The hebel Press. The Danville Times has heard, on good authority, that in Henry County an Ironside Baptist, on a sacramental occasion, while extending The Danville the usual invitation to his brethren to come for ward and partake of the Lord's supper, made this exception: He said if he knew that any man had made up his mind to vote for the constitution made by negroes and Radical white men for the State of Virginia, would attempt to appear proach the alter, he would have to walk over his dead body."

The following editorial article appears in the Charleston Mercury of Thursday last:

"HARM DONE.
"Private advices from our most strenuous friends at the North request that we should protest against the imprudent expressions that have escaped from Southern speakers, since the adjournment of the National Democratic Convention. This represented to be the transfer in the rest injury is tion. It is represented to us that great injury is accruing to the cause from such imprudence. We therefore shall make no apologies for asking the attention of our public speakers to the fact.
We are all desirons of pushing on the good work of success, and no one would voluntarily impede its course who was aware of the fact. Whilst no Its course who was aware of the fact. Whilst no man in the South should be, and no true man is, ashamed of our great lost cause; and whilst, when we speak of the past, we should speak like true men, it is questionable whether at this time anything is to be gained by too much reference to things that jar on people's nerves. What we want just now is to win. Let us keep our powder for that purpose. Too much is at stake to waste it now in feux defined. Let us have our pyrotechnics next March. Too much is at stake to waste it now in feux de joie. Let us have our pyrotechnics next March. In the meantime, friends, without abating one sentiment that is true, be cool and steady, and give the enemy no advantage. We have a strong foe to encounter, We can't afford to give him all the advantage of position. Let us guard ou flanks, make secure our lines, and when the time comes next November let us down on him like an avalanche and double him no like a graph warm. avalanche, and double him up like a grub-worm and then scatter him to the winds. We have the power. Do not let us unnecessarily fritter it away in unavailing skirmishing and heedless thoughtless, scattered assaults. Let us work, and speak, to win."

It is almost too late; for Wade Hampton, Blair Vance, Wise and the rest, have also spoken.
The Southern Banner of Georgia, speaking of Johnson's amnesty, says: "Let us be thankful for small favors. Let us rejoice that the bau of oppression has been uplifted. Let us shout hosannas to "the best government the world ever saw!"—but let us never forget the principles for which we struggled through four long and bloody which we struggled through four long and bloody years; and let us never forget the gallant 'men in gray, 'who so nobly yet so vainly struggled to vindicate and uphoid those principles."

What's in a Name? The New York World has been harping upon what it considers the uncertainty of Gen. Grant's name in this sort of style: "We again implore the Radicals to let us know whom they have nominated for the Presidency, and we respectfully accompany the request with the question whether they don't think their nominec—even if having no policy of his own should at least know enough to know his own name."

To which saith the Rochester (New York) Dem-

And it seems to us especially funny in the World, whose editor we knew not very long ago as Manton Moses Marble, and whose name stands on the books of the Rochester University as Manton M. Marble, but who now signs himself as Manton Marble, with-out any middle name or letter. Hadn't the World better explain what has become of the middle name of its editor, before it asks any more ques-tions about the name of General Grant? Who is the editor of the World?" And it is further announced that Gov. Seymour's name on the college catalogue was Horace instead of "Horatio"

My views on that subject I have already unfolded. I have nothing to say of the candidates. But there is one subject on which my lips are not scaled, or that my lips will not be sealed upon until sealed in death—and that is the noble party which is a part of the Republic to-day. I thank God that there is such a party to-day. Its deeds are written upon the brightest pages of our history. And when we shall pass away, your children and your children's children, shall rise up and call you blessed, because you shall have stood up in the because you shall ha perilous hour of our country. It is among the most precious of our recollections, that when the storms of war burst upon us, that when wespoke with bated breath, only one party said, "Come weal or woe; to the last man, to the last dollar. we will stand by our country to the last drop of our blocd, to the last beat of our hearts. A gen tleman in Hartford, Connecticut, with whom Orville L. Grant has business relations, wrote him in relation to these statements, asking him if they were true. —The Cincinnati Gazette says: "In a recent conversation with an intelligent Western gentleman, the Chief Justice spoke very strongly against the Seymour and Blair ticket. He said that if it should be elected, all the fruits of the four years war against the rebels would be lost. On the other hand he complained with considerable bitterness that the Republican party lines were drawn too closely; that he and many who sympathized with him, would like to souport the Chicago, post him, would like to support the Chicago nominces, but were met only with a coldness and distrust nearly equivalent to repulsion. This, he felt, was uncharitable."

