Careless vagabond of the sea, Little thou becdest the surf that sings, the bar that thunders, the shale that rings Give me to keep thy company. Little thou hast, old friend, that's new, Storms and wrecks are old things to thee; Sick am I of these changes, too; Little to care for, little to rue—

All of thy wanderings, far and near, Bring thee at last to shore and me All of my journeyings end them here This our tether, must be our cheer— I on the shore, and thou on the sea.

Luzily rocking on ocean's breast, Something in common, old friend, have we; Thou on the shingle seek'st thy nest. to the waters look for rest— I on the shore, and thou on the sea. IN BLOSSOM-TIME.

It's O my heart, my heart! To sing and shout in the fields about, Sing loud, O bird in the tree, O, bird sing loud in the sky,

And honey-bees, blacken the clover-bed There are none of you glad as I. The leaves laugh low in the wind, Laugh low with the wind at play; and the odorous call of the flowers all Entices my soul away.

For O but the world is fair, is fair, I will out in the gold of the blossoming mold And sit at the Master's feet.

And the love my heart would speak That the lips of the blossom, more pu May offer it up to him.

Then sing to the hedgerow green, O Thrush, O Skylark, sing in the blue; Sing loud, sing clear, that the King may hear, ing loud, sing clear, that the King and my soul shall sing with you.

It is estimated that the forthcoming debt statement will show an increase of several millions, probably five or six millions. The disbursements during August on account of War Department expenses have been very heavy, which, taken with the Alaska payment and disbursements on account of the public debt and other accounts, will swell the total to a considerable amount.

The reports of the Pension Office show that the whole number of claims received during the month of August, 1868, original and increase of widows. etc., was 1,164; of invalids, 631—total 1,698. Number of claims are feeded of the properties of the condenses of widows and invalids, 671—total, 2 307. The South American War.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The following particulars of the events preceding the evacuation of the forters of Humaita by the Paraguayans are believed to be authentic:

On July 16th the Marquis de Caxias received

The fourth vessel offered was the fron side-wheal attachment and the would, therefore, withdraw the vessel offered was the fron side-wheal attachment. Length, 240 feet 9 Information that the Paraguayans were leaving the fortrees. He immediately ordered an advance, and a column of 1,600 men crossed the ditches, entered the enemy's lines, and took possession of a redoubt. They were there making preparations to occupy the rest of the works when the Paraguayan troops opened a fire of musketry and artillery, which had a periode effect upon the allied column in its provided and rather disordered condition. The Paraguayan troops then advanced on the Brazillians, jumpting into the redoubt and attacking them Information that the Paragnayans were leaving the fortress. He immediately ordered an advance, and a column of 1,600 men crossed the ditches, had commonced to fall back. The attacking party of the allies was driven from the redoubt.

double acting piston pump, and small pump for feeding donkey boiler. The bidding started at $14,000, and when it eached $22,000 no bids were made. The aucand the whole column retired to its camp, having suffered severely in killed, wounded, and prisoners. The lowest estimate of their loss in this attack places it at 600 killed and wounded. Some tioneer announced that he would withdraw the vessel, as the amount bid was not half the aptack places it at 600 killed and wounded. Some divisions were almost cut to pieces, and large numbers were missing. A few days later the allies assaulted a Paraguayan fort on the Gran Chaco. The attacking party was received with a heavy fire of artillery, which created a panic praised value.

The fifth vessel was the wooden side-wheel steamer Sassacus. Length, 233 feet 9 inches; breadth, 34 feet 9 inches; depth of hold, 11 feet 11 inches; has one inclined direct-acting condensing engine; diameter of cylinder, 58 inches; length of stroke, 8 feet 9 inches; surface condenser (Sewell's patent); two water tubular boilers, iron tubes; five furnaces in each, 6 feet 9 inches long and 3 feet wide. and, pursued the retreating troops with great visor, and the latter again suffered a heavy loss, especially in their retreat, their killed and wounded amounting to 550.

On July 25 it was discovered that Humaita had on July 25 it was discovered that Humaita had at last been actually evacuated. All the heavy guns left in the place were dismounted and spiked, and some munitions of war, which could not easily be moved through the forest, were left behind. The garrison retired in good order and without interruption to a new position on the Tebiguary. The fortifications there, which Lopez has been building nearly a year, are believed to be impregnable, and the communications with the interior are secure. The Paraguay river has been so obstructed as to be inaccessible to the ironclads of the allies.

The sixth vessel was the wooden side wheel steamer Chenango. Length, 233 feet wheel steamer Chenango. Length, 236 feet 9 inches; breadth, 34 feet 9 inches; depth of hold, 11 feet 11 inches; has one inclined direct-acting condensing engine; diameter of cylinder, 58 inches; length of stroke, 8 feet 8 inches; surface condenser (Sewell's patent), 14 wo water tubular boilers, iron tubes, five furnaces in each, 6 feet 10 inches long and 3 feet wide.

The only bid made was $16,000, and the steamer was withdrawn

*Europeaus Among Chinese Pirates.

The Navy Department has despatches from Lieutenant Commander Cushing, commanding the United States steamer Manmee, dated Yoko huma, Japan, July 12, announcing that he had recent to that date, found at Hol Horr ten Europeans, comprising the crew of the Bremen bark Leemona, which had been captured by pirates two weeks before, within sight of the cast const of Hainan. The Leemona had ten able-bodied white men and numbers of Chinese passengers, was armed with two cannon and numbers of breech-loading rifles, revolvers, etc., and yet was captured after a small chase, by a junk carrying but two guns and a crew of twenty Chinamen, and the Europeans did not defend themselves by a single shot, but surrendered in the most cowardly manner, and were actually set to work by their foes in breaking out the cargo for transfer to the junk.

Lieutenant Commander Cushing thinks such a case an encouragement to piracy, and does not to the junk.

Lieutenant Commander Cushing thinks such a case an encouragement to piracy, and does not sold, but after the two first were purchased sold. case an encouragement to piracy, and does not doubt will lead to its increase. After taking all they desired, the pirates sent the captain of the bark and his men into the coal locker, forward, sold, but after the two first were purchased but little interest was manifested in the sale of the others. and closing the hatch, put on it the sheet anchor and chains, after which they scuttled the ship, stove the boats, and salled away, intending that all hands should go down with the sinking ship. The captain and his crew managed to break out and get ashore, and left the Chinese passengers to their fate. Statement of the Assistant Treasure of United States, at Pailadelphia. The following is the statement of the business at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of the United State at Philadelphia, for the month of August, 1868: and get sellore, and left the Uninese passengers to their fate.

The whole history of this case, Commander Cushing states, is one of disgraceful cowardice, and he was glad to find that there were no Americans in the crew. Commander Cushing, after a long cruise, falled to find any of the pirates, and in obcdience to orders, salled for Yokohama.
