A FLING ATTENNYSON. A satiric writer, usmed Richard Crawley, 1 put forth a kind of modern "Dunciad," which he calls "Horse and Foot, or Pilgrims to Parnassus." Tae poem is published by Hotten, of London We extract the following sarcasms on the works

"But bush, admire! a Laurente strikes Etrings,
And praises Albert for begetting kings;
Teils us how Enoch left his home and wife,
And came, when least expected, back to life;
How Edith, Mand, and flity maidens more, Whom ladies proud to landed scoundrels bo Died of their love, or else that love forgot, And straight espoused a sportsman or a sot; While their bard lived another jilt to woo, Composed a poem, and forgot them too. But that its wrong for girls to disobey, nd poets must be moral now-a-day! wonder why they did not run away,

Who eats the dinner of a field of mowers,
Who when Earl Doorm had eaten all he would,
That is, when Doorm had eaten all he could,
Leaps up, though lying on a shield half dead,
And sends a falchion flashing through his head.
Thanks to the bard whose sacred song declares
That there were rufflans e'en before Tom

O could Geraint again his feats rehearse,
And strike in earnest as he strikes in verse.

And strike in earnest as he strikes in verse, He'd swell the volume of great Tyrwhitt's cares, And Mace would tremble for the belt he wears. nu mace would tremple for the cent he weats.

A Paris correspondent remarks:

A journal which quite preoccupies the ruling power, is that Lanterne! The stories I hear of the anguish caused by this pamphlet attain the limits of the incredible. The Emperor, it is said, has groaned upon the bosom of Rouher and expressed his regret for the defeat of Article I of the law, suppressing previous authorization. The zeal of M. Saint-Paul, I am told again, has led him to desire the opinions of the Départments, by correspondence with the prefects, and to wish to know how many Lanternes are sold at Quimper (orentin (Brittany, extreme northwest of France), how many at Pézénas, which has the honor to send as deputy M. Mathieu, author of the famous amendment on the press-law, and how many at Brives-la-Geillarde. JAMES T. YOUNG. OF TRADES. COATES WALTON, THOMAS POTTER.

SOLUBLE PHOSPHATE OF IRON, By Leras, M. D., Docteur es Sciences, Grimault & Co.,

Chemists, Paris.

According to the opinion of the members of the Paris Academy of Medicine, this article is superior to all the ferruginous preparations known. It agrees nest with the stomach, never causes contiveness; it contains the element of the blood and the osecous frame, and succeeds where other preparations fail, such as Vallet's pills, iron reduced by hydrogen, lactate of fron, and ferruginous mineral water. One tablespoonful of the solution or syrup contains three grains of salt of iron. They are both colress.

Children's Diseases—Iodized Syrup of Horse-fradishs.

IVIGTUT—Bank Elena, Loggle—350 tons kryolite Penna
Salt & an Co.

Prepared by Grimault & Co., Paris.

This syrup contains iodine combined with the juice of water crees, hore-radich and scuvy-grass, in which iodine and subplur exit naturally, and for this reason it is an excellent substitute for cod liver oil, which is given raily supposed to owe its efficacy to the presence of iodine. The Iodized Syrup of Horse radish in ariably produces most satisfactory results administered to children suffering from lymphatism, rachitism, congestion of the glands of the neck, or the various cruotious on the face so frequent during inflancy. It is also the best remedy for the next stage of Consumptin. Being at once conic and depurative, it excites the appetite, promotes digestion and restores to the tissues their natural dirmness and vigor. Dr. Durin Du Buisson's Digestive Lozenges of the Alkaline Lactates. The Alkaline Lactates exercise the most beneficial in fluence over the dera-gements of digestion, either by their peculiar action on the mucuous membrane of the stomach or by affording to the latter through their combination with the saliva to the gastric succe a supply of lactic acid, which all English, French and other physiologists admit to be an essential principle or digestion. For the information of those who may be without medical advice, it may be stated here that the symptoms of imalred digestion are: Headache, pain in the forehead, bemicrania, gastritia, gastraliga, hearthurn, wind in the stomach and bowels, loss of appetite, emaciation, &c.