The New York Times' Washington letter says:
"The brief paragraph respecting Secretary Seward in last Thursday's Times created no little commotion here, and the intimation that he again would place himself in accord with the party of his creation is hailed with joyous acclamations by men who, while differing with that distinguished statesman on questions of recon-struction, still hold him in high esteem, no less for his purity of heart than for his unselfish pa

"It is more than hinted that other members of the cabinet consider themselves absolved from fur ther alliance with the Democratic party, and will act with reference to the pending issues in accordance with their earlier political faith and affiliations. Their friends claim for them consistency in this course, for having done all that they were constitutionally empowered to do in furtherance of the policy which to them seemed the only correct one, and after a threeyears adherence to that policy, finding them-selves unsustained by the people and without the hope of present judicial indorsement, and with their plan of reconstruction superseded by another, they can now with propriety accept the situation and decline to longer fight in a hopeless cause, especially when the fight can only be sustained by accepting the men and principles of the late Anti-War party. Even a success could promise nothing better than anarchy."

St. Thomas.

St. Thomas.

St. Thomas, July, 1868.—The good people of St. Thomas have changed their minds to a strip..., extent about the honor and delight of belonging to the United States. When they voted, almost unanimously, for annexation it was under the belief that their port was to remain as free to commerce as it was under Denmark, and that besides being the emporium of a most paying intersisind trade, Uncle Sam was going to rain gold upon them. They fondly believed that he would spend untold millions in dock yards and fortifications, and that nice offices and fat contracts would be as plenty as blackberries about St. would be as, plenty as blackberries about 81,

When the British and French steam lines began to look round for a new station that would not be exactly in the throat of Uncle Sam's one hundred pound mortars, the people of St. Thomas only said, "Let them go; we shan't miss a monthly dozen or so of European mail steamets when our harbor is crowded with scores of United States ships of all classes. We shall have greater things to occupy us when the products of the Union pour into our port, for distribution to all the islands round about in our own tidy little American steamer." first shock came in the semi-official hints the first snock came in the semi-ometa has that St. Thomas would cease to be a free port, and that the high tariff created by the last war would rule here, as it did in all other United States ports. This report was a wet blanket of the analysis of the same of the analysis of the analy the very coldest wetness to the ardor of the annexationists. From that time they began to see that the life of their island was free trade, and that the European mail steamers were very useful things after all. St. Thomas now relaxes, and stolles on them again as graciously as ever, but the steam lines do not smile back again. They have caught the sulks, and continue to look around for other accommodations in some recurry neutral harbor. In all this reaction the Yankees seem to care less about the matter than the other foreign residents. They say, "We are sure to find safe standing ground somewhere, and are quite ready to move off to Samana."—N.

NEW JERSEY MATTERS.

SAD CASUALTY AT ATLANTIC CITY-SEVERAL Persons Drowned,—On Saturday last, Mr. Joseph T. Vankirk, aged 53 years; Mr. G. M. Ballou, son of the Rev. M. Ballou, pas-tor of the Second Universalist Church, in Eighth street, above Noble; Mr. Henry C. in Eighth street, above Noble; Mr. Henry C. Trough, and Louis Morwitz, reporter on the Philadelphia Democrat, were drowned at Atlantic City. Mr. Vankirk and his youngest daughter, and young Mr. Ballon and his mother, went to Atlantic City on Thursday last, intending to remain a week or two, and were stopping at the Mansion House. On Saturday morning the four went in to bathe nearly opposite the Mansion House, and after remaining in the water a short time, Mr. Vankirk requested the ladies to leave him and Mr. Ballou, as they intended to remain in the water a short time longer, for the purpose of having a swim, both being excellent swimmers. The ladies went to their bath-houses, and the two gentlemen commenced to swim, and soon mers. The ladies went to their bath-houses, and the two gentlemen commenced to swim, and soon afterwards disappeared, without causing any plarm among the other bathers. The ladies in the meantime had re-appeared upon the beach, and waited for the appearance of their companions and were becoming anxious at their long stay in the water, when the lifeless body of Mr. Vankirk was washed ashore, and there was no sign of that was washed ashore, and there was no sign of that of Mr. Ballou.

