"Going to Jericho;" by John Franklin Swift of San Francisco, is a book of traveis, or flights, to Epain and the Orient: Every traveler meets . whether in the courtyard of the Grand Hôtel or on the Pyramid of Cheops, the American touris en the Fyrania of Onespe, into Interface total represented by Mr. Swift, imperturbable with bi-dry humor, assusging the forments of trave with scarcasm, exquisite at a pithy story, keep ing with profound art upon the surface of things, and never scritors by any mistake for a moment. When Mr. Swift and his party got "to Jericho," they secured one of the original ram's horns, and beyiched their admiration on a ruined sheep-pen called by Mr. Swift, in his Hispano-American guage, corral), and then found that the real pricho was some miles further on. The book is full of the light treatment of Scripture so common with the Western men, which, however, we o not consider half so dangerous as the guarded Bible-patronage always to be found in the more retending class of Bristish fiterature. A. Roman & Co., of San Francisco, are the publishers. Messrs. Roman & Co. also publish "Aldeane," a novel, by Laura Preston, author of "In Bonds." bare last evening, with dispatches for General Grant, relating to affairs in New Orleans. To-day the Major, accompanied by Colonel Mann, one of the members of Congress elect from Louisiana, visited the President, the Secretary of War, and General Rawlins (General Grant being absent), and laid the matter before them. The result was that the following instructions were sent, about four o'clock this afernoon, to General Buchanan: By order of General Schofleld, approved of by General Grant, through General Rawlins, and by the President. General Buchanan: Your action is sustained. The officers elected under the new Constitution can-not be installed without your consent, until the time fixed by the act of Congress. It is deemed advisable for you to await the act of Congress, now about to be-come a law, before permitting the Legislature to meet or the officers to be installed.

From Canada. TCRONTO, June 13 .-- Dispatches from Montreal to the Globe, say that officers of the United States Army are said to be on the frontier between Rouse's Point and Ogdensburg, with instructions from General Grant to ascertain the correctness of the report about Fenian arms being secreted there. A battery of the Royal Artillery is to be sent from Montreal to Isle an Noix, on the Richelieu River. BOTHWELL, C. W., June 18 .- A party of volunteers, returning home from drill last night, were attacked by men supposed to be Fenians. One of the volunteers is not expected to recover. An unsuccessful attempt was made to break open the drill shed and get arms. The inhabitants are in pursuit.
