And where she thought to meet her worshipper, See me, sweet water! sitting lost and lonely, Whom thou hast glassed with her. To the deep voice we loved of old, I listen;

Thus thou hast broken on the rock and coared; Thus fied thy spray; but then it fied to glisten On feet that I adored. One eve dost thou recall? in silence floating Beneath the heaven we heard, o'er waters wide, Naught but the oarsmen, with their cadence noting

The rhythm of thy tide. Then broke the Night, its voice divine unprisoning moved; The shore lay echolog, and the wave lay listening:

Motionless, fortunate hours! Leave us the instant, and the blossoming Of youth's swift flower of flowers! Many a soul ill-starred your speed implores; Fly from the sad, fly on, Sweep from their hearts the day and Its remorse, But leave the blest alone.

Vain prayer lethe throbs of this his Isupreme.
Beat from me, one by one.

Rest, perfect night!—and while I speak my dream
Dies to the conquering dawn. Then let us love, ahl let us love, and taste The instant we have won;
For man is homeless, time a drowning waste,
It swells, and we are gone.

Harsh time I and shall these oure entoxications. When love his brimming rapture oversets.

Fly us, O envious I with those blind vibrations
That bring us our regrets? What, has the golden moment lapsed unnoted.

What, has the golden moment tapsed unnoted,
What, is all over, can we fix no track?
And time's brief heaven, that formed and flashed
and floated,
Will he not toss it back? O Lake! O woodland dim 1 O cliffs and grottees Be it in lightning on thy tempest-trouble;

A YER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS, SUCH AS COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOFING COUGH, BRONCHITHS, ASTHMA AND CONSUMPTION.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform, character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of decase and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for, mecipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat, and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Crotyr, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although, settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the diseases seemed settled have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over, the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When, nothing cles could reach them; under the Cherry Pectoral they aduside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protections from it. they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protections from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitts is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.
