COMMON COUNCIL OF PHILADELPHIA

THE DAILY EVENING SULLEST.—PHILADELY PLAN (1997).

THE STATE WAS ASSESSED. THE STATE OF THE STAT Mr. Binnerous replied that he meant those clothed with suffrage by the Constitution and laws of those FROM WASHINGTON.

reference to any opinion I had of their fitness, while my humerous recommendations for removal of assessors and collectors, even for the grossest misconduct, were almost uniformly disregarded. In accordance with the long-continued practice of the Department, the appointments, by the Secretary of the Treasury; of assistant assessors, inspectors, and other subordinate officers in the several districts are made up on the nomination of their assessors and collectors. This practice is just to these officers, and when faithful, insures to them harmony and co-operation, and locates the responsibility for the success of the revenue laws. I do not object to this practice, and refer to it only to illustrate the importance of the office of assessors and collectors, and my utter inability, under existing circumstances, to elevate and control the character and efficiency of the service of which I have the ostensible charge.

Northern States, and who know that the whole purpose is to continue the domination of the negro in the Bouth. He related instances of outrages received to the bouth of the murder of whites by negroes, without any arrests following, and he claimed that it was for the interest of both races that the heads of these bureaus were the regularly accredited agents of the Republican party, and that the sole purpose of its desired continuance was to be found in that fact. It was an attempt to keep the rego in power, and to prolong the existence of the Republican party. In reby to a question whether he favored neuro suffrage in the South, he said he was in favor of leaving to the people of those States the question of suffrage.

B. B. to C. PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN. FRIDAY, June 12, 1868. ALL communications for this column must be directed "Chess Editor of EVENING BULLETIN," and should reach the office, at latest, on Thurs day morning. All Problems must be accompanied by the solution and name of the composer. - The following communication relative to the term Rook, we extract from the London News Sir.—With reference to the origin of the term "Rook," the Rev. Dr. Hyde believes it to have been derived from the Eastern word ruch, a dromedary; a figure of which animal was sometimes used to represent the piece in question on the Asiatic Chess-board. No fewer than twenty-six English families have Chess-boards and Chess Rooks emblazoned for their arms, on the most ancient of which the Rooks are delienated with two protuberances, or horns, which Dr. Hyde supposes may denote the two humps of the dromedary. Sir William Jones is of opinion that Rook is deduced from Ruth or Roth, the Hindoo designation for an armed charlot, which was changed by the Persians into Ruth; "as the Vierge and Fol of the French," says Sir William, are supposed to be corruptions of Ferz and Fil, the Prime Minister and Elephant of the Persians and Arabs. It is not unworthy of note that in Ireland the Rook is called Hrok, a brave warrior or hero." I am, sir, yours faithfully, Bath. H. A. KENNEDY. ----Problem No. 597. BY MR. H. LEHNER.
