big for us, and drew we-uns all back. Wall, I reckon, when Ginral Sharman come here, I had nigh about seventy of the best dominics that ever pecked a corn seed. Wal, Ginral Sharman's men begun to shoot my chickens, and they bunged em under the house and around the house and on top of the house, and I reckon when they got threw I hadn't mor'n ten chickens left. But, before God, they han't one of 'em crowed from that day to this; slithough they're all full game. That's the reason, feller citizens, I'm gwine to vote this Republican ticket. It's time for we-uns to stop crowin and do the clean thing. Feller citizens, we ought to have as much sense as a fowl."

These Sand-hillers have now learned that the same law that elevates the negro will elevate the poor whites. The late contest was one between poor and ignorant leyalty and rich and cultivated reason, and the right has triumphed.
