at his residence hear Pluckamin on Friday afternoon last, at the advanced age of 92 years. Dr. V. was for many years a successful physician, enjoying a large and lucrative practice. He was never married, but always kept about him an extensive household, many of which were colored upon the premises. His plantation consisted of between 800 and 1,000 acres of land, perhaps one-half under cultivation, the balance covered with valuable timber. His personal property is estimated at $150,000. He had no relation nearer than consin.

There was quite a gathering at the Surrogate's Office, in Somerville, on Monday afternoon, to hear the reading of the last will and testament. This will is dated August, 1865, and contains but one provision, viz.: That the executor, Rev. Frederick F. Cornell, shall hold the property in trust, with power to sell all except the Bedminster property, invest and relayest as he chooses, keep the real estate in good repair, expend, such such solutions in improvements as he may think advisable and Passenger Railroad shares there was no change.

James Calhoun and Frank Hopkins pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery. Both defendants are young men, and according to the Cashier of the National Bank of Northern Liberties, Hopkins presented a check for $155 05, purporting to be drawn by J. C. Truefit. Calhoun was in Mr. Truefit's employ and was the party who draw. Truefit's employ, and was the party who drew the check and gave it to Hopkins.

In the course of the trial Charles Brown was taken from the dock and testified that he, with the defendants, was in the habit of frequenting the Continental Hotel, and that the proposition was first made to engage in a forgery of the name of Howell & Bro. He refused, but admitted that he did fill up the body of a check, to which Calboun affixed the signature. Calboun was sentenced to fifteen months in the Eastern Penitentiary and Hopkins to five months in the County Prison. Daniel Blackburn and George Thompson were
