WORLDLY WISE BY ALICE CARY.

It was the boatman Ronsalce, And he sailed through the mists so white And two little ladies sat at his knee,
With their two little heads so bright;
And so they sailed and sailed—all three—

Young Ronsalee had a handsome face, And the two little ladies in girlish grace and the one in her woolsey gown.

Like a flower that hides from the day; Her name was Jenny,—they called her And the name o' other was May; And her palace windows looked on the flood, Where they softly sailed away.

Long time the balance even stood With our Ronsalee that day; But what was a little house in the wood And his hand he gave to May. -Atlantic.

Accident on the Camden and Atlantic Hailroad.

Haddonfield, N. J., July 21.—The 2 o'clock afternoon express train from Philadelphia for Atlantic City, met with an accident about midway between this place and White Horse, by which the lecomotive; tender, baggage car and first passenger car were thrown from the track and damaged. There was the most miraculous escape of life, not one person being killed, though one or two were severely injured. The cause of the accident is laid to a very heavy shower of rain which had prevailed in the vicinity for several hours previons.

The casualty happened at the trestle-work over Cooper's creek. The rain had wasfied away the support of the frail structure, and as the engine struck, the eastern end it sunk, throwing the engine off the track. The tender followed the engine. The baggage car went on its side on the right side of the track. The tender followed the engine. The baggage car went on its side on the right side of the track. The tender followed the engine. engine. The baggage car went on its side on the left side of the track, and though several people were in it no one was badly hurt. The wheels of the first car went from under it, and though it was crowded but one man was hurt. The seats were knocked all to pleces. The second passenger car passed over the bridge, though the trucks were taken from under it. The third car stopped over the narrow defile, and then the trestle work gave way, and the body of the car landed on the embankment, making a complete bridge over the chasm. The rear cars suffered no damage, though the shock was severely felt by the occupants.

The track for one hundred feet was completely torn up, and the scene presented after the accident was terrible. There were many ladies on board the train, and never did their sex show more presence of mind. They maintained their seats until all danger was passed.

Messengers were detailed to White Horse and Haddonfield, and the news was 6000 communicated to the city, and the company despatched cars to the scene. The officers of the road, including Conductor Beccher, Special officer Caldwell, who sustained slight injuries, and President Frazer bestowed all attention to the comfort of the Doctors Wetherill and Runnel were on the Crain, and were energetic in their attention to the The engineer, John Hutchinson, was jammed in the debris, and while there was dangerously so ided by the escaping steam. All the sirgers and Hermann's Philadelphia orchestra were present, and were mostly uniformed in black coats and white vests and partitionned in black coats and white vests and partitionns. They bore badges of blue, red, white and yellow. The Hall was brilliantly lighted from end to end, and festooned with evergreens in wreaths, crosses and winding-columns. The banners of the various singing societies were bung along the sides of the Hall. The building was crowded to its utmost capacity with ladies and gentlemen. Many were turned from the doors. The best order was preserved, though much enthusiasm prevailed. Ode," by all the sirgers combined, with orchestra accompaniment, created the wildest enthusiasm. The Männerchor of Philadelphia yielded to the fication of the audience. "The Battle of the Ghosts." by the Young Männerchor of Philadelphia, was also encored and repeated.

THEDIUAL:

A YER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. FOR DISEASES OF A THE THROAT AND LUNGS, SUCH AS COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA AND CONSUMPTION.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Throths a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for micropient consumption, and the dangerous affections of he throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidots for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it. Bronchitzs is generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained. AyEly'S AGUE CURE. FOR FEVER AND AGUE, INTERNITIENT FEVER, CHILL FEVER, REMITTENT FEVER, DUMB AGUE, PERIODICAL OR BILLOUS FEVER, &C. AND INDEED ALL THE AFFECTIONS WHICH ARISE FROM MALARIOUS.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail.
