He cannot, with ordinary decency, support the repudiation platform of Tammany, on account of his official position. But he has made himself, personally and politically, so odious to many leading Republicans, that he is hardly to be expected to take up Grant's nomination with enthusiasm. Congressman Cary, of Cincinnati, is also said to be hesitating about giving his support to Seymour. Originally a he has been a Johnson man since his election, and probably the visit he made yesterday to the President had reference to a common policy to be pursued by the President and his friends. Unless his Exellency should make up his mind promptly and decide upon some definite course to pursue, it may be expected that most of the doubtful men, among the office-holders and others of his supporters, will drift over to the side of Grant and Colfax, which, it is every day becoming plainer, is to be the winning side.

[Special Despatch to the Phile, Evening Bulletin.] WASHINGTON, July 15th.-The Military Committee of the House have been holding daily sessions on the bill reducing and fixing the peace establishment of the army Their efforts will be directed toward securing some consistent system of reduction more in harmony with what appears to be the sense of the House than the bill first reported.

They agreed this morning to support the iments proposed yesterday by Gen. Pile, which will probably be accepted by the House. They reduce the rank of the chief of staff of each department one grade, and the number of staff by about one-third.

To carry the reduction into effect, a council of ficers of each arm of the service, and one from each staff department, one half of whom shall be street, during the morning was:officers appointed from civil life or the volunteer force, who shall inquire into the fitness of offi-