Mr. Vankirk was at the head of the firm of Vankirk & Co., manufacturers of gas fixtures, at No. 912 Arch street, and was also well known as a member of Common Council in 1865, 1866 and 1867. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him. He resided at 4444 Main street, Frankford, where he leaves a wife and six children. The body of Mr. Vankirk was brought to the city on Saturday night, and the funeral will take place from his late residence on Wednes-

G. M. Ballou was in his twenty-second year, and was the only son and living child of the Rev. Mr. Ballou. He studied medicine with Dr. Agnew, and graduated, with great honor, last spilog, at the University of Pennsylvania. He was much beloved, and gave promise of a suc-cessful career as a physician. He was to have been married in a few months to the youngest daughter of Mr. Vankirk, the one that accompanied her father to the sea shore.

The Rev. Mr. Ballou went to Atlantic City on Saturday afternoon, and on his arrival was met Saturday afternoon, and on his arrival was met by the Hon. H. D. Moore, and informed of the sad news of the drowning of his son. Mr. Ballon, his wife, and Mr. Vankirk's daughter returned to this city in the next train, leaving Mr. Moore to take all necessary steps for the recovery of the body of Mr. Ballon.

Mr. Henry R. Trough visited Atlantic City on Saturday morning, in company with the members.

Saturday morning, in company with the members of Merrick's Beneficial Association, and at the usual bathing hour went in to swim near the spot where Vankirk and Ballou were bathing, and must have disappeared about the same time. Mr. Trough intended remaining at Atlantic for some days, and his son was in the act of registering his name at the hotel when news of the drowning of his father reached him. The deceased was of the firm of Trough & Lemmens, dealers in tinware. at No. 521 South Second street, and was a well-known citizen, particularly to the residents in the southern section of the city. He had been been an active fireman, and was President of the southwark Engine Co., and a School Director of he Second Ward. He resided at 230 Washington hidren. He was about 50 years of age.

About the same time that the above parties en-ered the water, Mr. Louis Morwitz, who had arrived at Atlantic City on Friday, went to the beach, and having deposited his clothing and val-uables at one of the bath-houses, strolled along the beach. He has not been seen since, and the circumstances attending his drowning are wrapt a mystery. The keeper of the bath-house was the first to notice his absence, because he did not return to claim his clothing, and an examination of his papers then gave an inti-mation of who he was and his occupation. Dilimation of who he was and his occupation. Dili-gent search was made for the body, but without success up to last accounts. Mr. Morwitz was a German, about 26 years of age, unmarried, and for years has been connected with the Phila. Democrat as greporter. In the profession he was noted for his industry, obliging disposition, and many maily traits of character. Dr. Mor-witz, the propiletor of the journal with which the deceased was connected, visited Atlantic City yesterday morning, and upon his arrival heard sesterday morning, and upon his arrival heard for the first time of the disappearance of his nephew. It is said that when Mr. Morwitz was lest seen in the water, he was endeavoring to save two men, one of whom he rescued, but the se-cold, Mr. Trough, was beyond his reach, and in his efforts to save him, he lost his own life. PREPARING FOR ACTION.—The Republicans of Camden city and vicinity are preparing for active services during the present campaign. Tonight a soldiers' and sailors' campaign club is to be formed, and a large public mass meeting will be held on the occasion. This organization will labor zealously for Grant and Colfax and the Republican cause. From the character of the gen-demen who are engaged in this affair, men who saw hard service in the Union armies while fighting and suffering to put down the rebellion, the club cannot fail to be efficient in the political canvass now at hand. The audience on the occasion will be addressed by able soldier orators, who can use their tongues as well as their swords.

A GOOD MEASURE .- The City Council of Camden have done a good thing, for which they deserve commendation. They have authorized the serve commendation. They have authorized the Committee on Fire Apparatus te supply each company with sufficient hose to meet the demands of any emergency. This measure was suggested by the lack of hose at the recent destructive fire on Second street. The Fire Department is composed of able and efficient companies, but their equipments are not as extensive as many contingencies demand. With the contemplated amount of hose for each company, it is thought that much preperty may be saved, by obtaining water from other sources than the meagre supply through the fire-plugs.

