LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

Commissioner Rollins at His Post again-He is Determined to "Stick" Appointment of Sapervisiers under the new Tax Law-Collector Cake's case-His Answer presented to Secretary McCulloch-Testimonial from Philadelphia Bankers, Merchants and Business Men-New Schemes to Defraud the Government out of the Whisky Tax-Distillers as Sureties for Gaugers-Reported Pardon of Deputy Collector Brock, &c.

[Correspondence of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.] WASHINGTON, August 17, 1868.—Commissioner Rollins returned yesterday, and was at his post again to-day. He says he is determined to "stick" until Congress re-assembles or the President agrees to appoint some high. toned gentleman like Governor Cox, of Ohio, who would be acceptable to the Senate, in which event Rollins might consent to vacate. He has left his family in New Hampshire for the remainder of the season, so he is unincumbered now, and perfectly willing to retain his office for a few months longer.

A consultation was had to-day between Secretary McCulloch and the Commissioner, in relation to the Supervisors, and it was de-cided that the Secretary would commence tomorrow to consider the claims of the parties nominated by Rollins for these positions.
The Democrats are urging the President to prefer charges against Rollins, and suspend him, in which event they want an active Democrat appointed to succeed him, and they promise, if this is done, that, with the Federal patronage, they can carry Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and perhaps Illinois, for Seymour and Blair. The President listens to these propositions, and looks as wise as an owl, because he is shrewd enough to see that those who are urging him to do this are not the men who will be compelled to stand the responsibility, which all rests upon him, and he knows that if he attempts a coup of this sort Congress will be here again for certain on the 21st of Sept., and a short and swift impeachment would be inevitable. Under these circumstances he wisely considers discretion the better part, of valor, and will abstain from any such rash movement.

THE CASE OF COLLECTOR CAKE.

This matter still remains in obeyance. Collector Cake has submitted his answer, which is quite lengthy, and gives an explanation of the various charges preferred against him. To some he pleads guilty, and argues in his defence that he was actuated by no criminal intention, and that if he occasionally erred, it was an error of judgment. To others he justifies himself on the ground that he was right, and if he had the same duty to go over, he would do precisely as he had done in these cases. In addition to this answer a formidable document was received this morning, signed by Drexel & Co., and a large number of the bankers, merchants and business men of Philadelphia, protesting against Cake's removal, and testifying to the uniform integrity of his administration. This testimonial was received by Secretary McCulloch, and will be duly considered in making his final disposition of the case. The affair has assumed a political aspect, and the chances seem to be that in the struggle Cake will retain his office for some time yet. He is actively supported by both Senators Buckalew and Cattell. The first exerts a strong in-fluence at the White House, and the second is equally powerful at the Senate end of the So between these two adverse influences, it is probable the opponents of Cake will not be able to accomplish much, for if the Secretary should recommend his suspension, the responsibility would rest upon the President, and Buckalew would step in and prevent anything of that kind being done. NEW MODE OF EVADING THE WHISKY TAX.

It has been discovered at the Internal Revenue Bureau that a new and ingenious mode of cheating the government out of the tax on whisky has been devised by some unprincipled distillers. To do this a machine has been invented which will split the oak headings of a whisky barrel into strips as thin as a piece of manogany or rosewood veneering. A sheet of this kind can be put on the barrel head, and filled to the groove inside, so as to form part of the heading outside. Upon this are placed the revenue stamps and the gauger's marks, and when the barrel is emptied, this thin heading can be removed intact, with out defacing the stamps or the gauger's marks, the barrel refilled, and the old heading replaced upon it. In this way a barrel can be refilled ten, twenty or fifty times without duplicating the serial numbers, which was one of the ready means of detecting illicit whisky under the old law. Of course this could not be done without the connivance of the Government officers, especially the gaugers, but as some of these are appointed directly in the interest of the distillers there will not be much trouble in corrupting them. For instance, it has been found that in many cases the gaugers applying for appointments offered as their sureties distillers, or persons engaged in the whisky trade, and if these had been accepted the game would have been perfectly easy between the two parties. But Commissioner Rollins has refused to accept any distiller, or person engaged in the whisky trade, as surety for a gauger, so that arrangement has been interfered with somewhat. Each gauger is required to furnish $10,000 security for the faithful performance of his duties. SOME OF THE SURETIES FOR THE PHILADEL-PHIA GAUGERS. One of the sureties for George F. Gordon, recently appointed a gauger, is John Welsh, of the Fourth Congressional District, who was the Conservative candidate for Congress against Judge Kelley two years ago. Welsh was accepted.

Joseph Money, another gauger recently appointed, offers James H. Campbell as one is sureties, who has been accepted.
One of the sureties for David McClean, recently ppointed gauger in the Fourth District, is George W. Rankin, who was accepted.

