, after the cloth had been removed he called for his maps, which he spread before me, and said: "Sir, you and your division have me, and said: "Shr, you and your division have been instrumental in obtaining the victories around this city. The plan for the next cam-paign is already formed, and it is proper that you should know it. I intend to concentrate my troops around this place and pour them on Atlanta while a strong attack is made on Rich-mond. After Atlanta falls a line will be taken for the sea-shore, ending either at Charleston or Savannah, and having thus made our point, we will enter the Carolinas and attack Richmond." This was in 1863, nine months before the city of Atlanta was taken. Justice should be done, and I tell you so that you will know who it was that planned the march to the sea, and bisected the Confederacy, and brought the rebellion to a termination. [Cheers.] As far as his other molitary services are concerned, it would be super-erogation in me to attempt to describe them. Many of you have served under him and know the man before he became Commander-in-chief Many of you have served under him and know the man before he became Commander-in-chief of the army.