POLICE.—Three additional police officers are soon meagre supply through the hre-plugs.

Police.—Three additional police officers are soon to be appointed for the special duty of patroling along the river front. This is the most exposed and unguarded portion of Camden, where there is much travel, and in times past a number of persons have been assaulted and robbed. The large extent of territory which each officer has been required to watch leaves the river unprotected at many parts of the night, and this measure seems to have been dictated by an absolute necessity. There should have been six additional men instead of three.

A DANGEROUS FALL .-- A man employed on the Third Street M. E. Church, Camden, made a narrow escape from being crushed to death on Friday afternoon. While in the act of carrying a board to the top of the building, he accidentally lost his balance and fell a distance of thirty feet. He was pretty badly bruised, but had no bones broken.

CAMDEN DISPENSARY.—This institution is excepting great good in Camden, and its sphere of unfulness is constantly expanding. Were it, however, possessed of larger and more readily available resources, its benefactions might be more extensively exhibited and applied. Application has been made to the City Council for an appropriation, which in due time will be granted.

Finely.—Two men were before Mayor Cox on Saturday morning on a charge of driving at a furious rate through the streets and over the side walks. They were compelled to pay the usual fine for such misdemeanors.

SANITARY MEASURES.—The authorities of Cam den have been unusually diligent the present summer in keeping the streets thoroughly cleansed, and the consequence is, the city is now in a remarkably healthy condition.

New Odd Fellows' Hall.—The foundation of the new Odd Fellows' Hall, at Fifth and Pine streets, is nearly completed. This is to be a very fine and convenient Hall. The various Lodges of the Order in Camden are in a prosperous con-

PAVING STREETS.—The work of improving the streets of Camden is progressing rapidly. Fifth street, from Plum to Federal: Wood street, from Point to Water, and George street, from Delaware to Front streets, are to be paved.

More Light.—Hereafter, except when the mon gives sufficient light, the public street lamps in Comden are to be burned all night. This, in some portions of the city, will be an actual blessing. tual blessing.

CITY BULLETIN.

DEMOLITION OF AN OLD CHURCH .- The old Baptist Church at Roxborough is about to be demolished, and a larger structure is to demolished, and a larger structure is to take its place. The new edifice is to be substantially built of stone, and is expected to be substantially built of stone, and is expected to be substantially built of stone, and is expected to be finished about Christmas. Last evening the final services were held in the old building. Enoch Levering, the oldest deacon, made the opening prayer, and addresses were made by Rev. David Sponcer, the pastor, and by Messre. Nathan L. Jones, John Riter, George Riter, A. D. Levering and William Henry Lewis.

This was the first place of public worship established in Roxborough. Meetings were held at the house of Nathan Levering, on Ridge Road, and afterwards there was preaching in the School House, but no church or place of worship of any sort existed till August 23, 1789, when thirty persons, all members of the First Baptist Church in Philadelphia, were regularly constituted as "the Church of Jesus Christ on the Ridge Road, Roxborough Township." In March of the next year, a central lot of ground for a meeting house was given by Nathan Levering. A su bscription, amounting to more than enough, was soon obtained, and a stone house promptly erceted, which was dedicated October 24, 1790. In 1825 a comfortable parsonage was crected on the church lands. fronting Ridge avenue. On Jan, 17, 1830, which was dedicated October 24, 1790. In 1825 a comfortable parsonage was erected on the church lands, fronting Ridge avenue. On Jan. 17, 1830, the church house was accidentally burnt to the ground, but the zeal of the people built and furnished, within the same year, a better and larger house, at the cost of $2,015. The number of members at this time was seventy-one.