Several prominent distillers of your city were offered v other candidates for gaugers, but were refused by the Commissioner. REPORTED PARDON OF DEPUTY COLLECTOR

GROCK. It is reported that the President has pardoned young Brock, Reputy Collector of internal revenue, Third Datrict, Pennsylvania, who was convicted some time since of accepting fraudulent sureties to a transportation bond to remove whisky from a distillery. Some very strong documents in Brock's behalf were sent from Philadelphia, and it is understood his pardon was recommended by District Attorney Gilpin. The President ha within a few days past, given strict order, not to allow any publication to be made of pardons granted, but there is good reason for stating that this pardon was granted several EFFORTS FOR WM. M. COOPERS PARDON. Strong efforts are being made by Democratic politicians to secure the pardon of William M. Cooper and others, convicted before Judge Cadwalader, some time ago, of removing whisky from a distillery contrary to law, and sentenced to a heavy fine and imprison-ment. It is understood District Attorney Gilpin has recommended the pardon of Cooper, and there is little doubt that it will be granted by the President.

The White Fawn at the Chestnut. The season opened auspiciously at the Chestnut Street Theatre, last night. The house was densely crowded long before the time announced for the commencement of the performance, and so it remained until the curtain went down upon the last act. can pay no higher compliment to the piece than this, for the house was very warm, and the four acts, with the prologue, make rather a long play:

The managers are entitled to the credit of having fulfilled their lavish promises gener-ously. The high expectation of the public was entirely realized, and there was absolutely nothing in the construction and management of the drama with which to find fault. The scenery is all very handsome, and in some instances the effects are of the most original and peculiar character. Indeed, the great charm of the whole spectacle exists in constant succession of surprises which are sprung upon the audience in every act. There is not time to tire of any one set of performers, of evolutions, of costumes, or of stage effects. Before the eye fairly comprehends a single scene, another is hurried on, and there is no sense of being bored as there often is in pieces of this discripton. The final transformation scene is entitled to all the praise that has been bestowed upon it. It is brilliant, dazzling and beautiful, and is a fitting conclusion to the play. Of itself alone it is well worth going to The performers are also excellent in their several parts. Miss Orton was beyond question the best dramatic artist in the piece, and her versitility found ample scope in the jolly, rollicking role of "Finetta." Miss Fanny Stockton acted gracefully and sang charm idgly. Mr. Davenport was good, and indeed the members of the dramatic company, with out exception, acquitted themielves admirably. Mr. Jennings particularly made a most amusing character of old "King Ding Dong." The "Stars" among the ballet dancers were Mile, Sohike, Mile. Bonfanti, and a very small juvenile designated in the bills as "La Petit Schlager." Mile. Sohike is, perhaps, the best of them. She is one of the most graceful dancers we have had in this city for a long while. Her figure is lithe and beautiful, and her style is characterized by a certain luxuriousness—an abandon that is charming. She, with her sister danseuses, was supported by an excellent troupe, well trained, and containing fewer hideous and misshapen women than collec-tions of the kind usually do.

The costumes worn are of the most costly and unique description, and the management are justifiable in claiming for them great superiority to those in use at most theatres. We believe the undressed drama has reached a climax in the White Fawn. We sincerely hope so, at any rate. It is nearly time for the credit and good taste of the theatre-going public, that bare legs, and brief dresses had given place to the good, old lashioned drama, in which the histrionic art fulfils its object in portraying human emotion and character, and natural incident. It is to be hoped that a spasm of sense will follow this interval of madness which creates a demand for spectacle. When the White Fawn palls upon the public taste, there must be a return to legitimate representations. No manager can ever afford to expend a larger sum upon any one piece, than that which has been expended upon this. This kind of drama intensifies the appetite which it at-tempts to supply, and if nothing more brilliant can be given, there will be a reaction. We believe the time for this is approaching, and in common with all admirers of decent dramatic art, we shall hall with pleasure the day when the American stage offers inducement to American dramatists to produce plays that will be creditable alike to them and to the intellectual culture of our people

THE INAUGURATION OF THE RED MEN'S HALL. -The ceremonies attending the inauguration of the new hall of the Independent Order of Red Men, at Third and Brown streets, came off this morning at half past eight o'clock. The Hall was well filled with members of the Order, and a number of ladies who had taken a great interest in the erection of the edifice were present. A procession composed of the board of directors of the hall and the members of the Grand Lodge of the U.S. was formed at the Grand Lodge room and marched to the large saloon, where the exercises were held. Are Entirely Secure.

The Union Pacific Bonds run thirty years, are for $1,000 each, and have coopers attached. They bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July at the Company's office in the city of New York, at the rate of six per cent, in gold. The principal is payable in gold at maturity. The price is 102, and at the present rate of gold, they pay a liberal income on their cost.

A very important consideration in determining the value of these bonds is the length of time they have to run. It is well known that a long bond always commands a much higher price than a short one. It is safe to assume that during the next thirty years the rate of interest in the United States will decline as it has done in Europe. The Union Pacific Bonds run thirty years, are for $1,000 that during the next thirty years the rate of interest in the United States will decline as it has done in Europe, and we have a right to expect that such six per cent. securities as there will be held at as high a promium as those of this Government, which, in 1857, were bought in at from 20 to 23 per cent. above par. The export demand alone may produce this result, and as the issue of a private corporation, they are beyond the reach of political action. The Company believe that their Bonds, at the present rate, are the cheapest security in the market, and the right to advance the price at any time is reserved.
