Taxing Government Interest. Brecial Depatch to the Philadephils Evening . Bulletin 1 WASHINGTON, July 2.—General Butler offered in the house, to day, a bill to reduce the interest | Taxation on the public debt, but its introduction was objected to. It imposed a tax of ten per cent. an the interest on bonds, to be collected by the Treasurer, and to be in lieu of all taxes on income arising from bonds. It authorizes the conversion of the six per

Mr. Boutwell-Let it be printed and recom-mitted. Mr. Stevens-Very well. I received, last night, two very urgent telegrams from the convention, saying they were anxious that we should act on the matter so that they might act. Mr. Beck (Ky.) suggested that Mr. Stevens should fix next Wednesday for action on the bill, and saying that Messrs. Bingham and Brooks, members of the Reconstruction Committee, who were now absent, would then be present. Mr. Stevens said he would not fix any time now, because it might not suit his friends else-where. He would let the matter stand, The bill was ordered to be printed and recom-mitted. mitted. The House then resumed, as the business of the morning, the bill reported yesterday from the Committee on Private Land Claims, to restore to certain parties their rights under the law and treaties of the United States. Nikitine, recently cited before a Moscow magistrate and condemned to pay a fine, gave the Judge a blow on the check. He was, of course, immediately arrested, but, according to usage, the magistrate thus outraged had to resign. At the meeting of the municipal body of Moscow, one of the members, referring to the incident, which was the talk of the whole city declared that to encourage such acts as that of M. Niki-tine, by accepting the resignation of the Judge, was sheer folly. (The magistrates are elected by the Douma-the municipal body-and are de-pendent on it.) He concluded by proposing an address to the outraged dignitary, expressing the sentiments of profound sympathy entertained by the municipality; and insisting on the with-drawal of his resignation. The proposition was unanimously adopted, and the address was drawn up and signed by the Mayor, Prince Stcherbatoff, and all the syndolc. The Alpine Ballway.

The Alpine Ballway. The Mont Cenis Railway has been opened, and so great a triumph of engineering skill and per-severance deserves to be everywhere recorded to the honor of the able engineer, Mr.Fell, by whom it has been accompliabed. There has been a race between the railway over the mountain and the tunnelled railway, and the wonderful line which careers over the mountain heights has, in splid of its incomparable daring and an extraordinary concurrence of, difficulties, proved the winner. It is expected that the railway over the Alps will reap a rich harvest before the railway under them is ready to earn anything in its quieter and less daring style. When we read of engines constructed to "turn trains on their heels," and perform the evolutions of the Skating Glub at an elevation of twelve thousand feet, it is preity evi-dent that wonders are not going to cease just yet. He will write every article in it, and the paper will be called the Sinai. It will, of course, have very little to say on politics; but Victor Hugo has, for many years back, longed to purish the large number of literary adversaries, who, profiling by his exile, thought they could attack him with impunity. --Langlewicz has written a startling letter to several Poles in Florence, telling them that any Pole would be justified in shooting Alexander II. like a dog. The letter closes as follows—"Remeni-ber the fourteen Polish mothers whom the cow-ardly villain caused to be hung at Wilna! Re-member the hundred and fifty Polish matrons and girls whom his Cossacks had to drive to Siberial Blessed be the bullet that plores the heart of this crowned assassin!" --Grau, the American manager, has sent Paul Julgnet, the ex-manager of the French theatre in New York, to Paris with offers to Mile, Schnei-der, the original Graid Duchess of Gerolatein. Julgnet is instructed to make as favorable's con-tract with Mile. Schneider as he formerly con-cluded with Madame Ristori.