The meeting-house, as originally built, was 30 by 40 feet, with galleries on three sides. When rebuilt, after the fire of 1830, it was 40 by 50 feet.

by 40 teet, with gameries on three sides. When rebuilt, after the fire of 1830, it was 40 by 50 feet. An end gallery was afterwards put up. The pulpit was between the doors. In 1846 the house was enlarged to its present dimensions, with front and side galleries, 40 by 63 feet, and with front and side galleries, 40 by 63 feet, and the pulpit was restored to the right place. The walls and ceiling were handsomely painted. The cost of the improvements, with furniture, was about $1,300, a sum readily raised from the church and congregation, by the pastor and others. Accommodations being yet needed for evening meetings, and for the Sund ay School, in 1854 a neat chapel. 30 by 40 feet, was erected on the church premises, at a cost of $1,200, and paid for nearly by moneys collected by the pastor. for partly by meneys collected by the pastor and partly from the church fund.

AN UNGRATEFUL FELLOW.—About three weeks ago a German, calling himself Augustus, called at the house of Martin Bowman, baker, at Twenty-second and Manning streets, and asked for assistance. He appeared to be in destitute circumstances, and Mr. Bowman gave him a home and employed him to work about the backers. kery. Early yesterday morning the fellow de-camped, and took with him a lot of clothing, a silver watch and four dollars in old silver and pennies. The money was obtained from a drawer and the empty drawer was left on the sidewalk in front of the house.

THREATENING TO SHOOT .- Thomas McBride residing at Fisher and Emerald streets, abused his wife yesterday and threatened to shoot her with a loaded musket. She sent for Policeman John Thompson, who soon made his appearance. McBride then stuck his musket out of the door and pointed it at the officer. Thompson seized it and arrested McBride. The latter was committed by Alderman Neill.

BAD BOYS .- Ten youths were arrested yesterday for mallciously destroying and injuring pota-toes, tomatoes, &c., growing on the truck farm of John Simous, at Broad and Mifflin streets. They were taken before Alderman Bonsall and were held to ball to keep the peace.

ROBBERY .- The house of Mrs. Bernard Henry, at Wayne street and Walnut lane, in Germantown, was entered on Saturday by a sneak thief, and several articles of silver were stolen.

FOUND.-A bunch of keys, found at the Post Office to-day, can be procured by the owner by applying at the Bulletin office. COLUMBIA HOUSE, CAPE ISLAND.-Those of our readers who have visited this establishment and enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. George J. Bolton do not need to be told of the advantages to be secured there, but for the sake of the world at large we may say that this hotel is one of the largest on the Island, and is kept in a style not surpassed anywhere in the United States. The table is always supplied with the best of the market, the rooms are airy, cool, comfortable, and nicely arranged; the attendance is good, and Mr. Bolton himself is one of the most affable and gentlemanly of landlords. Rooms can be procured by addressing him.

REAL ESTATE.—We call the attention of our readers to the card of Wm. L. Creece, to be found in our Real Estate column. Persons desirous of purchasing or renting cottages at Cape Island would do well to consult him.

THEATRES, Etc.

WALNUT.—Mr. McDonough's spectacle, The Black Crook, will be produced at the Walnut Street Theatre this evening in superb style. It will include a number of features not contained in former representations, with new scenery, costumes, transformations, dances, and several ballet dancers who are strangers in this city. The Walnut inaugurates the season, and success is certain to attend the venture.

We state with pleasure that the orchestra of the Black Crook will be under the direction of Dr. Cunnington, who for twenty-five years was musical director of the Walnut Street Theatre. In assuming his old position the Doctor will be heartly welcomed by those who recognize and appreciate his ability as a musician and a wielder

—A few weeks back, just after the Emperor and Empress had left one of the rooms in the palace of Fontainebleau in which they usually sit, an immense chandeller, suspended from the ceiling, fell with such force as to break in the flooring. If the chandeller had fallen a few minutes earlier, it might have made a change in the map of Europe, and a change in the style of government in France.

CITY NOTICES.

Fine Watches.—We desire to call the attention of watch-buyers to the very fine Watches made by the American Watch Company of Waltham, and known as the X-plate, 16 size.

To the manufacture of these watches the Company have devoted all the science and skill in the art at their command, and confidently claim that for fineness and beanty, not less than for the greater excellencies of mechanical and scientific correctness of design and execution, these Watches will compare favorably with the best made in any country. In this country the manufacture of such Watches is not even attempted except at Waltham.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium, being largely reduced. are made as favorable to the Insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are apt to cause the Policy-Holder. Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the IN-COME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policyholder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Circulars, pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in this city, or to its General Agents.
