some men in the North that the assertions of the Republican papers to the effect that the rebel spirit in the South is again rampant and confident of success through the Democratic party, are bits of political buncombe, thrown out to frighten timid voters. A more grievous blunder was never made. If there is any one fact connected with this campaign definitely and clearly settled, it is that the fire-eaters of the South, the identical man who justigated, leagued with the Democracy to acquire powho affect to believe that the Republicans danger after all, have not wisdom enough to of past experience. lower classes paraded the streets of Port an Prince, shouting "Vive l'Empereur! vive 8alnave." Five insurgents from the vicinity of Leogane were shot without trial, at five o'clock in the offernous of the 6th of of Salnave, the "Cacos" his enemies. These names originated during the "carnival," a few years back, when politics were expressed in songs, to the best of drums; and in one of these songs the following sentiment was ex-

"Dere is no house De liyard don't lib Dere is no tree De liyard can't climb!" (meaning that there was no position to which the ow black laborers could not successfully aspire) and this being set to a popular air, was sung with great zest by all the lower orders of s while the children of the upper classes learnt it from their nurses. The liyard affording an excellent idea of insignificance, accompanied with agility and skill—the other poetleal party found vent for the declaration of their sentiments in the same humorous method, styling themselves "Cacos" (a black parrot which feeds upon liyards,) and the air was sung—

De Cacos O! de Cacos oh!
"De Cacos eat the livard oh!"
This affords some little idea of the respective characters engaged in the present struggle in Hayti. The "Cacos" party are the better classes of the people (the proprietay partry);—the liyards and earldoms of the new empire if he is victo-rious. The consequence, is, that as they all wish to be dukes, marquises and earls, Salnave easily gains them over to his side. These men fight des-perately, for their lives are forfeited if they fail; for having so far forgotten their legitimate sta-tion as to aspire to titles and rank over the pro-prictary class, they could never fall back again into their proper places. The commander inchief at the Cape is a low, black fiddler, and the commander at Gonaives is a low, black barber—swords having taken the place of the "bow" and the "soan-lather." the "soap-lather." Cape Hayti and Gonaives have been completely surrounded by the Cacos, and the light has been surrounded by the Cacos, and the light has been extinguished in the lighthouse at Jacmel. At Port-au-Princel villages have been burned down, and at Jacmel affairs had become so serious that H. M. S. Mullet was about to proceed there. The Haytien steamer of war Galatea, now undergoing repairs in New York, has been sent for, and the war steamer, 22d Decembro, has surrendered to the Cacos at the Cape.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Prenium and New Tables, the most desirable means i insuring life yet presented to the public. The rates of premium, being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the Insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are apt to cause the Policy-Holder. Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the IN-Parties having boilers would do well to call at the office | COME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policyholder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy. The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.
