The Prothonoury's Convention of the Union Republican Party. The delegates to the Union Republican Prethonotary's Convention reassembled at 10 o'clock thonotary's Convention reassembled at 10 o'clock this morning in Washington Hall, Eighth and Spring Garden streets. This was in consequence of some informality in the proceedings of the recent convention that nominated Capt. Donagan for Prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas. General Joshua T. Owen presided, Captain Harry E. Rulon acted as secretary, and William G. Mc-Michael and J. T. Eldridge as tellers. The Chairman presented to the Convention a certified copy of the proceedings of their former meeting, and of the proceedings of their former meeting, and then the list of delegates was called. On motion, Capt. Wm. D. Rank was appointed Assistant Secretary.

Mr. Moore, of the Fourth Ward, presented and read the following communication:

PHILADELPHIA, June 27, 1868.—To the President and members of the Convention of the Union Republican Party to nominate a Prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas: Gentlemen—At your session on the 10th of the present month, I was honored by being placed in general nomina-tion before your body; and upon the several bal-lots which were taken I was favored with a large number of the votes of the Convention; my name had been for some months before the public mentioned by the kind preference of many of my friends, as a candidate for the nomination, and i am grateful for the constancy which adhered to me am grateful for the constancy which adhered to me with such unwavering support even in a contest with two others who were so distinguished as my competitors for the position. But, after mature reflection, I feel unwilling to have myself kept longer even in seeming opposition to the claims of soldiers, or to stand in any attitude, either before the convention or the people, which might in the least degree tend to prevent entire harmony of action, or put in peril the success of our common cause.

I therefore beg that my name may be withdrawn from nomination before you, and pledge my hearty and undivided efforts to secure the election of the gentleman whom you name, and of the entire Union Republican ticket.

With great respect, yours,
ROBERT T. GILL, Second Ward. The above was received with great applause. Mr. Benjamin W. Thomas then read the following: PHILADELPHIA, June 29, 1868 .- To the Members of the Prothonotary's Convention—GENTLE-MEN: I deemed it a duty I owed to the Republican party, to my friends, and to myself, to pro-test against the dropping of my name by your Convention on the second ballot. My construction of the rules has been sustained, and not withtion of the rules has been sustained, and notwith-standing my belief that had my name remained before the Convention the probabilities of my nomination were equal to those of any other can-didate, yet I feel constrained to rise above any selfish feeling upon this subject, and adopt that course which I believe will prove most conducive to the interests of our party. Already we are divided in this city. There exists a determined effort upon the part of some members of the Republican organization to jeopardize the whole ticket, as nominated, by indulging in an internal strife. It I remained a candidate before this Convention, it is possible I might add to this discord, and therefore I most respectfully withdraw from the contest.

Being among those who believe the will of the majority should be respected, I congratulate my sixty-eight friends upon their respectful and an expected and adolest the state of the stat rentlemanly bearing in acquiescing in the decl sion of the majority, in preference to withdrawing as they might have done with some show of right if such action can be sanctioned under any cir cumstances. In conclusion, permit me to assure you that the choice of a majority of your con-vention, if selected according to the rules of the party, shall receive my sincere and hearty aid.
Your obedient servant,
RICHARD ELLIS.

This was hailed with great appreciation, and on motion of Captain Rulen, Captain Richard on motion of Captain Rulon, Captain Richard Donngan was declared, by acclamation, the nominee of the Union Republican Party for Prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas.

Captain Reeves then offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That this Convention approve the manly spirit evinced by Mr. Robt. T. Gill and Major Richard Ellis, in thus declaring in favor of the soldier, and hope that at some future day we. the soldier, and hope that at some future day we, as representatives of the great Republican Party, may give them an evidence of our appreciation of their course.

of their course.

Gen. Owen addressed the delegates, expressing pleasure at the happy termination of the Convention. He knew that he was wrong in his recent decision, but at the time he was under the impression he was carrying out the rules of the party. He was pleased to see such harmony among the gentlemen who were placed in nomination, and gave it as evidence of a clean sweep at the next election. at the next election.

A committee was then appointed to wait upon Captain Donagan, and when he appeared, a speech was called for. The Captain, in answer, thanked the Convention for the honor conferred upon him, and predicted the success of the whole Republican ticket. Cheers were then given for the ticket, as nominated, and the Convention adjourned sine die.

SCIENTIFIC men, as well as those who are engaged in the practical use of it, are unanimous in their commendation of the surpassing merits of the "Elastic Sponge," Dr. Doremus, Professor of Chemistry in the College of New York, writing to the company, says: "I congratulate you on your success in offering to the public a substitute for the best materials hitherto known for beds, cushions, &c." While the most extensive carriage manufacturers, the owners of stage lines, the furnishers of railway cars, the fitters up of churches and places of amusement, and all upholsterers who have used it, bear the same testimony to its excellence. It is seldom that we find professional and practical men bearing united testimony, but the Elastic Sponge is an exception.
